RED RUSSIA'S FORCES IN RUMANIA; WAR CRISIS DEPENDS ON PARLEY

Richardson Wins in Skirmish With State "Machine"

BY KYLE D. PALMER,
"Times" Staff Representative
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—In its first skirmish with ... W. Richardson for control of the Republican State ... Committee, the State machine piloted by Alexander ... went down to defeat in the Republican State Convention today.

First victory for Richardson came with the unanimous election of State Senator Arthur Breed, of Berkeley as chairman of the convention. Leo Youngworth of Los Angeles, McCabe and others of the machine forces then started a fight to name a machine candidate for convention secretary, and again were overridden when the convention, without a dissenting vote, named Assemblyman Elmer P. Bromley, Richardson's choice to the secretaryship.

RIGHT OF VETO

Richardson demanded and obtained the right of veto for any member or officer named for the State committee not acceptable to him. A State chairman and vice-chairman will be named next week and it is believed that George Radcliffe, Watsonville editor, will be made chairman and Assemblyman Frank F. Merriam, or some other Richardson man, vice-chairman.

While the Democrats in convention were engaging in a dramatic and bitter parliamentary battle over the admission of F. Ray Groves of Los Angeles as a delegate to their conference and while Democratic women delegates were announcing their decision to support Richardson for Governor because of Woolwine's declaration for wine and beer, the Republican machine silently pulled its wires, issued its orders and brought every ounce of its strength into a silent battle for supremacy.

BATTLE NOT FINISHED

The battle has not been finished, but the early stages indicate a rising star and a faling star, the first, that of Richardson, the sec-

"LOVE NEST" UNEARTHED

Near Spot Where New Jersey Pastor and Choir Singer Found Scene of Trysts

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW BRUNSWICK (N. J.) Sept. 19.—Supposed spirit messages ... mysterious furnished house in which no ... believed to be living might have been the "love nest" of the ... Hall and Mrs. Eleanor Reinhardt Mills, the choir singer, ... murdered, were the sensations today.

The house, where for a time it was supposed the killing might have been done, was discovered today to have been bought recently by a man named Porter, the actual trustee for "Willie" Stevens, 44, the fire fan brother of Mrs. Edward Hall, while "Willie" always talked to his friends in such a way that they believed the Rev. Mr. Hall handled all his money, a trust fund amounting to about $150,000.

The house is fully furnished, no one was known to live there, but the place does not seem dusty. This discovery and the letter in which the preacher was described by Mrs. Mills as regarding her as "his physical inspiration" have been taken as possible hints that the house was the scene of some of their trysts.

Mills was given a long questioning today. The widow of the slain man also was questioned, but it was said that the authorities learned nothing new. A detective working on the case was said to have found a pistol. Officials did not say what caliber it is. Stevens is declared to have a .38, but the authorities say that the double killing was done with .32 caliber bullets.

The mysterious house is on the same farm where the bodies of the preacher and singer were found under a tree. There also is said to have been found a blood-stained handkerchief. Mills confirmed today the story that there were scratches on his wife's face. That is the clew that leads to the belief that a woman had something to do, at least, with an attack that preceded the killing.

Mrs. Tiernan in Lurid Role

Avers Husband Collapsed When Told Her Child Was Not His

Women Throng Court When "Confession" Scene is Vividly Retold

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SOUTH BEND (Ind.) Sept. 19. While a throng of women and men leaned forward to catch every murmured confidence, Mrs. John P. Tiernan, in the now famous Tiernan-Poulin paternity case, in court here today verbally reenacted that noon hour of January 8, last, when, she declares, she confessed to Prof. Tiernan, her husband, that he was not the father of her child.

"I went to church that morning, about 9 o'clock," she recollected. "I saw Harry Poulin and he snubbed me. He wouldn't even look at me."

"You didn't like that, did you?" suggested the cross-examiner.

"No sir," sobbed the witness, and tears of humiliation, just as hot as those of hate, coursed down her cheeks and onto her fur.

Slowly Mrs. Tiernan traced the events from the time she left the church stunned by her asserted proof that her lover would not "stick to her." Home by 10:30, she fulfilled a few duties about the house, then prepared the midday meal. At exactly noon, the wife and mother called her husband away from his books, his legal problems and generic theories, to a family reunion about the dinner table.

"We had just sat down to dinner," Mrs. Tiernan testified. "I was crying a lot."

"What did you tell him?" the questioner probed.

"I said 'that baby is not yours.'"

"What did your husband do?" came the question.

"He screamed 'Oh, my God,' and fell on the floor. Then he telephoned Father Burke and asked him to get hold of Harry Poulin. He put on his hat and coat and walked out of the house."

As Mrs. Tiernan told, with burning lips, of her husband's anguished surprise that day, Prof. Tiernan reinforced the story with helpless eyes, quivering mouth, futile gestures and spasmodic inhalations. He, too, was living over again that tragic scene, when he was told of the paternity of "William John," whom he named after himself and his favorite brother.

BONUS BILL IS VETOED

Harding Returns It to House

Call of Roll in Attempt to Pass Measure Over Veto Will Come Today

"In Accord With Views, but Not Provisions," Stand Taken in Message

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON Sept. 19.—President Harding vetoed the soldiers' bonus bill today, informing Congress in a written message that while he was in accord with the avowed purpose of the measure, he did not subscribe to its provisions.

The executive's action was regarded generally in Washington as making impossible a bonus for the World War veterans, at least for some time to come, as it appeared to be almost certain that the veto would be sustained by the Senate. A vote in the House was planned for tomorrow with Senate action to follow later in the day or on Thursday.

Mr. Harding set forth a number of reasons for returning the bill to the House without his approval. These included:

CONGRESS FAILED

Failure of Congress to provide a means of financing.

That inevitably the bonus would mean increased taxation.

That the legislation would wipe out everything thus far accomplished to reduce government expenditures wherever possible.

That a peace bestowal on the ex-service men was "a perversion of public funds," and suggested "that future defense is to be inspired by compensation rather than consciousness of duty to flag and country.

"That to add one-sixth of the total sum of the public debt for distribution among less than 5,000,000 of 110,000,000 people would undermine confidence on which the nation's credit was builded, and "establish the precedent of distributing public funds whenever the proposal and the numbers affected make it seem politically appealing to do so.

ADDED BORROWINGS

"That the $10,000,000,000 of maturing public debt in the next six years would be difficult to meet without adding the complication of added borrowings on account of a bonus.

"That the adjusted service certificate plan of payment, with its bank

Republicans of California Adopt Platform Containing Ringing Indorsement of President

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—The first plank in the Republican platform adopted here today was a ringing indorsement of President Harding and the national Republican administration. The platform pledged the party to strict economy in government and touched upon the tariff, and contained an indorsement of the Boulder Canyon dam project.

It placed the party on record as favoring stricter oriental immigration laws; praised the progressive legislation of California; indorsed the Dyer antilynching law; indorsed the proposed bond issue for soldier aid; contained a strong plank on law enforcement; indorsed the principle of collective bargaining; expressed "warm consideration" for Gov. Stephens and set forth the party's estimates of its gubernatorial and Senatorial nominees.

Concerning the administration of President Harding, the platform states:

"The Republicans of the State of California, in convention assembled, reaffirm their allegiance to the principles of the Republican party of the nation, and to the President, Warren G. Harding. We indorse the administration of President Harding as a prudent, enlightened and efficient administration that has justified the expectations of the nation and made the government of the United States respected at home and abroad.

"By his lofty patriotism, his clear vision, his strong common sense, his devotion to the best interests of all the people, regardless of station or degree, President Harding has attained a high place in American Statecraft and the Republican party of California expresses without stint or reservation its loyalty to the nation's chief executive and the leader of the Republican party in the nation.

"The Republican party, by its wise policy has kept the United States out of the involvements and entanglements of European and Asiatic controversies, politics and

Forces at Dardanelles Will Protect Citizens and Property, But Stay Out of Scrap

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The United States government does not expect to participate actively in any settlement of the political and military difficulties of the Near East. Under no circumstances will American military or naval forces be used for the defense of the Dardanelles, it was announced at the White House today.

Such American warships as are in the waters adjacent to Smyrna and Constantinople are there solely for the purpose of protecting American lives and property, it was stated, and no battleships will be sent to co-operate with the Allied fleets.

The Near East problem was not even mentioned at today's Cabinet meeting, it was said.

Capt. Hepburn, chief of staff of Admiral Mark L. Bristol, and in charge of American naval forces at Smyrna, has been in consultation with British, French and Italian naval officers at Smyrna in regard to the evacuation of refugees, a cablegram to the State Department from Admiral Bristol, the American high commissioner, stated. Efforts are being made, Bristol said, to procure from Mustapha Kemal Pasha, chief of the Turkish Nationalists, permission for Greek ships to enter Smyrna to evacuate refugees there. These refugees number approximately 150,000, the admiral stated.

Admiral Bristol is awaiting the result of negotiations with Kemal regarding the evacuation at Smyrna before he will be in a po-

Betrothal Announced at Doorn Castle

Princess Hermine of Reuss and Two of Her Children

CHILDREN OF FALLEN RULER CONSENT TO HIS MARRIAGE; BUT STORMS SWEEP FAMILY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The betrothal of former Emperor William to Princess Hermine von Schoenaich-Carolath was officially announced today at his castle in Doorn, in the presence of former Crown Prince Frederick William and Prince August William, the fourth son, according to the Exchange Telegraph's Amsterdam correspondent.

All the sons, and the ex-Crown Princess have consented to the marriage, it is stated.

The announcement was made by Frederich von Berg, chief of the civil cabinet of the House of Hohenzollern.

Princess Hermine was born Princess Reuss of Elderline. She is 35 years old, and is the mother of five children, the eldest of whom is 14. She owns a large estate at Saarbor, Silesia.

Ever since the reports of the former Kaiser's engagement to her have been circulated, monarchists have taken a contrary attitude to the match. They have opposed it principally because the Princess is not of royal birth.

"SERENE HIGHNESS"

Her rank is what is described as "durchlaut," which is just below that of royal grade, but still above that of a noble lady. Before her marriage to Prince Jean of Schoenaich-Carolath, who died in April, 1920, she carried the title of Serene Highness as Princess Hermine of Reuss.

Princess Hermine is tall and

PASSENGERS JARRED BY CAR WRECK

A two-car Pacific Electric train crashed into a double-coach Grand avenue yellow street car at Sixth street and Broadway shortly before 1 a.m. this morning. The heavy Pacific Electric train was knocked from the tracks.

Although some of the passengers on the street car were reported to have been shaken up, no one was injured seriously enough to be taken to a hospital. The Pacific Electric train was in-bound from Hollywood and was scheduled to go on the San Pedro run. Except for the train crew, Motorman F. D. Knox and Motorman F. D. Wilson, it was empty. The yellow cars were in charge of Motorman Haynes and Conductors Palmer and Goeckler.

KAISER WOULD RULE RABBLE

New Light in Memoirs of Wilhelm on Fall of Bismarck

"I wish to be king of the rabble."

The Kaiser says this declaration on his part precipitated the crisis in the second year of his reign that resulted in Bismarck's overthrow.

Is the Kaiser sincere in his assertion that in his youth his life in the barracks inclined him to Socialism; that he championed human rights against the alleged rights of the capitalists and the aristocracy?

What was the iron Chancellor's answer to the proposal of the young Kaiser to convert the empire into a "Social Democracy?"

This part of the secret history of the rise of the German Empire has never before been written. It is set forth in detail in the Kaiser's memoirs, publication of which will begin in The Times next Sunday.

England Seeking France's Support in Dardanelles

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—For the time being the scene shifts to Paris, where Lord Curzon, the British Secretary for Foreign Affairs, will seek to attain harmony of views between his own and the French government on the Near East situation. The ministerial conferences in London have ended for the moment and Premier Lloyd George has gone to the country for a few days' rest.

That the general situation is regarded as easier is shown by the fact that Mustapha Kemal Pasha, leader of the Turkish Nationalists, is apparently making no new move, although according to an Athens report which has reached London he left Smyrna for Nicomedia, adjoining Ismid, south of Constantinople, while it is said tonight that Admiral Earl Beatty may find it unnecesary to proceed to Paris.

THRACE CRUX OF WAR

On the other hand perhaps the most important news of the day comes in the Associated Press dispatches from Constantinople, stating that Kemal Pasha has sought permission of the Allies to occupy part of Thrace immediately and discuss the question of the status of the Dardanelles later in connection with the general peace problem and with the participation of all the Black Sea countries.

This touches the crux of the whole question. There may possibly be an agreement between Great Britain, France and Italy on the question of the neutrality of the straits and a further agreement that Constantinople shall eventually be returned to the Turks under certain conditions. But on the question of the future of Thrace, outside the neutral zone, such an agreement is lacking.

Kemal Pasha seemingly takes the view that there is nothing in the maintenance of the neutrality of the straits and the neutral zone to prevent his forces from pursuing the defeated Greeks into those portions of Thrace outside of the neutral zone.

BRITISH STAND FIRM

The British contention is that under no circumstances will the Turks be allowed to cross into Europe until peace has been settled. But it is not certain that France sees eye to eye with Great Britain in this matter.

The fact that France and Italy are withdrawing their detachments from this region would indicate that there is a lack of agreement and that Great Britain may be called upon to act alone. In that case it is understood Parliament will forthwith be summoned, so that the nation may have a voice in the important question of peace or war.

In official circles in London it is not anticipated that there will be any early peace conference. It is understood that the instructions given to Lord Curzon by the Cabinet on the general line of policy are to intimate very frankly to M. Poincare that if France refuse to participate in necessary action in the Near East, she may stand to lose, as she did many years ago when she refused to join England in the bombardment of Alexandria and so started a train of events which brought Egypt under British influence.

PREPARED TO ACT

M. Poincare will be told that England is absolutely set in her view that the Turks shall not be permitted to enter Europe and that Great Britain is prepared to employ her own forces in sufficient numbers and, over any length of time to bring the Turks to reason.

It is reported that Premier Lloyd George is prepared to make a general appeal to the civilized world to support the British policy. He has been in consultation with a number of experts on Near Eastern affairs. Among others, Henry Morgenthau, the former American Ambassador to Turkey, had breakfast with him today.

The British government is still without a formal reply from the Angora government to the Allied warnings concerning the neutral zone. In its strong adherence to the semiofficial statement, an announcement issued Saturday said the government is imbued with the belief that exhibition of firmness and solidarity of the whole empire in maintaining the British stand concerning the straits and the neutral zone is the best method of bringing to the realization of the Angora government that nothing can be gained by forcing the situation. Unless Kemal Pasha should make a further new move no further developments are expected until the end of the week.

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MOSCOW, Sept. 19.—Russia will not recognize any disposition of the Dardanelles nor any arrangements to partition lands bordering the Black Sea by the Allies in the present or future Turko-Greek conferences.

This statement of the Russian Foreign Office to the Tribune was included in M. Tchitcherin's statement during the San Remo conference and it is repeated and emphasized.

BACK TURKS' CLAIMS

According to the Foreign Office Russia desires representatives of Angora, Georgia and other nations whose territory is affected in the conference. Moreover, according to the Foreign Office, the new conference must be held with the Black Sea nations' participation before peace in the Near East is established.

Today the Russian policy backs up every Turkish claim against Greece and the Allies in so far as they concern the Turkish Nationalistic boundaries. This policy is based upon the Russo-Turkish treaty and the treaty Russia for-

AUSTRALIA WAITS LEAD OF ENGLAND

Enlistments for War Held Up Pending Further Word from London

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

MELBOURNE, Sept. 19.—Prime Minister Hughes and the House of Representatives today indicated that immediate enlistment in response to England's call for military support in the Near East crisis is unnecessary and the government is awaiting further information.

"In this and other matters of importance," Mr. Hughes said, "the government would act with Great Britain and the other parts of the empire, but it would be a calamity if the world were plunged into another war."

He stressed the vital importance to the Allies of the Dardanelles being in control of the empire.

"Australia would support the Greeks' ambitions with utmost reluctance, though it would support their rights where it is compatible to the welfare of the world," he said. "While Australia is willing to stand side by side with Great Britain, it views with despair the possibility of another great conflict. The fullest information should be supplied by the British government as to the precise position and the objective.

"The Australian objective is limited to the preservation of the freedom of the Dardanelles and maintenance of the peninsula. Australia in 100 ways has shown loyalty and is ready to do so again in defense of the empire. Every effort should be made to preserve peace. If the Kemalists invade the neutral zone Australia is compelled to place forces at the disposal of Great Britain to resis... attack."

Thirteen checks, each covering four weeks compensation, are to be mailed today to as many widows of miners who perished in the Argonaut mine disaster, it was announced by Claude W. Fellows, manager of the State Industrial Compensation fund. Checks will be mailed to the dependents of the remaining mine victims as soon as the extent of their dependency has been established.

The total compensation will exceed $100,000, the weekly checks ranging from $17.50 to $21.50 each, and the individual compensation ranging from $4000 to $500.

The Argonaut mine officials paid the victims' dependents on a "three shift" or twenty-four hour basis for the whole time that the men were entombed, Fellows was informed. As a result, the dependents of each man drew three times his usual daily pay. In addition the company gave $10,000 to the Amador county Red Cross for relief purposes.

"The Argonaut disaster represents the biggest single claim on the State compensation fund in the history of the fund," Fellows said. "It leaves the fund virtually unimpaired, however, and as well protected as ever."

JACKSON'S LATEST TRAGE...

Common Law Wife of Victim, Spurned When ... Wife Returns, Drinks Poison

BY EDWARD DOHERTY
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

JACKSON, Sept. 19.—The bodies of the forty-seven ... miners are coming out of the ground. Arrangements are ... for inquest and for funerals. The story has been told.

There is but one thing left to tell, the love story of Charley Fitzgerald, one of the forty-seven, and Emily Brown. A story so much a part of the tragedy that it always will be remembered with the Argonaut disaster.

Fitzgerald lived for many years in Jackson with his wife. They had two children, Donald and Janet. Donald is 9 years old and Janet is 7. One day Mrs. Fitzgerald left her husband and her children—and it was a long time that the boy and girl waited until Emily came to mother them.

Emily fell in love with Charley. She went to live with him. She braved everything, that she might care for him and his children—and there was nothing too brave. The neighbors treated her kindly and called her Mrs. Fitzgerald.

Six months they lived thus. Then the fire broke out in the Argonaut mine and trapped Fitzgerald and his forty-six comrades. The charity workers came to Jackson to comfort the relatives of the forty-seven and gave them such aid as they needed. They, too, treated Emily as though she were Mrs. Fitzgerald—until the real Mrs. Fitzgerald came back to Jackson.

Her coming made a difference in Emily's position. The pay check that was to have gone to Emily did not go to her. It was held up. If there is no litigation, it will go to the widow. The money to be awarded by the State Industrial Accident Commission will not go to Emily. Mrs. Fitzgerald made it clear that she wanted the money, not for herself, but for her children. Incidentally, she took the children away from Emily. Now, in some vague manner, Emily began to be treated as an outcast and she shut herself up. Only Mrs. Murphy—next door—saw anything of her during the last few weeks of the search for the bodies.

Mrs. Murphy and Emily were out at the mine last night when the news came in. Mrs. Murphy's husband, coming up ... sepulcher, broke it gently. ... went home without a word ... out a tear. BONUS VETOED BY PRESIDENT and government loan provisions, was little less than certified inability of the government to pay, and invited a 'practice of sacrificial barter' by the veterans.

"That the bonus would not diminish the later obligation in the way of pensions to the World War veterans."

Asserting that this obligation would "cost more billions than I venture to suggest," the President declared that a rational financial policy today is necessary to make the nation ready for the expenditure which is certain to be required in the coming years.

COMPLETE MESSAGE

The President's complete message follows:

"To the House of Representatives:

"Herewith is returned without approval H. R. 10874, a bill 'to provide adjusted compensation for the veterans of the World War and for other purposes.'

"With the avowed purpose of the bill to give expression of a nation's gratitude to those who served in its defense in the World War, I am in accord, but to its provisions I do not subscribe. The United States never will cease to be grateful; it cannot and will never cease giving expression to that gratitude.

"In legislation for what is called adjusted compensation Congress failed, first of all, to provide the revenue from which the bestowal is to be paid. Moreover it established the very dangerous precedent of creating a treasury covenant to pay which puts a burden variously estimated between four and five billions upon the American people not to discharge an obligation which the government must always pay, but to bestow a bonus which the soldiers themselves while serving in the World War, did not expect.

"It is not to be denied that the nation has certain very binding obligations to those of its defenders who made real sacrifices in the World War and who left the armies injured, disabled or diseased so that they could not resume their places in the normal activities of life. These obligations are being gladly and generously met. Perhaps there are here and there inefficiencies and injustices and some distressing instances of neglect, but they are all unintentional and every energy is being directed to their earliest possible correction.

"In meeting this obligation there is no complaint about the heavy cost. In the current fiscal year we are expending $510,000,000 on hospitalization and care of the sick and wounded, on compensation, and vocational training for the disabled, and for insurance. The figures do not include the more than $35,000,000 in process of expenditure on hospital construction.

"The estimates for the year to follow are approximately $470,000,000, and the figures may need to be made larger. Though the peak in hospitalization may have passed, there is a growth in domiciliation and the discharge in full of our obligations to the diseased, disabled or dependent who have a right to the government's care, with insurance liability added, will probably reach a total sum in excess of $35,000,000,000.

THOUSANDS TRAINING

"More than 99,000 veterans are now enrolled in some of the 445 different courses in vocational training. Fifty-four thousand of them are in schools or colleges, more than 38,000 are in industrial than 6000 are being trained in establishments and a few more schools operated by the Veterans' Bureau.

"Approximately 19,000 have completed their courses and have employment in all cases where they desire it, and 83,000 have deferred for the present time their acceptance of training. The number eligible under the law may reach close to 400,000 and facilities will continue to be afforded, unmindful of the necessary cost, until every obligation is fulfilled."

"The hundred and seventy-six thousand patients have been hospitalized, more than 250,000 discharged, and 25,678 patients are in our hospitals today.

"Four hundred and sixteen thousand awards of compensation have been made on account of death or disability, and $450,000,000 has been paid to disabled men or their dependent relatives. One hundred and seventy-five thousand disabled ex-service men are now receiving compensation along with medical or hospital care where needed, and a quarter of a million checks go out monthly in distributing the $8,000,000 payment on indisputable obligations.

"I recite the figures to remind the Congress how generously and how properly it has opened the treasury doors to discharge the obligations of the nation to those to whom it indisputably owes compensation and care. Though undying gratitude is the meed to everyone who served, it is not to be said that a material bestowal is an obligation to those who emerged from the great conflict not only unharmed, but physically, mentally and spiritually richer for the great experience.

"If an obligation were to be admitted it would be to charge the adjusted compensation bill with inadequacy and stinginess wholly unbecoming our republic. Such a bestowal, to be worth while, must be generous and without apology. Clearly the bill returned herewith takes cognizance of the in ability of the government wisely to bestow, and says, in substance: 'We do not have the cash, we do not believe in a tax levy to meet the situation, but here is our note, you may have our credit for half its worth.'

"This is not compensation, but rather a pledge by the Congress while the executive branch of the government is left to provide for payments falling due in ever increasing amounts.

"When the bill was under consideration in the House, I expressed the conviction that any grant of bonus ought to provide the means of paying it, and I was unable to suggest any plan other than that of a general sales tax. Such a plan was unacceptable to the Congress, and the bill has been enacted without even a suggested means of meeting the cost. Indeed, the cost is not definitely known, either for the immediate future or in the ultimate settlement.

"The treasury estimates, based on what seems the most likely exercise the options figures the direct cost at approximately $148,000,000 for 1923, $225,000,000 for 1924, $114,000,000 for 1925, $312,000,000 for 1926, making a total of $795,000,000 for the first four years of its operation, and a total cost in excess of $4,000,000,000. No estimate of the large indirect cost ever had been made.

NATION'S CREDIT

"The certificate plan sets up no reserve against the ultimate liability. The plan avoids any considerable direct outlay by the government during the earlier years of the bill's proposed operations, but the loans on the certificates would be floated on the credit of the nation. This is borrowing on the nation's credit just as truly as though the loans were made by direct government borrowing, and invokes a dangerous abuse of public credit.

"Moreover, the certificate plan of payment is little less than certified inability of the government to pay, and invites a practice on sacrificial barter which I cannot sanction.

"It is worth remembering that the public credit is founded on the popular belief in the defensibility of public expenditure, as well as the government's ability to pay. Loans come from every rank in life, and our heavy tax burdens reach, directly or indirectly, every element in our citizenship.

"To add one sixth of the total sum of our public debt for a distribution among less than 5,000,000 out of 110,000,000, whether inspired by grateful sentiment or political expediency, would undermine the confidence on which our credit is builded and establish the precedent of distributing public funds whenever the proposal and the members affected make it seem politically appealing to do so.

"Citizens of every degree of competence loaned and sacrificed, precisely in the same spirit that our armed forces went out for service. The war spirit impelled. To a war necessity there was but one answer, but a peace bestowal on the ex-service men, as though that supreme offering could be paid for with cash, is a perversion of public funds, a reversal of the policy which exalted public service in the past, and suggests that future defense is to be inspired by compensation rather than conscientiousness of duty to flag and country.

"The pressing problem of the government is that of diminishing our burdens, rather than adding thereto. It is the problem of the world. War inflations and war expenditures have unbalanced budgets and added to indebtedness until the whole world is staggering under the load. We have been driving in every direction to curtail our expenditures and establish economies without impairing the essentials of government activities. It has been a difficult and unpopular task.

"It is vastly more applauded to expend than to deny. After nearly a year and a quarter of insistence and persuasion, with a concerted drive to reduce government expenditure in every quarter possible, it would wipe out everything thus far accomplished to add now this proposed burden, and it would rend the commitment of economy and saving so essential to our future welfare.

"The financial problems of the government are too little heeded until we are face to face with a great emergency. The diminishing income of the government, due to receding tides of business and attending incomes, has been overlooked momentarily, but cannot be long ignored. The latest budget figures for the current fiscal year show an estimated deficit of more than $650,000,000, and a further deficit for the year succeeding, even after counting upon all interest collections on foreign indebtedness which the government is likely to receive.

"To add to our pledges to pay, except as necessity compels, must seem no less than governmental folly. Inevitably it means increased taxation, which Congress was unwilling to levy for the purpose of this bill, and will turn us from the course toward economy so essential to promote the activities which contribute to common welfare.

"It is to be remembered that the United States played no self-seeking part in the World War and pursued an unselfish policy after the cause was won. We demanded no reparation for the cost involved, no payments out of which obligations to our soldiers could be met. I have not magnified the willing outlay in behalf of those to whom we have a sacred obligation.

"It is essential to remember that a more than $4,000,000,000 pledge to the able-bodied ex-service men now will not diminish the later obligations which will have to be met when the younger veterans of today shall contribute to the rolls of the aged, indigent and dependent. It is inevitable as the years pass that pension provision for World War veterans will be made, as it has been for those who served in previous wars. It will cost more billions than I venture to suggest.

"There will be justification when the need is apparent and a rational financial policy today is necessary to make the nation ready for the expenditure which is certain to be required in the coming years. The contemplation of such a policy is in accord with the established practice of the nation, and puts the service men of the World War on the same plane as the millions of men who fought the previous battles of the republic.

"I confess a regret that I must sound a note of disappointment to the many ex-service men who have the impression that it is as simple a matter for the government to bestow billions in peace as it was to expend billions in war. I regret to stand between them and the pitiably small compensation proposed. I dislike to be out of accord with the majority of Congress, which has voted the bestowal.

"The simple truth is that this bill proposes a government obligation of more than $4,000,000,000 without a provision of funds for the extraordinary expenditure, which the executive branch of the government must finance in the face of difficult financial problems, and the complete defeat of our commitment to effect economies. I would rather appeal, therefore, to the candid reflections of Congress and the country, and to the ex-service men in particular, as to the course better suited to further the welfare of our country.

"These ex-soldiers who served so gallantly in war, and who are to be so conspicuous in the progress of the republic in the half-century before us, must know that nations can only survive where taxation is restrained from the limits of oppression, where the public treasury is locked against class legislation, but ever open to public necessity and prepared to meet all essential obligations. Such a policy makes a better country for which to fight, or to have fought, and affords a surer abiding place in which to live and attain.

IDENTIFY SEVEN BODIES OF ARGONAUT VICTIMS

Canvas-Covered Remains Taken to Mill Morgue; Funerals Probably Will be Held on Thursday

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

JACKSON, Sept. 19.—The bodies of nine Argonaut mine victims were brought to the surface today. Officials announced that no others would be brought up until tomorrow morning. Two of the bodies were unidentified, while identification of the others was made with difficulty.

Blackened, pitiable husks of what had been splendid, vigorous manhood, made personal blemishes, scars, teeth and other physical characteristics the only possible means of identification.

SEVEN IDENTIFIED

The seven canvas-covered bodies brought up were said to be those of Elmer Bachelier, married; Eugene Buscaglia, married; Timothy E. Garcia, Maurice Gianetti, Cesare Lanardi, G. Ruzzi, George Steinman, married, and father of four children, and two others whose identity still remains a mystery.

All the bodies were taken to the Argonaut corrugated iron mill where they were prepared for the greatest ordeal of relatives—viewing the bodies changed by the terrific heat at the Argonaut 4350-foot level.

Where the victims will be buried has not been decided, although it is thought the funerals will be held Thursday if all bodies have been recovered.

Gov. Stephens today wired Clarence E. Jarvis, his personal representative, approchation of the efforts of all who joined in the rescue work.

Twelve men will be sworn in tomorrow to investigate the death of the miners. They will first view the bodies at the temporary morgue and adjourn until the inquest is held. Rescue officials stated tonight all will be up by Thursday.

Five bodies were taken out during the afternoon. Three of them were identified. The work of bringing out the forty-seven victims of the fire and the poisonous gases will continue until all have been recovered.

After the bodies were brought from the underground workings, they were conveyed to a building on the Argonaut property, a mile from the Kennedy shaft and placed in coffins. Efforts are to be made to identify all of the victims.

The Los Angeles City Council yesterday adopted a resolution presented by Councilman Sparks and seconded by Councilman Mallard expressing to the families of the forty-seven miners who lost their lives at Jackson the sympathy of the city of Los Angeles and also requesting the California and Federal mining department authorities to investigate the mine tragedy to establish "whether or not the catastrophe was in any way due to negligence on the part of the operators of the mining property."

If negligence should be established, the resolution declared, those responsible should be prosecuted to the fullest extent of the law. Legislation to provide adequate safeguards to prevent such disasters as occurred at Jackson is also recommended. Copies were forwarded yesterday to the State and national mining departments.

CHECKS TO WIDOWS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—

"TIMES" COLLECTS FUND FOR VICTIMS OF MINE DISASTER

The Times will receive, acknowledge by publication and forward funds for the relief of the victims of the Jackson mine disaster—the widows and orphans of the entombed miners.

Contributions should be addressed to the City Editor, The Times, Los Angeles, Cal. They will be forwarded at once to the Amador County Chamber of Commerce, which has charge of the relief work. The names of the donors will be printed in The Times.

Forty-two of the forty-seven miners trapped on the lower levels of the Argonaut mine were married and left children.

Grief-stricken women and little children whose husbands and fathers will never again serve them as bread-winners will receive this money. All are invited to give as much as they can.

Why banks and trust compa... invest in bonds—

BANKS invest a large proportion of their deposits, and trust companies a generous share of their fiduciary funds, in bonds, for the following excellent reasons.

Bonds have been for centuries the preferred investment of the ultra-conservative—because of their safety, liquidity and bother-proof features. The principal is paid when due. The interest is paid promptly. Bonds are readily marketable and have good "loan value." They are often tax-exempt—and they afford a wide diversity of security.

Bonds are thoroughly investigated by investment experts before they are offered to the public.

A bondholder's position is that of a protected creditor. He is amply secured by a lien on property.

This company specializes in high-grade bonds in denominations of $500 and upward, and invites the patronage of salaried people as well as those of means.

WOOLWINE FOR BEER AND WINE

Asserts Volstead Act Has Been Failure

Announces Stand in Talk at Convention

Favors Soldier Bonus and Economy

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—Declaring the enforcement of the Volstead Prohibition Act had been a "stupendous failure," Thomas Lee Woolwine, Democratic nominee for Governor of California, today declared in favor of modification of the act and in favor of light wines and beer. He made the declaration in the course of his address to the Democratic platform convention shortly after it had convened.

In his address, Mr. Woolwine denounced the Ku Klux Klan, the labor of children in factories, and spoke in favor of the veterans' welfare acts. He also indorsed all efforts of the State of California to restrict the immigration of Japanese and other so-called ineligible aliens. He declared for a policy of "wise retrenchment" in the cost of the State government.

Mr. Woolwine spoke, in part, as follows:

"(1) It cannot be denied that the expense of running the State government has increased by leaps and bounds to such an extent that the people of the State are now carrying a burden that is fast becoming unbearable. Governments, as well as individuals, may become extravagant, as governments are only collections of individuals, and extravagance may be carried to the point of bankruptcy if unchecked.

"If elected Governor of this State, it is my intention to use every power at my command to retrench to the utmost, having in mind at all times, however, that no expense consistent with the welfare and progress of our State should be sacrificed for the purpose of making a false display of economy.

OPPOSES VOLSTEAD ACT

"I have been asked time without number to express myself on the question of whether or not there should be a modification of the Volstead Act, so as to permit the sale of so-called 'light wines and beer.'

"An overwhelming majority of the people of this State expressed their unqualified disapproval of the Volstead Act by defeating the so-called Harris inabling act only two years ago.

"With the passage of the Volstead Act I had hoped that crime would decrease, but to the regret of all law-abiding citizens they are confronted by not only the deplorable conditions hereinbefore enumerated, but with courts clogged with an alarming increase in crime and overcrowded jails and penitentiaries.

"Against these intolerable conditions, herein related, I am conscientiously impelled to take my stand with the majority of the people of this great State as expressed in their vote of two years ago, and with former President Wilson, Associate Justice Clarke of the Supreme Court of the United States, former U. S. Senator James D. Phelan, and others, and now declare that I favor a modification of the Volstead Act so as to permit the use of light wines and beer and as beverages, under proper governmental supervision as to strict purity of product and sale.

"It has been said that this is not an issue in this campaign, but it is an issue and cannot be evaded. If the Wright Act should fail of passage and the Legislature should pass a similar enabling act it should become the duty of the Governor of this State to either veto or approve such a measure.

"I feel no hesitancy in saying if the Wright Act should pass and I should become governor of this State, I would use every power at command in an effort to strictly and unyieldingly enforce the same."

PEARSON ATTACKS JOHNSON

William J. Pearson, Democratic candidate for United States Senator from California, made the opening address before the Democratic convention and attacked the political record of his Republican opponent, Senator Hiram W. Johnson, declared himself in favor of a non-political tariff commission to treat the tariff as a scientific measure and declared himself to be a representative of the farming interests of the State.

Pearson asserted that Johnson's record of performance in six years in the United States Senate consisted of four private claim bills, and termed Senator Johnson the "most conspicuous opponent of every effort to bring about end to war and establish a permanent basis for peace and harmony among the peoples of the world.

"Hiram Johnson is for American isolation," he said. "I am for American co-operation. Are you with me? Senator Johnson has further distinguished himself by opposing every attempt by our government to bring about co-operation with the other nations of the world."

In outlining his own platform, Pearson said he would use his best endeavors "to protect the farmer in his God-given task, to encourage his efforts to provide a living for the nation and the world with proper credits and financial aid in the making, the harvesting and the marketing of his crops.

Amidst a flurry of excitement, Ray S. Groves, member of the State Central Committee from Los Angeles, resigned from the committee after the majority report of the credentials committee seating him had been rejected. The minority report, unseating Groves, was put to vote after C. B. Brown, manager of the Cox Presidential campaign in 1920; Mrs. Force Parker, Los Angeles; Assemblyman Windrem of Madera, former Senator John B. Curtin of Sonora, and Senator W. E. Duncan of Oroville, and other speakers had been heard.

Groves, who resigned as secretary of the State Central Committee two years ago, was attacked because of this having been indicted in connection with alleged illegal withdrawals of whisky from warehouses.

In the viva voce vote for the minority report rejecting Groves as a delegate, there was a dispute as to the sentiment of the convention and there were calls for a roll call. However, at this juncture Groves took the floor and resigned as a member of the committee, thereby taking his name from the list of the delegates.

SKIRMISH WON BY RICHARDSON

Machine Goes Down to Defeat in Convention

McCabe Forces Overridden by Republicans

ond, that of McCabe and of all that "the smiling boss" represents.

It remains to be seen what McCabe can do with the State committeemen and with other elements in the party in sympathy with him. Richardson has not receded from his "no compromise" attitude and is ready to take steps to protect himself upon the first signs of machine treachery.

Despite the conciliatory nature of a genuinely eloquent address by Senator Johnson, despite harmonious utterances by Mr. Richardson and a benevolent and brief speech by Gov. Stephens, convention delegates looked at certain of their number with suspicion and in certain instances with open hostility.

NO LOVE FEAST

The Democratic convention almost broke up in a riot; the Republican convention was not a love feast, yet on the whole, the general body of Republican delegates evinced a willingness to disregard McCabe and the machine and to work sincerely for all party nominees.

Richardson was the big figure of the Republican convention. Although Senator Johnson's name was the first to be mentioned, it was the name of Richardson that drew first applause; although Senator Johnson was the orator of the day in a burst of fiery eloquence superior to his best efforts in the primary campaign, Richardson's very brief and matter of fact pledge to carry out his economy pledge, a pledge which he read, "so that there could be no misinterpretation," brought the convention to its feet in a real outburst of acclaim fully as great, fully as prolonged as the reception accorded the remarks of the Senatorial nominee.

GOVERNOR APPLAUDED

The appearance of Gov. Stephens was greeted with applause and the Richardson leaders took a prominent part in according him all due courtesy and respect. Stephens announced his support of Richardson.

The speech delivered to the Democratic convention by its nominee for United States Senator, William J. Pearson of Los Angeles, severely arraigned Senator Johnson and won much applause thereby.

Attempts to put in or keep out a wet plank in the Democratic platform developed into a test of strength between Pearson and Woolwine, with virtually every woman delegate lined up in support of Pearson.

Ray Groves, who was formerly secretary of the Democratic State Central Committee and who pleaded guilty several months ago to a charge of violating the Volstead Act, resigned as a delegate to the Democratic convention after a bitter and, at times, almost incoherent and hysterical exchange of personalities between his supporters and opponents.

GROVES'S STATEMENT

Preceding submission of his resignation Groves took the floor, stated the exact charge against him, implied that he pleaded guilty to save disgrace to a prominent member of the party and asserted that he was willing to make any personal sacrifice in the interest of the Democratic party. He asserted that both judge and prosecutor publicly announced at the time he entered his plea, that if he had been willing to go to trial, he would have been acquitted. He then tendered his resignation as a delegate.

Woolwine, in declaring for wine and beer, undoubtedly yielded to the advice of the irreconcilable wet leaders in San Francisco. Democratic women estimated tonight that his declaration may win him several thousand votes in Northern California wet centers, but that his gain in these centers will be insignificant in comparison to the vote that will be given Richardson in other parts of the State by the dry Democrats.

WAR AT HAND, SAYS ITALY

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ROME, Sept. 19.—Italy sees a war in the Near East, within a few days with England, Rumania and Jugo-Slavia fighting Turkey, Bulgaria and Russia. A high personage in the Italian Foreign Office told me:

"England is playing with dangerous fire. She will not listen to Italy's urgings for a conference to settle the Near East question amicably. She did not even answer our last note, which was sent five days ago. Kemal's victorious army will not wait indefinitely. The Turkish army in Thrace is 40,000 strong. It formerly was under Giafar Pasha, is well equipped and can be mobilized in Eastern Thrace at a moment's notice.

"Altogether Turkey can mobilize 200,000 or 300,000 men. It can readily occupy Gallipoli Adrianople and Constantinople. The Allies have only 40,000 men at Constantinople. In the event of conflict, Italy will take away its own men on Italian war vessels. It has already served notice on England that she will not fight Turkey.

"The conflict will spread, for Russia, besides aiding the Turks, will fall on Rumania and Poland, settle old scores and regain territory, lost by peace treaties. This being the great immediate danger, we are at a loss to understand England's game in refusing a peace conference."

SON OF WEALTH IS BAD-CHECK SUSPECT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Scion of a wealthy San Francisco lumberman, Charles Legal, aged 24 years, was arrested tonight in the Great Northern Hotel on a charge of cashing a fraudulent check for $61 on the San Francisco First National Bank. "Dad must be duck-hunting at our summer home," said Legal, when wires failed to bring relief from his father.

Pacific-Southwest Review

By J. B. RUTH, Comptroller

The First National Bank of Los Angeles and Pacific-Southwest Trust and Savings Bank.

Below is published, as of September 15th, a statement of condition of The First National Bank of Los Angeles and the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank (now the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank), with the capital and surplus of the First Securities Company, the three institutions being under one ownership and one management.

This is the first time since the merger of the banks of twenty-four California cities that a statement of condition has been made public, as the last call received from the Comptroller of the Currency was for a statement as of June 30th, and that statement, of course, could not carry the figures of the merged institutions, as the merger was effective July 1st.

At the close of business on September 16th, the name of the Los Angeles Trust & Savings Bank, with banks merged therewith, was changed to the Pacific-Southwest Trust & Savings Bank—this in order that the title under which these banks operate may be properly descriptive of the territory served.

PLEDGE FAITH IN HARDING

diplomacy and free to perform its international obligations in its own way, as it sees fit, without foreign direction or dictation."

"Friend W. Richardson," the platform sets forth, "has been nominated for Governor by a great majority of the Republicans of this State. He has been a faithful, intelligent and zealous servant of the public in office of trust and responsibility. His long, consistent and effective advocacy of humanitarian measures, as citizen, as journalist and as public officer place him in the front rank of those who have unselfishly and sincerely championed the rights of mankind. He has a thorough knowledge of the finances of the State government. The Republican party, through Friend W. Richardson, pledges itself to economical and efficient administration, to such a substantial reduction of present heavy cost of government as may be consistent with the continuance of the progressive policies which he had helped to formulate and that have done so much for the welfare of the people of California.

INDEPENDENT MIND

"Friend W. Richardson possesses an independent, thoughtful, and analytical mind capable of understanding and meeting all of the grave responsibilities and duties that develop upon the Governor. He is not the representative of any class or group, but is a true representative of the spirit and the ideals of the party of the great majority of the people of California, whom he has served so well in the past. He deserves the support of all citizens."

The re-election of Senator Johnson is urged on "his record as Governor of California," and his "ability, character and vision and statesmanship which have made him a national figure."

The economy plank in the platform was written by Richardson and is as follows:

ECONOMY PLAN

"Inasmuch as the burden of taxation upon the people of California has been constantly increasing, the need for businesslike economy and the highest order of efficiency in the expenditure of public money is greater than ever before; and the Republican party recognizes this need as imperative and pledges itself to the policy that for each public dollar spent there shall be received a dollar's worth in return, and that no dollar shall be spent save as a demonstrated public need makes necessary."

Without a wissenting vote the platform was adopted, and after adopting resolutions congratulating former United States Senator Cornelius Cole of Los Angeles upon the celebration of his one hundredth birthday, and formal expression of sorrow for the Argonaut mine disaster, the convention adjourned.

DAUGHERTY ATTACKED BY SOCIALIST PARTY

STRIKE INJUNCTION CALLED BLOW AT LIFE OF UNIONS IN AMERICA

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—The Socialist party convention of California here today denounced the Daugherty strike injunction, condemned the use of the injunction as a weapon in labor disputes, condemned the attitude of the Republican and Democratic parties toward organized labor and urged labor to "resist these gravest attempts at their life by every legal means within their power."

The resolutions declared that the Daugherty injunction was a culmination of the "general policy of the Harding administration to crush organized labor and make the labor movement of America subservient to the behests of big business."

The platform asserted that "the big capitalistic interests, through the United States Chamber of Commerce and the merchants' and manufacturers' associations, began in 1919 a campaign for cheap food, cheap labor, the disruption of organized labor and the suppression of free speech and civil rights, seeking to get work done and goods produced so cheaply that they could secure a permanent hold on the markets of the world and still retain fabulous profits to satisfy their ordinate greed." Small business men, farmers and wage workers had to sacrifice their Liberty bonds at a loss as a result, according to the platform.

The platform pledged the candidates to support the proposed California water and power act, national and State employment of the unemployed, national and State ownership of the banking system, a State marketing system, unrestricted right of labor to organize, unconditional restitution of rights of free speech, press and assemblage, abolition of military instruction in schools, State fire, life and accident insurance, including provisions for maternity, old age and childhood, proportional representation in the State Assembly, abolition of the State Senate, abolition of the power of the courts to nullify legislation, and recommended making the railroad commission elective.

Cameron H. King of San Francisco was elected chairman of the State Central Committee and Mrs. Addie M. Benedict, secretary.

SHALL GOVERNMENT ENDURE?

That is Real Question at Stake in the Strike Cases, Says Judge Bledsoe

Following are the remarks addressed to the Federal grand jury by Judge Bledsoe on the occasion of the gathering of the jury to consider the railroad strike conspiracy cases:

Gentlemen of the Grand Jury: You are called in extraordinary session this afternoon because of an extraordinary emergency existing. The United States Attorney for this district has informed me that evidence exists of a conspiracy to violate and subvert the laws of the United States; that this conspiracy grows out of the present railroad strike now pending in our midst. That it has to do with an apparently deliberate attempt to restrain and obstruct the flow of interstate commerce and the movement of the United States mails. If this be so, and you should so find, it is hardly necessary for me to suggest to you, of course, that indictments should be returned by you forthwith.

All of us have naught but fellowship with men who are seeking to better themselves in the world. All of us have sympathy of the sincerest sort for men who lawfully seek to relieve themselves from claimed injustice of whatever origin. None of us, however, can have any sympathy for any man who seeks to bring about a complete subversion of the law of the land merely that asserted injustice, arising out of unacceptable working conditions, may be immediately relieved against. The heart of the people is sound; their disposition to do justice to all concerned is unhampered as it is unimpaired. If this be not so, we must write ourselves down as incapable of self-government. Through the processes of the law, existing or newly wrought, justice can and will be done and civilization thereby saved. It can never be done through appeal to force and violence founded upon a demanded settlement for per-emptory relief.

EQUAL BEFORE LAW

The abiding glory of this land of ours lies not only in the fact of the equality of its citizens before the law, but of the fact that the government we have here set up is a government not of men, but of law. Out of our common will, reflected by our action at the polls and those of our representatives chosen to act for us, rules of action, limitations upon individual as well as collective conduct, are set up, binding upon all of us. This is not only a government of the people, by the people and for the people, but it is a government of all the people, by all the people and for all the people. He therefore, acting by himself or in conjunction with others, who would disregard the law laid down by our constitutional authority, who would in that wise set up a government of and for himself in opposition to our existing government, would disrupt and destroy this government. And therefore, as long as this government is competent to function efficiently, it must, as it will, do that and all of that which will serve to insure its own perpetuity. It fails to respond either to the needs or to the conception of its people if it fails at any time to do that which will serve to protect its own integrity and insure its own continuance. This government which we have set up is but the living voice of the people. It will ever seek to speak the people's will and when the people's will shall change, the voice of the government will change; but until the will of the people announces in no uncertain language that the law of the land, presumably binding upon all, is to be disregarded at will, the government, acting through its various instrumentalities, must endeavor, conscientiously, efficiently and promptly, to insist upon an obedience to the law as the same shall have been written and shall have been construed by binding judical determination.

INSTRUCTIONS TO JURY

Out of the unfortunate railroad strike now and for some time confronting us, comes to me information relative to acts and conduct upon their face demonstrative of a violation of law. If you, in your wisdom, and after painstaking and careful consideration, determine them to be such, your conclusions should find ready reflection in appropriate official action.

Upon your original impanelment, you were advised as to your duties generally and as to the methods to be followed by you in the performance of your official functions. These instructions I will now repeat. They were but the epitome of the rules governing an honest inquisitorial body seeking to ascertain the truth. The matters now to be covered, however, have to do with specific instances of alleged misconduct and the gravity of their nature, no less than the misconception respecting their propriety, urges me to bring them to your attention that they may have the benefit of official consideraion and action.

It is asserted that the lives of innocent and unoffending people were imperilled, that property of innocent third persons embarked in interstate commerce was subjected to loss and impairment and that the prompt passage of the mails of the United States was obstructed through the stoppage of train service.

If this be so, and if it be the result of co-operative action looking to that end by those responsible therefor, a conspiracy existed to violate the laws of the United States, and those concerned therein, mediately and immediately, should be brought to the bar of justice to answer for this onslaught upon right and justice, upon peace and security, upon law and order.

The statutes of the United States make it a crime to conspire to restrain the full and free flow of commerce between the several States, or knowingly and willfully to obstruct or retard the passage of the United States mails. And when the acts which create the restraint or obstruction are in themselves unlawful, the intention to restrain or obstruct, as the case may be, will be imputed, even though the attainment of other ends may have constituted the primary object.

A conspiracy is a combination or agreement among two or more individuals through concert of action—co-operation in some form—to accomplish some criminal or unlawful purpose, or some lawful purpose by criminal or unlawful means. An express or formal agreement to do the thing intended is, of course, not necessary to the existence of a conspiracy. It is sufficient if two or more persons, in any manner or through any connivance, positively or tacitly come to a mutual understanding to accomplish a common unlawful design. And any and every member of such a partnership in crime, irrespective of the position occupied or the work to be done, and irrespective of whether he joined the movement early or late, is responsible for all of its acts and amenable because of his participation therein. Even in a conspiracy, guilt, of course, must be personal. Each individual involved therein must in some wise have been co-operating therewith that the unlawful end in mind might be attained. A conspiracy can rarely, if ever, be proved by positive testimony. The purpose of the combination is known only to those who enter it, and their purpose can hardly ever be proved, save by what they actually did by the attendant circumstances, and by the light reflected from the results actually consummated. But it is the general rule of law that when different individuals pursue the same common unlawful object or design, whether acting separately or collectively, by common or different means, but all leading to the same unlawful result, and all moved by the same purpose and with co-operative action, the inference of a conspiracy to effect the unlawful result is complete.

In this behalf also you are to understand that under the law a person is presumed to intend all of the ordinary consequences that may flow from his voluntary acts and that an unlawful act was done with an unlawful intent. So that irrespective of the ultimate purpose in mind or the end finally to be gained, if there was an intent to restrain the flow of interstate commerce or to obstruct the mails, or if, in pursuance of any other intent unlawful means were made use of and as an expected consequence interstate commerce was thereby restrained or the mails were thereby obstructed, then violation of law has been committed and you should make presentation of the parties responsible for and participating in the same.

I apprehend the answer will be made that all that has been done has been but a part of, and an incident to, the maintenance of a strike, conceived and carried on for the purpose of securing relief against intolerable working conditions and injustices actually suffered.

RIGHT TO WORK

I yield to no man in my defense of the principle that as long as we are a free people, no person may be compelled to work under objectionable conditions, and that the right to strike, not only as a refusal to submit to such condition, but as an effective protest against the same, may not be gainsaid. But the same sort of a right that gives to the employee the privilege of striking and indicating his effective protest, gives to the balance of the community generally the privilege of being protected against invasions of its rights, serious disturbance of its peace and quiet, and enforced deprivation of the things necessary to its continued existence. So also other persons possessing or seeking employment have rights that are to be considered. If there be a God given right to strike when the conditions of employment are intolerable, there is equally a God given right to work, when work is available and the conditions are acceptable. And a government which will not use all of its effective powers in the preservation of the last naomed right, is a government in form only; it lacks the substance necessary to give it either life or stability. If disintegration did not eventually effect its destruction, inanition will. injustice may have been suffered by these men responsible for, or engaged in, the strike giving rise to the present controversy. As to that, I am not fully informed, and prefer to express no well-considered conclusion. For present purposes, however, and with no feeling that the facts may be otherwise, I am prepared to admit that an injustice may have been done. But that gives no warrant, either in law or morals, for a violation of law by those who are now seeking to relieve themselves of that injustice. It offers no excuse for a disruption of organized and functioning government.

In its simplest and most appealing aspect, gentlemen, the problem presented involves the question as to whether this government as a functioning instrumentality in our midst is to endure. Turbulency, persisted in, will demolish any democracy. Ours can last only in the face of the belief entertained by its people that the problems of society—social, political and industrial—are to be solved not only with abiding justice to all concerned, but within the forms of the law and in consonance with its spirit. There can be no justice in result with respect to any controversy unless there be justice in the procedure employed to attain that result. There can be no stable solution of any substantial controversy unless such solution be based on reason and justice, unhampered by a resort to violence and intimidation.

Violence and intimidation are subversive of law and order, of right and good will, of peace and security. They spell, eventually, for social dissolution. If we permit them to continue unabated, anarchy or worse confront us.

And if this government be destroyed by those who oppose its judgments, or seek to undermine its institutions, who shall set up another? And particularly who shall set up another that will be better? Whose will shall rule in the government to take the place of this? How shall that will be ascertained? Who shall enforce it? Who will make up its judgments, and in whose breasts will it lie to say what is right and just and fair and equitable between man and man? And that government so to be erected, if it meet, as it surely will, with opposition and contradiction, who shall rear out of its demolished fabric another new and better government, which shall be able to gratify everybody because everybody shall be able to get what everybody wants?

This a practical world in which, out of consideration of the general good to accrue to all, all must yield up a part of their God-given freedom of action.

I wouldn't and I will not counsel you to ask any man to perform his day's work under intolerable conditions, nor to suffer or submit to an injustice unprotested against by all the force and power lawfully at his command. But we do have the right to ask of all that they accommodate themselves to the law as it has been declared to be, merely that human right ultimately may triumph, and that anarchy may not engulf us and our children.

PASS RIVERS-HARBORS BILL

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—Final legislation action on the $50,000,000 rivers and harbors development bill was taken late today by the Senate, which agreed with the House to strike out provisions for purchase of the Cape Cod and Dismal Swamp canals. The bill now goes to the President.

STRIKERS ARE BEFORE COURT

Men Accused of Contempt for Needles Affair

Brutal Attack on Foreman Told by Witnesses

Jury Will Get Case Today; Bankers Testify

The question whether Joseph Stecklein, Albert O. Trautner and Thomas Brewer, striking shopmen on the Santa Fe Railway at Needles, are guilty of contempt of court in violating the temporary restraining order enjoining the strikers not to conspire to impede interstate commerce and the transportation of the mails, is now before a jury in Judge Bledsoe's court. The hearing will conclude today.

But little delay marked the selection of the jury. Hugh L. Dickson, on the part of the defendants, exercised all of his challenges, but the government, through Hiram C. Todd, special assistant to the Attorney-General; U. S. Atty. Joe Burke and his assistant, Mark Herron, passed the jury as it stood.

It was admitted on the part of the defendants that they had notice of the restraining order issued by the court.

Thomas F. Timlin, the victim of the cowardly attack, said to have been made by the defendants, told of his experience. He gave his age as 55 years, and said he was foreman of the Santa Fe Needles shops. He was still in the employ of the road. The strike was called on July 1, and the attack on him occurred on the morning of July 27, when he went to the M. & M. Bank on Main street to get a draft to send some money to his family.

As he stepped outside of the bank after having concluded his business he was met by Stecklein, Trautner and Brewer, the three forming a line about him. "If you want to scab, stay on the other side of the street," said Brewer to him, he testified. Whereupon Brewer, he charged, knocked him down. A free fight ensued. Trautner attacking him and Stecklein following close behind, the witness testified.

The encounter was stopped by Thomas Murphy, president of the bank, coming out and compelling the assailants to desist in their attack on Timlin. Timlin admitted that he tried to defend himself, but declared that he had been struck both by Brewer and Trautner before he raised a hand.

Thomas Murphy, president of the M. & M. Bank, testified to seeing Timlin knocked down, the blow causing Timlin to bleed profusely. He separated the men. It seemed to him that all three of the defendants were attacking Timlin. The witness said there were about fifty men in Needles going about as special police with badges, and armed with revolvers. The workers who continued in the employ of the Santa Fe were cared for at the shops where they worked. Ordinarily, but two policemen were necessary to preserve order in Needles, a town of 2000 people, said the witness.

The witnesses in behalf of the defense were C. M. Penny, a Santa Fe brakeman; Leonard Graves, a fireman; E. J. McCauley, a soft drink dealer in Needles, and J. F. Barrett, a striking machinist, who admitted that he had been a member of the special police force in Needles for two months and had not made an arrest.

All of the evidence given by these witnesses was to the effect that Timlin was the aggressor in the fight, although their recollection was a bit hazy. Barrett admitted that his sympathy was with the defendants. Penny admitted that when President Murphy rushed out of the bank to protect Mr. Timlin from the savage attack of the three defendants, that he, Murphy, shouted: "You are a bunch of dirty curs."

Main Street is Not Paris, This Miss Discovers

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

HOOPESTON (Ill.) Sept. 19.—This town is on the map again. Some years ago a quiet grandmother set the place agog by trying to reform everybody, hurling accusations right and left and, it is said, doing some peeping and telling what she saw. She was a terror to everybody, a nine days' wonder and got a lot of newspaper space.

Today a subflapper caused the excitement. Standing on the lawn of the grammar school where she, only 14, is a student, she smoked three gold-tipped cigarettes. At once she was the center of an eager group. She had to pass the cigarettes about for "puffs." Just how many got "puffs" the teachers don't know, but they caught two boys and two girls, making with the smoker, a total of five.

The smoker, whose name is withheld by school authorities, was "fired" and the other four, the two subflappers and two subflippers, were "scolded."

Rooming-house Owner Robbed; Hold Suspect

Asserted to have held up and robbed J. H. Hill, proprietor of a rooming-house at 135 South Main street yesterday afternoon, W. V. Miles was arrested last night by Officers Jarvis, Neoe and Gilmore of the Hollywood Police Station. In a report to the police, Hill claimed that Miles, a roomer, flashed a revolver on him and took about $365, disappearing down Main street after the robbery. Miles was booked on a charge of robbery.

large commerce, and until a breakwater extension is completed and some harbor dredging done the large steamers lie in the stream and passengers are taken ashore in huge barges. This consumes scarcely more time than bringing a big steamer to a dock and making fast, and this morning the City of Los Angeles passengers were soon ashore.

The wharf was decorated in their honor, and a committee of leading citizens of the Maui Chamber of Commerce and the Valley Island, generally, was waiting to receive the distinguished party. Long lines of automobiles were also in readiness to serve the visitors throughout the day.

Maui is the home of Hawaii's delegate to Congress, Harry A. Baldwin, member of a pioneer Hawaii family and one which has contributed greatly to building up several large island industries. His family is chief owner of the Hawaiian Commercial and Sugar Company, which operates the largest sugar plantation in the islands, with an annual outturn of around 50,000 tons of raw sugar. There are several stockholders of this company in Southern California.

The Baldwins and other leading Maui folk were among the citizens receiving the Los Angeles visitors, and a special committee of Maui ladies was at the dock to welcome the feminine excursionists.

ROADS WELL PAVED

Getting into autos, the party sped along well-paved roads out of the town and into the open country, amid some of the finest scenery in the islands. On one side, the tremendous bulk of Haleakala heaved upward into the sky. This extinct volcano has a crater almost ten miles across, and at points some thousands of feet deep—a huge bowl which formerly was an immense fire-pit. Its summit is easily accessible and many of the Los Angeles party desired to make the ascent—which can be done by horse-back—but the fact that only one day could be given to Maui prevented this.

The excursionists were taken through great fields of fine sugar cane, past cattle ranches where blooded stock is helping to build up great beef herds for island use; into the upland slopes where pineapple fields and factories give a vivid glimpse of Hawaii's second largest industry.

At noon, after an all-morning ride, the party swung back toward the town of Wailuku, which lies under the precipitous mountains of West Maui—sharp, high peaks, clothed in masses of green far up their rocky sides.

The visitors lunched at the Grand Hotel, Wailuku, some four miles from their steamer landing, and after lunch again took to autos and drove over another scenic route—the "pali" (cliff) road to the quaint little town of Lahaina.

Lahaina is the ancient capital of Hawaii, and also celebrated in island history as at one time the favorite rendezvous for whaling ships from the California coast which came here to outfit and get crews for their long voyages into the cold north. In those days whaling-vessels often lay in scores off the Lahaina coast, and their crews filled the town of grass huts and a few frame houses (belonging to chiefs) with boisterous merrymaking.

GLIMPSE NATIVE LIFE

Lahaina now is the headquarters of a large sugar plantation but there are still vestiges of the "old days" remaining in its back streets and shady lanes, with their glimpses of native life.

Another point of interest which attracted many of the Los Angelans was Iao Valley, a deep volcanic cut—apparently a rift caused by some prehistoric upheaval—that goes into the West Maui mountains and in its masses of jungle-like greenery and its wonderful coloring of mists and sunshine ranks with any scenery in the United States.

Late in the afternoon, the automobiles were turned back toward Kahului Harbor and the excursionists went to the town of Wailuku for dinner. Here they were looked after by the special Maui committee and incidentally informed that they had seen only a small part of the attractions of the Valley Isle.

It was nearly 11 o'clock when the last of the automobiles with the visitors sped back to the dock and the last big barge was pulled out into the stream to the waiting liner. The "City of Los Angeles" was due to sail at 1 a.m. from Kahului Bay toward Honolulu, and to arrive at 8 a.m. at Honolulu.

tered between Turkey, Armenia, Georgia and Azerbaijan.

However, the Foreign Office denies a Russo-Turkish military defensive or offensive alliance outside of a peace trade treaty similar to the Rapallo pact. That Russia morally backs Mustapha Kemal Pasha is no secret.

KEMAL CONGRATULATED

A government telegram has been sent congratulating Kemal upon his victory over the Greeks, while the government organs continue to express satisfaction and the hope that Turkey will obtain all territories that are at present under Greek, French or British rule.

Near East policy, therefore, is Nationalistic not Communistic. Through furthering the Turkish ambitions which are nearing realization, Russia has become a trusted big brother of Islam, and in fact, many non-Russian observers believe the key to Islam already is reposing in the Kremlin.

At any rate the Russian Foreign Office feels that Russia is in a better position now to repeat M. Tchitcherin's determined stand upon the Dardanelles and Black Sea situation with a greater probability that the divided Entente will have to listen to Russia.

beautiful. She has a graceful carriage and displays rare queenly dignity. She is blonde and her luxuriant hair encircles her face of exquisite sweetness. She has been a guest at the former Emperor's castle at Doorn on many occasions. It is reported that he was first impressed by the Princess following her letter of condolence on the death of Empress Augusta. It was then that he invited her to visit him. Subsequent visits followed and developed into the engagement.

Hearst Boom For Governor Badly Biffed

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BUFFALO (N. Y.) Sept. 19.—William J. Conners, promoter of the William R. Hearst boom for governorship of New York State against the regular Democratic organization, met with a crushing defeat in today's primary. His entire slate of thirty-eight delegates to the Democratic State convention was defeated.

In the Republican primary the organization won all along the line. Congressman S. Wallace Dempsey, chairman of the Rivers and Harbor Committee, staunch opponent of the proposed St. Lawrence waterway project, easily beat two opponents for renomination.

SEVEN DUCKS, SEVEN BUCKS

Nimrod's Aim Was Good and That is Some Consolation

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

LIVINGSTON (Mont.) Sept. 19.—James Thomas went duck hunting. At the outskirts of the city, near a farmer's house, he sighted seven ducks. He fired twice, killing the flock.

As Thomas lowered the last of the ducks into his hunting bag, a farmer approached.

Thomas paid the farmer $7 and the farmer kept the ducks, which were tame ones.

sition to recommend any general plan for relief measures, as requested by Acting Secretary of State Phillips.

The admiral completely concurs with the department's views that the situation is clearly beyond the scope of any private charity. He recommends that American relief operations should be confined to Anatolia in assisting refugees during evacuation and expresses the hope that the Greek and Allied governments will undertake the evacuation of the refugees and provide for them in places to which they are evacuated. He refers to the fact that the private relief, which is now being inaugurated in Smyrna and Mundania districts have caused an amelioration of conditions.

The Department of State has directed Vice-Consul Barnes to remain in charge of the consulate during the absence of Consul Horton who went to Athens soon after the fire with American refugees on board the United States destroyer Simpson.

Light is thrown upon the Greek-Turkish controversy concerning atrocities in the Near East by an official report of the International Red Cross just made public in Geneva, and received here today through official channels. The report is the more significant, inasmuch as it treats the question of atrocities from the Turk and Greek point of view, and is particularly valuable, coming from an international organization of admitted neutrality, which has been recognized by practically all civilized governments.

The report cities at considerable length charges of systematic atrocities perpetrated against the Turks in Thrace by the Greek administration, and cites the Greek government severely for refusing to allow a Red Cross relief commission to come to the aid of homeless and starving Turkish populations in Thrace. It quotes a letter from the Greek representative at the seat of the League of Nations refusing to give permission to the International Red Cross to send a relief commission to Thrace.

This Laxative Works Fine on Old People

Thousands have kept themselves healthy with Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin

ADVANCING age with its subdued ambitions and strivings could be made very happy if only good health accompanied it, and the basis of good health, as everyone learns upon reaching the age of 60, is the regular daily movement of the bowels. If it can be effected through the food you eat, the water you drink and the exercise you take, so much the better. But if nature will not operate it must be assisted or sickness will follow. Neglected constipation causes the blood pressure to go up 28 per cent, and that is the forerunner of hardening of the arteries. It makes rheumatism and gout worse, too.

The ideal constipation remedy for people of advancing years is Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin, a vegetable compound of Egyptian senna and pepsin with pleasant-tasting aromatics. It is gentle and mild, and does not cramp or gripe. It is a mistake to think you need a violent salt or powder or pill, calomel, coal-tar drugs and such things. They purge and weaken you, and their reaction tends to make you more constipated than before.

Now try the milder method. Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin does not lose its good effect with repeated use, and increased doses are unnecessary. Mrs. E. M. Burgess of Enfield, N. C., who is 73, keeps herself in good health with it, and Mr. Charles Chorman of Stapleton, Staten Island, N. Y., wasted fifteen years and considerable money on other remedies before finding steady relief with Syrup Pepsin.

Use Dr. Caldwell's Syrup Pepsin yourself the next time you suffer from constipation, biliousness, headache, sleeplessness, indigestion, piles or night cramps. Many thousands of elderly people use nothing else, and it costs them less than a cent a dose. Druggists have sold it successfully for 30 years, and it is the most widely bought family laxative in the world.

ANY FAMILY MAY TRY IT FREE

Thousands of parents are asking themselves, "Where can I find a trustworthy laxative that anyone in the family can use when constipated?" I urge you to try Syrup Pepsin. I will gladly provide a liberal free sample bottle, sufficient for an adequate test. Write me where to send it. Address Dr. W. B. Caldwell, 515 Washington St., Monticello, Illinois. Do it now!

NOTAS TELEGRAFICAS

Noticias de Washington

WASHINGTON, septiembre 19. El proyecto de ley del plus del soldado ha recibido el veto del Presidente Harding hoy. La Cámara lo aprobará mañana; pero dejará de pasar por algunos votos en el Senado, debido al veto Presidencial.

Hoy fué aprobado por el Senado el informe de la conferencia sobre el arancel habiendo votado en contra de él cinco republicanos, y en favor de él, dos demócratas. El proyecto de ley Fordney-McCumber será firmado mañana por el Presidente, y entrará en vigor a media noche.

Los ex-empleados de la Tesorería nombrados por Elmer Dover, y despedidos bajo acusación, hacen cargos al Comisionado de la Renta Interior y a otros altos empleados de la Tesorería, de irregularidades, y piden se haga una investigación en las oficinas de los acusados.

Los Estados Unidos protegerán las vidas y propiedades americanas en el Próximo Oriente, y ayudarán en la obra de socorro; pero no intervendrán de ninguna otra manera en la cuestión greco-turca.

La onda de crimen en los Estados Unidos no se debe, según Edwin J. Cooley, de Nueva York, a los métodos humanitarios para tratar a los criminales, como lo pretende el Juez Kavanagh. Señala el aumento de la criminalidad en otros países y en algunos Estados que tienen leyes y sistemas represivos, draconianos.

Se cree que Conrad E. Spens, de Chicago esté apuntado para ser nombrado distribuidor federal de combustible, sucediendo a H. B. Spencer.

Extracción de los Cadáveres

JACKSON (Cal.) septiembre 19. Hoy en la tarde fueron sacados tres cuerpos de la mina Argonaut y llevados a la superficie de la mina Kennedy, y se espera otro cuerpo dentro de poco. Los tres muertos extraídos son, Maurice Gianetti, L. Leon y George Steinman.

Más tarde sacaron hasta la boca de la Kennedy otros dos cadáveres, completándose cinco en total, de los que no se hallan identificados los dos últimos.

Los cuerpos estaban envueltos en lona, y se les condujo rápidamente a una milla cerca arriba, hasta el gran molino de hierro ondulado del Argonaut, muy arriba de Jackson, que está haciendo veces de mergue.

NOTAS LOCALES

Negro Acusado de Asalto a un Lechero

William Banes, de 26 años, fué dado de alta ayer en la Cárcel de Ciudad, como sospechoso de robo, pues fué identificado por W. G. Barnes, tenedor de libros de la Compañía Lechera Crescent, de Lillian Way 1050, Hollywood, como el bandido negro que, hace una semana, lo asaltó y le robó $1000. Tal ha dicho la policía.

Se le Da Prisa al Caso de Rawlinson

Ayer se le notificó a Herbert Rawlinson, estrella de cinematógrafo e ídolo de pantalla de innumerables muchachas en todo el país, que deberá comparecer la mañana de hoy en la oficina del Agente del Ministerio Público, a fin de responder a los cargos criminales que le hace la bella Dorothy Clark, de diecisiete años, bailarina de teatro y actriz de cine.

La citada muchacha tiene pendiente en el este una acción civil por $200,000 contra el actor de cinta. La demanda fué presentada por la madre de Dorotea, la Sra. Evelyn Clark, quien alega que el actor atacó a su hija.

La historia de la muchacha, que comienza cuando tenía nueve años, y que hace mención de supuestas proposiciones de Rawlinson, está llena de sombríos detalles. Hasta en estas fechas, y a pesar del juicio pendiente contra el actor, asegura ella que varias veces se ha reunido con él en Hollywood, y que en estas entrevistas Rawlinson le ha hecho proposiciones. Al ser interrogada ayer en la oficina del Agente del Ministerio Público, admitió ella haber recibido recientemente dinero del as de cine.

Se Sugiere un Plan de Licencias de Autos

El Sr. Hill, Consejero del Condado, ha presentado a la Junta de Inspectores un proyecto para recortar en $1,000,000 los gastos del Estado, suprimiendo el Departamento de Autovehículos, conservando sólo al Jefe Director, comenzando el año de licencia de automóviles el primer lunes de marzo en vez del 1 de enero de cada año, y poniendo en manos de los varios valuadores fiscales del condado el cobro de los impuestos de licencia. Con este plan, caso de ser aprobado por los inspectores, y promulgado ley por la entrante Legislatura, declara el Sr. Hill que el Estado podría ahorrar aproximadamente $4,000,000.

DEPORTES

Baseball

Vernon le ganó ayer a Oakland el juego inicial en el Parque Washington, por anotación de 11 a 4. Los Angeles no pudieron llegar a Portland a tiempo para el juego de apertura.

Los Yanquis de Nueva York avanzaron ayer hasta más cerca aún del campeonato de la Liga Americana, a causa de su victoria sobre Detroit, por 4 a 3; en tanto que los Browns de San Luis fueron derrotados por 4 a 3 a manos de los Senadores de Washington.

Ken Williams logró ayer su trigésima nona home run, al paso que Babe Ruth pegó su trigésima cuarta.

William Johnston, de San Francisco, y William T. Tilden, campeón nacional de nones de tennis, están proyectando una invasión de Europa muy próximamente.

Lucha

Wladek Zbyszko y Renato Gardini se encontrarán en uno de los dos números especiales de lucha que se presentarán esta noche en el tablado de Hollywood, de la Legión Americana. Toots Mondt y Taro Miyake vendrán a las manos en el otro.

El combate de Mike O'Dowd contra Dave Rosenburg, que estaba anunciado para anoche en el campo de Ebbett, Brooklyn, ha sido indefinidamente diferido.

HOME HEADS BRITISH DEBT FUNDING BODY

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—Sir Robert Stevenson Horne, Chancellor of the Exchequer, will be the leading member of the British debt funding delegation that is to visit the United States. The chancellor's purpose, it is said, is to sail for America on October 18.

The chancellor refused to discuss his trip further than to say that it was well known that Great Britain intended to pay her debts to the United States and that the forthcoming conversations in America would be for the purpose of arranging how the payments should be made.

Aged Hiker Says He Will Be Elected Mayor of San Diego

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Henry Stewart, aged 72 years, whose life work is broadcasting the charms of San Diego, Cal., finished a transcontinental walking tour at 3 P. M. today, when he reached New York.

Stewart said he began his eighth cross-country trip last Washington's birthday. He would have reached New York sooner, but he dallied to preach the glories of San Diego.

"This time I'm going home by steamer," he explained. "I'm going to be elected mayor, appointed colonel of the National Guard and chosen Boy Scout master when I return.

"After I'm mayor I'm going to take all the prohibitionists off in a ravine and let 'em sing glory hymns for a space. While they are singing I'm going to lead all the regular 'boys' to the sideboard and every blessed one of 'em is going to be given a real snifter."

LAWYERS FOR UNION CONTINUE HAGGLING

DAUGHERTY INJUNCTION MAY BE EXTENDED UNTIL ALL DANGERS ARE OVER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Attorneys for the striking shopmen and their leaders continued their efforts before Judge Wilkerson today to have dismissed or greatly modified the evidence of murders and sabotage upon which the Daugherty injunction was based. Of the first 255 exhibits introduced, practically all were objected to on one ground or another. They also added another dozen to the 153 affidavits they want thrown out.

When the union attorneys complained they would not have time to examine all the remaining exhibits and affidavits, Judge Wilkerson intimated that he was willing to oblige by extending the life of the Daugherty injunction for an indefinite period. The end of the hearing had been set for September 21, at which time it was expected Judge Wilkerson would dismiss the injunction or make it permanent. It is believed he will extend it indefinitely until all danger of outbreaks between union and nonunion men in the shops has passed.

Strikers returned in large numbers to the shops today, but no trouble was reported at any of the western shops. Under the agreement being made with old employees when they report back for work, they are given their pass and pension privileges, but not their seniority.

The Monon road has joined with those accepting the Baltimore agreement. The Erie has gone over to the list of those forming their own shop organizations. The Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific also announces the formation of its own shop union. The Chicago and Alton announced that strikers above 45 years old are given until September 25 to return. After that time the age limit will be enforced. Only half of the 2000 men who went out can be taken back, as a thousand new employees will not be dismissed.

TOURISTS ESTABLISH YELLOWSTONE RECORD

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

LIVINGSTON (Mont.) Sept. 19. With a total of 97,740 visitors this season, Yellowstone Park has broken all records for travel and leads its nearest rival, Yosemite Park in California, by more than 2500 tourists, according to figures announced by Horace M. Albright, superintendent of the Yellowstone.

When the season ends officially on September 20, Supt. Albright expects the figures to total within a few hundred of 100,000.

Fact vs. Fiction

The Attempted Nullification of the Eighteenth Amendment by Misrepresentation Exposed

By CHARLES SCANLON

General Secretary of the Board of Temperance and Welfare of the Presbyterian Church in the United States of America, Pittsburgh, Pa.

FICTION—Prohibition was hastily enacted.
FACT—For more than 100 years prohibition was intensively and extensively studied and discussed. No question ever decided by the American people was better understood.

FICTION—Prohibition was the will and act of the minority.
FACT—Before national prohibition went into effect 34 States, acting separately for themselves, had adopted prohibition. More than three-fifths of the people and four-fifths of the territory of the country were under prohibition. The Eighteenth Amendment was submitted by a vote of more than two-thirds of both houses of the United States Congress and has been ratified by 46 of the 48 States.

FICTION—Prohibition is unconstitutional.
FACT—By a unanimous opinion of the United States Supreme Court, 1920, both the Eighteenth Amendment and the Volstead Enforcement Code were declared to be constitutional.

FICTION—Prohibition interferes with personal liberty.
FACT—So do the Ten Commandments, according to the testimony of every liar, thief, libertine and blasphemer.

FICTION—Prohibition makes hypocrites.
FACT—The treason and anarchy preached and practiced by the liquor people will of course make patriots and Christians.

FICTION—Prohibition cannot be enforced.
FACT—Prohibition, and every other law for the good of the people, can be enforced by placing men in authority who have the inclination, courage and ability to do what they are paid and sworn to do.

Fiction of the kind Mr. Scanlon describes is being spread broadcast by the liquor interests, in their effort to procure the election of Congressmen who will vote for repeal of the Prohibition laws.

Both the fiction and the facts of the nation-wide anti-prohibition campaign are dealt with in a series of daily articles now appearing in The Christian Science Monitor.

AUTHORESS KILLS SELF BY HANGING

Despondency Over Lack of Literary Success Thought Reason for Act

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SANTA ANA, Sept. 19. — A trunkful of manuscripts, rejected and returned by publishers, was mute evidence today of the reason for the suicide of Miss Minnie Strong, aged 35, whose body was found in a hotel room here today. The woman, despondent because her literary ambitions were so often disappointed, and by a consequent lack of funds, had hanged herself.

The body was found hanging by a trunk rope tied to a door knob and stretched over the top of the closed door. Death had come slowly by strangulation, officers believe.

A towel was around her neck and a wash cloth in her mouth. A note told the rooming-house proprietor the rent for her room since Saturday would be found in her pocketbook, and a letter addressed to Mrs. Elva Smith, 411 East Sixth street, Long Beach, said she had nothing more to live for as the poorhouse stared her in the face, and hinted she was going to join a girl friend who had died some time before.

A sister of Miss Strong had committed suicide some time ago, according to Long Beach police, and Miss Strong herself had been frustrated in a similar attempt at Long Beach in June. At that time, it is reported, her sanity was questioned and she was released in custody of the Welfare Society.

CAMPBELL HELD ON DESERTION CHARGE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ALHAMBRA, Sept. 19.—Frank Campbell, who says he was formerly street superintendent of St. Louis, has been arrested by the Alhambra police on instructions from there and is being held for the arrival of a St. Louis police officer, who is expected Thursday. According to the information on which the arrest was made, Campbell is wanted for desertion and nonsupport of his wife and child.

The St. Louis complaint was filed by Mrs. Frank Campbell of that city, and charges that Campbell left for California last May. He was located by the Alhambra police at the home of Harold Peters, 2215 Hunt avenue, Monterey Park. He has waived extradition. It is all a mistake, Campbell declares, and says that the matter will be cleared up as soon as he returns to St. Louis. He states that his wife is receiving an income from his property.

Aged people can be permanently relieved from constipation worries!

Serve Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, to aged sufferers from constipation—and results will prove astounding! Here is nature's most wonderful food—not only sweeping, cleansing and purifying the bowel tract without any irritation or discomfort but stimulating and energizing brain and nerve cells!

Give the aged Kellogg's Bran with every meal. Serve it as a cereal, sprinkle it on other hot or cold cereals or make it up into the most delicious muffins, raisin bread, gems, macaroons, pancakes, etc., you ever tasted. And, all the time it is doing wonderful health work. The value of Kellogg's Bran cannot be overestimated!

Bran is a vitally necessary food on every family table. Its regular use —at least two tablespoonfuls daily; in chronic cases with each meal—will not only free you from the dangers of constipation, but it will ward off disease! Authorities tell you that 90% of all illness is caused by constipation! Remember that!

Don't wait for constipation to "get" you or some loved one! Start with Kellogg's Bran tomorrow. Serve it every day as a cereal, sprinkled over other cereals or in countless bakery batches. Bran will add years to anyone's life!

Children grow strong and robust when given Kellogg's Bran in their diet. It keeps the little ones in prime health, allowing the organs to perform normal functions and the body to grow in a healthy way. Bran will sweeten an offensive breath and clear a pimply complexion. Buy Kellogg's Bran, cooked and krumbled, at all grocers. Start eating Bran today!

Three Thousand Acres Will be Benefited

Dairying Decreases in Salt River Valley

Pima Cotton Growers Plan to Extend Operations

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PHOENIX (Ariz.) Sept. 19.—The Jennings Construction and Engineering Company of El Paso is completing a ten-mile open drainage canal, twenty feet in depth and sixteen feet wide, in the Laveen farming district, about ten miles southwest of Phoenix, and south of the Salt River channel. A large amount of water has been developed, and is to be used for irrigation farther westward. Funds for the work were provided by formation of a 3000-acre district, which bonded itself for $100,000.

A similar canal operates south of Tempe, its water irrigating farms on the Pima reservation, north of the Gila River.

DAIRYING ON DECREASE

An odd situation has developed in Salt River Valley dairying. Butter fat is down to about 31 cents, delivered at the creameries, subject to grading and deductions. This is declared so low that no profit can be made by the producer, so cows have been sold and the industry is on the decline. In the valley at present there are only about 15,000 cows, compared with 60,000 before the war.

EXTEND OPERATIONS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

YUMA (Ariz.) Sept. 19.—Operations of the Pima Cotton Growers' Association, heretofore confined to the Salt River Valley, have been extended to cover a large percentage of the cotton acreage of the Yuma Valley, after the plan had been indorsed by the Yuma Clearinghouse Association. The Association has arranged for advancing $375,000 to Yuma cotton growers for picking and ginning costs.

Considerable damage has been done by bugs during the last two months, and hardly a fourth of a crop will be harvested in the Somerton neighborhood and the lower valley.

DECLARES AUTO WILL DISPLACE STREET CAR

CHICAGO ENGINEER FORESEES SERIOUS COMPETITION WITHIN DECADE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—A report showing that further development of the automobile will furnish sharp competition in future years to the elevated roads and surface lines is being prepared by R. F. Kelker, engineer for the Council Committee on Local Transportation.

"It is certain," he said, in discussing the report, which he will submit to the committee in a few weeks, "that an automobile gives quicker service than the street car, and it is the biggest competition that local transportation has to look out for in the future.

"Ten years from now I will be surprised, with the lowering of motor car prices, if there is a single street car line in any big city in the country making money, if this competition continues."

Mr. Kelker will call attention in his report to the growing seriousness of the motor-car parking question. Parking space for the cars of employees will have to be provided in all future plans for large factories and other big industrial establishments he believes.

MURDER CONVICTION UPHELD BY COURT

CHINESE TONG MEN MUST PAY DEATH PENALTY; WILL BE RESENTENCED

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Conviction of Lee Yick and Wong Tong, Chinamen, for the murder of Wong Fook Kee in Fresno during June, 1921, was upheld by the State Supreme Court today. Both men will be resentenced to hang by the Fresno Superior Court.

The murder took place during a war between tong organizations known as Suey Ong and Bing Kong.

The war, it is understood, was one of the most sensational upon the Pacific Coast.

STEAM SCHOONER IS POUNDING ON ROCKS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Marine appraisers announced today the steam schooner Thomas L. Wand, which went ashore at Cypress Point, Monterey county, in a thick fog Saturday, probably will be a total loss. The captain and crew were taken off Saturday. Contrary to first reports, the Wand was not carrying a cargo of lumber, but was in ballast. She was bound from Los Angeles to San Francisco when she struck.

Heavy seas were reported to be pounding the Wand to pieces. She is owned by John O. Ogden, San Francisco shipping man, and was built in 1906 at Aberdeen, Wash., for the coastwise lumber trade.

HEDGE OF WHISKERS WINS DAY

Beards Camouflage Zion Sappers; Word Barrage is Ineffective

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ZION CITY (Ill.) Sept. 19.—First-line forces of the army of Voliva moving through the rain under a camouflage of dense beards, closed in today on the fortified position of the Rev. Thomas H. Nelson, commander of the independent forces fighting the followers of Dowie.

Despite the heavy barrage of language laid down from his sheltered front porch by Gen. Nelson the Zion sappers dug a vast hole in the street and excavated a huge sewer which connects with the Nelson headquarters and the Grace Missionary Church of which he is pastor.

By this strategic move not only did Gen. Voliva destroy the line of sewage communication, but effectively cut off the retreat of the embattled enemy. Gen Nelson's automobile is not tank enough to negotiate the crater that yawns hungrily in front of his garage.

The newest move of the Zion forces came following the decision of Judge Claire C. Edwards in the Circuit Court at Waukegan, a sort of Hague tribunal which has more or less success in diverting, but not halting the Zion warfare. Judge Edwards dissolved the injunction which the independents had procured restraining Voliva from disconnecting the old sewer.

No sooner had dissolution set in than the whiskered followers of Voliva with a low, glad cry, seized their trenching tools and advanced.

"They can't whip us," declared Gen. Nelson. "The new sewer they are putting in is private. They will not permit us to connect it. But we won't quit. They don't dare come any closer. I've thrown them off my porch before."

Gen. Nelson went out to apostrophize the enemy again. The enemy, chuckling, waved its taunting whiskers over the edge of the trench.

SEE GERMAN INTRIGUE IN WAIF CITY ON BALTIC

MOVEMENT FOR INDEPENDENCE OF MEMEL HEADED BY DR. KRAUSS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PARIS, Sept. 19.—Maj. D. Etchegoyen, writing from Memel, has made a violent protest against the French sentiment favoring the independence of the little waif city on the Baltic.

Recalling that the historian, Pytheas mentioned the presence of Lithuanians at Memel 350 years before Christ and the terms of the Versailles treaty declaring the city's population had always been Lithuian, he attributed the movement for independence to a German maneuver. The object is he says, to make Memel independent instead of reattaching it to Lithuania, so it can be absorbed by the Reich at the first opportunity.

The movement for the independence of the little city-state is headed by Dr. Krauss, vice-president of Memel's state council. Dr. Krauss, according to the protest, is a full-blooded Bavarian, who until recently was known as an enthusiastic monarchist.

It is argued that now Lithuania is recognized by nearly all governments, Memel should be given a home therein under the execution of the Versailles treaty.

AMERICAN ACTRESS TO APPEAR IN NEW PLAY

GOES TO BERLIN TO STUDY WORK IN "TALES OF HOFFMAN"

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—Miss Lotus Robb, an American actress, who is to have the leading feminine role in the New York production of the theatrical fantasy "The Strange Adventures of Conductor Kreisler," has arrived in Berlin to study how her opposite number handled the costumes and part in the original German production.

The play is based on a weird story by the German author and composer Hoffmann, who has given his name to the well-known opera, "Tales of Hoffmann."

It is a stunt production, being presented from a stage divided into cubicles, which permits the representation of forty-two scenes with very little shifting.

It has been running with great success in Berlin for nearly nine months and closes here this week. It will be transported bag and baggage to New York, so far as stage arrangements and fittings are concerned, and presented in November under the title of "Tales of Hoffman." The play is familiar to most American visitors in Berlin and last season attracted many American professionals and writers owing to its novel staging.

WELCOME HERRIOT

Bolshevists Enthusiastic Over Visit of French Deputy

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

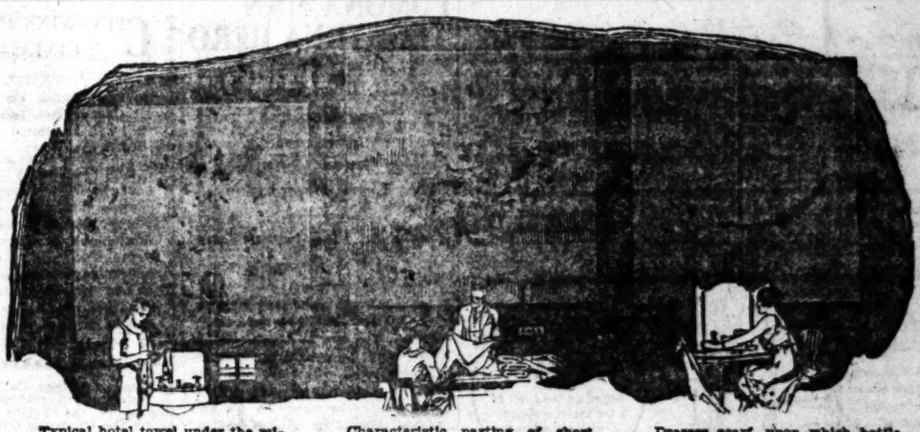
PARIS, Sept. 19.—According to the Communist press in Paris, Edourdo Herriot was welcomed by the Bolshevists as a saviour and they express their satisfaction over his visit in glowing terms. They are particularly enthusiastic over the idea that he invited George Tchtcherin to the next fair at Lyons, which invitation the latter accepted.

The other newspapers find it remarkable that the Bolshevists, while opening their arms to Deputy Herriot, refuse access to their country of an American mission whose perspicacity would perhaps be too much for them.

TRADING BILL SIGNED

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The Dyer Chinese trading bill became a law today when it was signed by President Harding. It provides for Federal incorporation of American companies doing business in China and exempts them from certain Federal taxes on profits derived.



Typical hotel towel under the microscope. Wiping of razor blades caused this damage. Minute, almost invisible slits when dry, they show up as holes on wash day.

Characteristic parting of short staple linen cloth of poor grade traceable to fact that warp threads—72 to the inch—were weaker than filling threads—92 to the inch. A common occurrence.

Dresser scarf, upon which bottle of toilet preparation has rested. The stain usually is unnoticed. On washing, a hole like this results.

The Origin of "Mysterious" Wear in Your Washing

Aren't you often perplexed when high-grade textiles, selected with great care, seem to give out "all at once"? Haven't you often asked yourself why, and wondered, perhaps, how repetition of such failings might in the future be guarded against?

The simple fact is that hundreds of minute injuries, which usually we can not see until after our apparel has been washed, are daily being suffered by the garments with which we clothe our persons.

Investigation into the causes of these harmful factors in the life of fabrics is one of the innumerable ways in which we, and other modern laundries, are serving women.

Here are some of the things we have learned which you will find it helpful to know:

Analysis of tattered cloth from shirts that have prematurely frayed at the armpits, often shows the failing to be due to overuse of deodorants and depilator solutions.

Dust and shoe polish weaken linen. When this fact was called to the attention of the Pullman Company, it saved much by instructing porters to refrain from shining shoes and dusting sills with sheets and pillow cases. Tablecloths of the "seconds" kind, it has been shown, have a tendency to roughen after the first laundering. On contact with water, their artificial surface filling dissolves away.

The magnifying glass informed hotel men that microscopic slits occurring in their towels with the first laundering were minute cuts made by guests in wiping their razor blades.

The sudden appearance of holes in the toes and heels of new hose is frequently traceable to overdoses of foot-comforting preparations, and to the acids in perspiration.

Investigations by the men of science, who look into these details for the laundry industry, have proved that fully 95 per cent of the "mysterious" defects that "come out" in linen and apparel on wash day are attributable to things like those we have mentioned, and to many other commonly unseen and unsuspected causes.

Our thorough knowledge of these matters and our long experience with fabrics and washing, enable us to wash for you as no one else can; enable us to conserve for you while we cleanse.

If you would know true economy, and freedom from all the cares of old-time Mondays, just send your washing to us. You'll be delighted, we know, with the modern wash day service you'll receive. Telephone one of the modern steam laundries in your community to call for your family bundle.

Shame on Them.

PERHAPS there are a few mothers who do not know the virtues of Fletcher's Castoria. Perhaps there are a few who know that there are imitations on the market, and knowing this demand Fletcher's. It is to ALL motherhood, then, that we call attention to the numerous imitations and counterfeits that may be set before them.

It is to all motherhood everywhere that we ring out the warning to beware of the "Just-as-good". For over thirty years Fletcher's Castoria has been an aid in the upbuilding of our population; an aid in the saving of babies.

And yet there are those who would ask you to try something new. Try this. Try that. Even try the same remedy for the tiny, scarcely breathing, babe that you in all your robust womanhood would use for yourself. Shame on them.

Your Friend, the Physician.

The history of all medicines carries with it the story of battles against popular beliefs: fights against prejudice: even differences of opinion among scientists and men devoting their lives to research work; laboring always for the betterment of mankind. This information is at the hand of all physicians. He is with you at a moment's call be the trouble trifling or great. He is your friend, your household counselor. He is the one to whom you can always look for advice even though it might not be a case of sickness. He is not just a doctor. He is a student to his last and final call. His patients are his family and to lose one is little less than losing one of his own flesh and blood.

Believe him when he tells you—as he will—that Fletcher's Castoria has never harmed the littlest babe, and that it is a good thing to keep in the house. He knows.

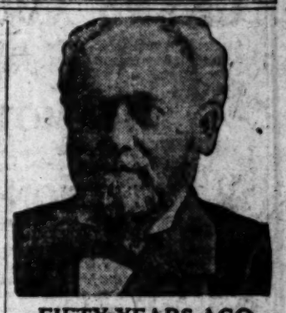
THE CENTAUR COMPANY, NEW YORK CITY.



FIFTY YEARS AGO

A young man who practiced medicine in Pennsylvania became famous and was called in consultation in many towns and cities because of his success in the treatment of disease. This was Dr. Pierce, who finally made up his mind to place some of his medicines before the public, and moving to Buffalo, N. Y., put up what he called his "Favorite Prescription," and placed it with the druggists in every State.

Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has long been recognized as a tonic for diseases peculiar to womankind. After suffering pain, feeling nervous, dizzy, weak and dragged-down by weaknesses of her sex—a woman is quickly restored to health by its use. Thousands of women testify that Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription has entirely eradicated their distressing ailments.

More recently that wonderful discovery of Dr. Pierce's, called An-uric (for kidneys and backache) has been successfully used by many thousands who write Dr. Pierce of the benefits received—that their backache, rheumatism, and other symptoms of uric acid deposits in joints or muscles have been completely conquered by its use.

Send 10c to Dr. Pierce, Buffalo, N. Y., for trial pkg. of any of his remedies, or write for free medical advice.—[Advertisement.

The Independent Women

is one of the brightest jewels which adorns our modern, economic system. But too often this independence is gained at the cost of health, and the wage-earning woman struggles through her duties, a prey to nervousness, backache and despondency. Does not her independence then become more of a burden than a joy? Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has helped many such women to regain their zest in life, and will help many more.—[Advertisement.

POMONA MAN SMYRNA HERO

Y.M.C.A. Head Tells of Fire and Massacre

College Graduate Refused to Leave Orphans

American Flag Saved Lives of Boy Refugees

[BY CABLE AND ASSOCIATED PRESS.]

CONSTANTINOPLE, Sept. 19.—Smyrna was an amphitheater of flame, with its struggling, despairing population helpless in the arena formed about the water-front, caught between the fire and the sea, according to the description given to the Associated Press by Edward M. Fisher of Reading, Pa., director of the Y.M.C.A. at Smyrna, who went through the catastrophe and has just returned here. Mr. Fisher said:

"The Turks had deliberately poured kerosene on the buildings. I saw a stream of kerosene running through the street on which the American Consulate was located. The Turks also set fire to bundles of clothing and bedding dropped by the fleeing refugees. Soon the whole European quarter was enveloped in flames.

CITY FOREDOOMED

"Burning Smyrna, an amphitheater built around the great bay, was a terrifying but magnificent spectacle. Fire along the water front destroyed the customs house, located on the harbor. I had previously observed Turkish irregulars pouring large cans of benzine on the wooden framework of the latter structure. It was clear that Smyrna had been foredoomed.

"The personnel of the Y.M.C.A., American college and other American organizations were ordered aboard the American destroyers, as the quay was no longer tenable on account of the terrible heat. From the shores helpless crowds raised their arms and in an agonizing chorus supplicated to be taken on our boats. In their helplessness the Americans broke down and wept. Many of the frantic refugees had been to the United States and spoke English.

"The Turks chose fire to solve the question of Christian minorities in Asia Minor forever.

POMONA MAN IS HERO

"An American hero was Raymond Moreman, a young graduate of Pomona College, California, who in spite of the flames and the threats of the Turks, refused to desert the Christian Orphanage, in which were housed 300 orphans under his direct charge.

"'I shall die with them if they are killed,' he told the Turkish authorities.

"Through the bravery of Miss Mary Mills of the American College, and Dr. Wilfred Post of Washington, D. C., who with myself worked incessantly, we succeeded in taking 600 Armenian orphan boys from the fire zone, marching them to the pier. Unfortunately there was no room for them on the American destroyers, so we were forced to place them on the quay. In some unaccountable way two of the youngsters secured American flags which they held aloft throughout the night, each boy taking his turn at holding a flag. This saved them from mistreatment by the Turks.

"It was an inspiring example of the potency of the Stars and Stripes, when death was threatened.

"The morning found the helpless children prostrate with exhaustion on the stone pier. Two of their number were still bravely holding the American flags. Then, by a miracle, the American steamer Winona came to the harbor and we evacuated the orphans to Piraeus."

KILL CORNS AND WEAR SMALLER SHOES

Home Method Discovered by Chemist Ends Painful Growths.

Many persons are unable to wear the shoes that actually fit them because they are troubled with corns or callouses.

Extra-size foot wear is not necessary, however, after these painful growths have been painted with Cactus Corn Compound. This preparation stops the pain of corns at once and causes them to dry up and soon fall off.

This method of removing corns can be employed at home by any one and is perfectly safe, while cutting is very dangerous. A small bottle of Cactus Corn Compound, costing only a few cents, will remove dozens of corns. Your druggist has it and will refund your money if it does not please you.—[Advertisement.

CITY WINS IN CINEMA CASE

Court Contest on Sunday Closing Act Lost By Exhibitor

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

DES MOINES (Iowa) Sept. 19.—The famous Ames motion-picture case in which Joseph P. Gerbracht, motion-picture proprietor, tested the validity of a local Sunday-closing ordinance passed by the City Council of Ames, was today decided by the Iowa Supreme Court in favor of the city.

WHITTIER FOLK SAFE FROM TURK MENACE

ANXIETY OF RELATIVES AND FRIENDS RELIEVED BY CABLEGRAM

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

WHITTIER, Sept. 19. — The hearts of four Whittier families were gladdened today by the arrival of a cablegram from Miss Jessie Way, assuring her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Way, of the safety of the group of Americans who were formerly at the International College in Smyrna, Turkey.

The cable was from Athens, Greece, and gave the information that Mrs. Cass Arthur Reed, Miss Helen Craig, and Miss Way were with the Women's and Children's Association at Athens, and that Dr. Cass Arthur Reed and Mr. Furnas Trueblood, both of Whittier, were engaged in relief work. The message concluded "We are all well. Leaving for Venice on the 13th."

The gravity of the situation was perhaps augmented for the Americans owing to the fact that Dr. McLachlin, president of the International College at Smyrna, is an Englishman, and Dr. Cass Arthur Reed, although American, is his son-in-law.

DEMAND SYMPATHY WITH PROHIBITION

DRYS IN CONVENTION WANT FRIENDS APPOINTED TO ENFORCE LAW

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SACRAMENTO, Sept. 19.—A demand that sympathy with the prohibition law be the first requisite for the personnel of the force to carry out the provisions of the law and that the enforcement machinery "be not cluttered and clogged with salary grabbers and grafters who desire to see such law nullified" was made by the Prohibition party of California in its platform today.

The platform also urged that appointments to the prohibition enforcement forces be no longer used "as pawns to pay political debts due ward heelers by successful political parties."

Support of the Wright enforcement law was urged while another plank condemned "the camouflaging of the issue by light wine and beer advocates" and declared the definition of ½ of 1 per cent of alcohol in the Volstead law to be identical with that used by revenue and other governmental officers for the last sixty years.

The platform demanded that the President of the United States order the Shipping Board to rescind its ruling making "floating saloons" of American vessels and remove its members if they refused, replacing them with "100 per cent Americans."

AND STILL THEY SAY BOOTLEGGING PAYS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Liquor valued at $15,000,000 was seized by the police from April 1, 1921, to August 31, 1922, Deputy Police Commissioner John A. Leach, in charge of enforcement of the State dry law, announced today. A total of 15,563 arrests were made and 354 liquor laden automobiles were seized, as well as 273,215 bottles or rum; 6203 barrels, 7601 cans, 259 jugs, 626 stills, 4763 jars and 173 demijohns. The commissioner said a large amount of the seized liquor will be destroyed.

FLIGHT OF DIRIGIBLE FROM TEXAS DELAYED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN ANTONIO (Tex.) Sept. 19. The Army dirigible C-2, which arrived at Brooks Feld Sunday on its transcontinental flight from Langley Field, to Ross Field, Cal., has been delayed in its flight to El Paso, but will probably start at 3 a.m. Thursday morning, weather permitting.

Present plans are for the C-2 to cover the distance of more than 600 miles to El Paso in one day, with no stops being made unless it is necessary to land at Marfa for a new supply of hydrogen.

FIRE RAGES UNCHECKED IN FORESTS

Flames in Bouquet and Mint Canyon Spread Over Large Area

More than 400 men yesterday were engaged in fighting the forest fires that are spreading over a wide area near Mint and Bouquet Canyons. Already more than fifty square miles has been burned over. Aside from the supposed loss of summer cabins, many belonging to Los Angeles residents, no loss is reported.

The zone of the fires is northwest of Los Angeles, near Saugus. The fires started about fifteen miles apart, burning in a southwesterly direction. The range in that direction is stocked with cattle, and cowboys have been moving the stock to safety. So far as is known no cows have been lost.

One of the fires is attributed to a visit from an airplane, reports the forester's office. The machine was seen to alight at Sierra Colema, near Vincent, and shortly after the flames started.

Fires in many other parts of the State caused activity of all local and Federal forest services. While the causes of the fires were not determined, the carelessness of campers in most cases was blamed. Forest Supervisor Benedict of the Sierra National Forest, says a dispatch from Fresno, declares he may ask that all campers be prohibited from entering the reservation. At least three homes are believed to have been destroyed near North Folk, say the reports from Fresno. The fires have swept over 20,000 acres between North Folk and the San Joaquin River. Forty dwelling houses are in the district threatened.

There also are fires in the Cleveland Forest in San Diego county, say reports from San Diego.

What does food economy mean to you?

DOESN'T it mean good living at low cost? Foods are "short" in nourishing value and "long" in price are never economical.

The food, Grape-Nuts, is economical to the last spoonful in the package, because every golden-crisp granule contributes to body-building.

Grape-Nuts offers the sturdy nutriment of wheat and malted barley in unusually compact form—a compact food, small amount providing exceptional nourishment. The 2-ounce package contains about 16 servings—costing about one cent each.

Every bit of Grape-Nuts is real food, uniquely free from bulky waste found in many other food products.

Made from whole wheat flour and malted barley, Grape-Nuts has the benefit of 20 hours baking which softens the starch of these grains that easy digestibility and best results.

Eaten with good milk or cream, Grape-Nuts is a complete food, which creates energy without taking away energy. And the gradual, daily accumulation of power is the great secret of all food economies, since reserve energy is what counts most, either in the sudden emergency or the long grind.

A food for economy—a food for health!

And a food with a charm of flavor all its own.

NEW DEPOSIT RECORD

Expanding Business, New Banks and Mergers Send Local Total Above $600,000,000

There is now a total of approximately $600,000,000 deposited in Los Angeles banking institutions. This figure represents the highest level to which bank deposits have ever climbed in the history of the city and furnishes striking statistical proof of local financial strength and prosperity.

Credit for the major portion of this tremendous gain belongs to the State banks of this city, which reported yesterday to Superintendent of Banks Jonathan S. Dodge in response to his call for condition as of September 15. Their reports showed that, due to generally expanding business, the installation of new banks and one State-wide merger, deposits increased 14 per cent since June 30 and 40 per cent over the call of Sept. 6, 1921. Deposits in the State banks now stand at $417,626,400.21.

Proportionately large gains were scored by the loans and investments and available cash items. Loans and investments of the local State banks are now $363,482,174.20, compared to $312,785,820.52 on June 30 and $266,199,096.80 a year ago. Available cash has increased from $63,859,127.21 to $70,801,544.18 since the June 30 call. On Sept. 6, 1921, this item was only $53,663,319.28.

Interesting changes feature the comparative table given below. The Los Angeles Trust and Savings Bank has changed its name to the Pacific Southwest Trust and Savings Bank and in doing so has effected a gigantic merger which brought in many outlying banks, thereby greatly increasing its total in the various items. Two banks that formerly figured as independent units in the table—the Hollywood Savings Bank and the Highland Park Bank—have now been merged with larger Los Angeles institutions. Three new banks also appear in the list and a fourth, the Highland-Avenue Savings Bank, also would have appeared if its figures had been obtainable last night. This omission causes the various totals to be slightly smaller than is actually the case.

DAILY TRADE TALK

Investment Bankers Are to Be Shown; Day in Review; Big Notes; Observations

BY CHAPIN HALL

When members of the Investment Bankers' Association of America reach California October 3, on five special trains, en route to the eleventh annual convention to be held at Del Monte, their California hosts will not only be on hand to welcome them to the State, but they will be ready to show California to the visitors. On a carefully planned itinerary of side trips from Sacramento, Fresno, Los Angeles, Santa Barbara, Del Monte, and San Francisco, they will see a panorama of California mountain, valley and ocean rim, a true cross-section of the best development of the State's natural resources.

Primarily the trip has been planned by the California convention committee to give the men who handle annually a billion and a half dollars in investment securities an opportunity to see and study the accomplishments of large capital enterprises which the sale of bond issues has made possible.

At Fresno it will be hydro-electric and irrigation development, raisin vineyards and orchards; at Santa Barbara recreation opportunities, with a breath of eighteenth century atmosphere; at Sacramento, the State Capitol, with its background of 600 varieties of trees, the gold dredgers, the river gardens, and Sutter's Fort; at Los Angeles, the western metropolis, movieland, the ocean beaches, the country clubs, and the orange groves; at Del Monte, on the historic Monterey peninsula, new glimpses into California's past, the seventeen-mile drive, while at San Francisco there will be a glimpse of the sights that have given the seven-hilled city its cosmopolitan charm.

Altogether the members of the California group of the organization propose to give the distinguished visitors a picture of California's wonderland and a first-hand insight into the State's potentialities for development that will be reflected in an even wider market for California's sound investment securities than that they now command.

DAY IN REVIEW

Interest yesterday continued to center upon the European situation. Next came the President's veto of the bonus bill.

In Los Angeles the remarkable showing made by the national banks in response to a condition call, analyzed and tabulated in The Times' financial section yesterday, was the occasion for considerable comment. This is followed today by an equally optimistic showing by the State banks. The development and growth of Los Angeles banks during the summer period, when business is supposed to be quiet and funds withdrawn, is a circumstance which points with unerring accuracy to our stable economic condition, and the activity of the security and investment markets.

William Jennings Bryan, in an address at the City Club yesterday afternoon advocated the remission of the $11,000,000,000 European debt owing the United States providing such action could be turned to account in bringing the nations of the world into harmonious agreement. Thus we would "turn a worthless debt into a priceless boon," said the Commoner, who views the foreign situation with considerable alarm, and bears down heavily upon the responsibility of this country.

The daily German note output is to be increased from 3,000,000,000 to 7,000,000,000 marks on October 15. Circulation in 1922 has already been increased by 140,000,000,000 marks and accelerated output will add a further 700,000,000,000 by the end of the year making a total note circulation at that time of 950,000,000,000. This sort of financing is coming to a point where it is limited only by the ability of the cipher key on the typewriter to stand the abuse, but is taken in local financial circles to indicate the beginning of the end, the end, of course, being repudiation and financial chaos. In spite of the enormous output a money scarcity still exists and difficulty in meeting pay rolls is experienced.

BIG NOTES

What is the largest bank note you have ever seen? That is, the note having the largest denomination?

Germany proposes to print notes of 500,000 marks. This will be a record and will interest collectors.

It is said that Russia has a 1,000,000-ruble note, but it has not reached the hands of anyone in

THEORISTS AGHAST AT WAR HAVOC

European Chaos May Have Depressing Mental Effect on Business Here

BY C. B. EVANS
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
[Copyright, 1922, Public Ledger.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Since the British, French and other peoples in Europe do not know how to interpret the present chaos there, or what to do about it, it can hardly be expected that Americans will have much more than an academic thought on the subject.

On the street one meets men who are staring with surprise that Europe can be so wicked after good men have told the Europeans what they should do and what they should not do. The idealist is chop-fallen, that after the theories of human progress have been so beautifully elaborated there can be so much devilry in the world. Adoption of his theories would have prevented all this slaughter and destruction of valuable human belongings by fire. He still sticks to his old notions, which by some slight inadvertence have left out of account the savagery of human nature and the history of man written in blood. "There never will be another great war," said he after the war of 1914, indeed, before the war of 1914. It is inconceivable to him that Great Britain, a member of the League of Nations, should make war upon a power that has given her no provocation and that without conference with any of her associates in that body.

PSYCHOLOGY OF WAR

The new war, whether great or small, will have its effect in the United States if only through mental depression, impatience over too much of a bad thing and apprehension of "what next." Those cheerful souls who heretofore have loaned large sums to European governments will probably still consider applications, indeed are now so doing, and that is the really remarkable thing in the business attitude, but doubtless it will be checked in due time by a default.

Those who are assuming the attitude of indifference are largely the same ones who in past years have talked so eloquently about opportunities in other parts of the world for American capital and profit. They were right on the theory of peace throughout the nations but are we, 6 per cent of the world, to prosper against the adversities of 94 per cent?

Under present conditions we shall probably sell some copper other than that used for ordinary industrial purposes and possibly additional cotton, at least enough to plug the ears of Europe against the sound of artillery and the cries of the tortured, but the normal trade will be chilled.

Naturally we shall react to our own industries, if those disturbances continue, and there is no real reason why the anticipated large volume of business should not be realized. We have great needs at home and provision for those needs will require the use of large amounts of capital and labor. That in itself is enough for the time being but in the long view there are so many certainties of trouble in a world which was to have no more war that we can look upon present conditions only with moderate expectations and know that it will take generations to sweep away the clouds now overhanging Europe.

THE COUNTRY OVER

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

ATLANTA (Ga.) Sept. 19.—Election week in Georgia did not curtail the volume of wholesale and retail business, which is showing the results of a steady increase. The stimulus of cotton sales is responsible for this, especially as the planters have not been withholding their product from market as they have done in the past. Although the ill effects of the shopmen's strike was felt only indirectly in this territory business has responded to the psychological effect of the Chicago settlement. For the first time in four years, wholesale and retail buyers of this district are making a second seasonal trip to eastern and northern markets.

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 19.—The large retail establishments here are ushering in the autumn with wonderful bargain sales in full confidence that commerce is on a permanently prosperous basis. Goods and prices are both alluring and buying is heavy. Smaller stores have caught the significance of this and also are joining the bargain offerings. Wearing apparel is selling best, but household goods and equipment also are doing excellently, and all lines of retail business are improving in cities, towns and rural districts. There is a decided shortage of labor in manufacturing plants.

WAR MARKET HAS SHORT ACTIVITY

Indisposition Caused by Blue Monday Rather Than Too Much Turkey

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—So far as today's movement of prices was evidence, the "war market" of yesterday was as brief a demonstration as was that of the various other unsettled Mondays of the summer time. Whether this singular series of faint-hearted markets to begin a week is to be explained by the effect on financial nerves of ruminating on the dispatches in the Sunday newspapers, or whether professional speculators for the decline selected the first business day by way of testing the possibilities of an unsettled week, it might be difficult to say. Today's matter-of-fact recovery in the stock market, the bond market and in foreign exchange was no response to a change in the character of the news; it merely seemed to indicate, as did the similar prompt recovery from each previous day of declining prices, that financial judgment had considered the situation and refused to take alarm. Whether the negotiations with Turkey will now proceed calmly and uneventfully, remains to be seen; in the light of experience, it is not improbable.

Today's recovery in foreign exchange, which was in some ways the more interesting movement, carried sterling back to Saturday's figure and francs to the highest closing rate in a week. Even Berlin held steady at a fair advance from its recent low point. Probably the exchange market has been affected quite as much by the removal of the latest impediment placed by Germany in the way of meeting contracted liabilities, as it was by any change in the Turkish situation.

Prices on the stock exchange did not regain all of yesterday's losses, but the upward reaction was sufficiently emphatic and the entire market shared in it. The character of the day's market indicated plainly the extent to which the source of Monday's selling was speculative. Some of the foreign securities joined in today's recovery on the market for investment bonds, but neither the French nor the United Kingdom bonds made any appreciable gain.

Water Company Bonds

Water Company Bonds are dependable investments because the business of supplying water to stable communities is about the most dependable of all business activities.

The very nature of the business is such that the operating expenses do not fluctuate widely. The principal element in the cost of supplying water is the investment in property for impounding and distributing.

The demand for water is as stable as the increase in population. There are no substitutes. Salesmen are unnecessary. Advertising is not required to increase demand. Competition is scarcely possible and never practicable.

The cost of doing business is exceedingly uniform. Human labor is reduced to a minimum and the raw materials are costless.

These reasons are good reasons why Water Company Bonds are good bonds in which to invest your funds. This is why Water Company Bonds are dependable investments.

Reference is made to a letter from Mr. Walter Arnstein, President of the Company, from which we summarize as follows:

The properties of the San Francisco-Sacramento Railroad consist of a modern electric passenger and freight railroad of about 100 miles of main and branch lines extending from Oakland to Sacramento, the Capital of California, forming a link between the populous Bay Section of the State with the Capital of the State and the Sacramento and San Joaquin Valleys. Through trains are operated over the Key Route tracks in Oakland, connecting directly with ferries to and from San Francisco.

The territory served, including San Francisco and the Bay Cities, is one of the most important in the State of California, having a population estimated to exceed 1,000,000 people. Various manufacturing industries, including cement plants, petroleum refineries, lumber and cotton mills and shipbuilding yards, are served by the Company. Deciduous fruits, grains, vegetables and hay are the principal agricultural products produced in the Company's territory.

The property is well maintained and the equipment is ample and of standard modern construction. The entire main line is protected by a block signal system of high-class construction.

Power is furnished to the Company under advantageous contract by the Great Western Power Company.

These First Mortgage six per cent bonds together with $756,000 six per cent bonds previously issued under the same Mortgage are in opinion of Counsel, a first and only mortgage on all property of the Company. More than $8,000,000 has actually been expended in construction and acquisition of the property.

Net earnings available to pay interest on all outstanding bonds of the Company, including this issue, have averaged during the past five years $236,385.76 per annum, or over four times interest requirements on all bonds outstanding.

NEW YORK STOCK EXCHANGE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Prices in today's stock market recovered substantially from yesterday's severe setback, confirming the impression that the decline was brought by the technical condition of the market. Today's upturn was accomplished on a reduced volume of business.

Railroad shares as a group gave the most conspicuous exhibition of strength, such representative shares as Union Pacific and New York Central opening at substantial gains and offering stubborn resistance to selling pressure. Rock Island, New Orleans, Texas and Mexico, Illinois Central preferred, Louisville and Nashville and Canadian Pacific also gave a good account of themselves.

Stocks, such as Mexican Petroleum, Baldwin and Marine preferred, which were subjected to the heaviest attacks of short interests, made the best individual gains today. Mexican Petroleum moved within a radius of nearly six points, closed at a net gain of 2 1-4, with slightly smaller gains being registered by the Pan-American issues. Mexican Seaboard, Royal Dutch and the Standard oils of California and New Jersey. Cosden was quite active at steadily rising prices, the directors announcing an increase from 62½ cents to $1 in the quarterly dividend just before the market closed.

Metal shares were quite active, pool operations being manifest in some of the popular issues. South American coppers such as Chile and Cerro de Pasco moved higher than some of the domestic issues. Butte and Superior was pushed up more than 2 points and American Zinc nearly a point, in response to improved conditions in the zinc industry. An increase in foreign orders was partly responsible for the more extensive demand for the metal issues.

Speculative belief that Lackawanna steel was selling below parity with Bethlehem issues under the merger plans was held responsible for the activity of that stock, which registered a substantial fractional gain. United States Steel common touched 1.04 3-8 for a net gain of 1 1-8, some of the buying being based on reports of increased prices by the corporation's subsidiaries.

Adams Express rose in rather spirited fashion in response to unconfirmed reports that dividend resumption was likely this fall. Burns Brothers A and B stocks also were active in possible expectation of increased earnings with a resumption of hard coal mining.

Public utility shares also were in good demand, some of the leaders including Consolidated Gas, North American, People's Gas and Laclede Gas, all at gains of a point or more. Total sales $75,000 shares.

Government withdrawal of $24,000,000 in funds from banks in this district was believed to be responsible for the increase in call money rates, which opened at four, advanced to 4¼ shortly after noon and to five an hour later, that rate holding to the close. Time money rates were inclined to ease rather dull trading.

The commercial paper market was quiet.

Substantial improvement was noted in foreign exchange rates, local banks directing most of the trading. Demand sterling bills rose 1 1-4 cents to $4.42 1-4 and advances of two to six points took place in the continental rates.

Little trading took place here in Greek exchange but in London the drachma fell two cents, as compared with the consortium rate of 3.23.

Barrington Says—

Ninety-five per cent of the people don't think—at least till some hard fact hits them a jolt and awakens them to a realization they have a brain whose business it is to function for their benefit.

Suppose about five years ago you had placed $500 for "safety's sake" in a savings fund at 4%. What would it be worth today? Just $250, that is all. This surprises you a little doesn't it? But it is true just the same. Why? Because the purchasing power of the dollar has decreased 50% in the last five years. I don't need to prove this. You all know it is true. Therefore you simply MUST keep your dollar up-to-date and producing more than simple interest, and invested in some security that will not depreciate.

Dollars as dollars amount to nothing; they have little intrinsic value. They are the tools of opportunity, that is all. What is the use of having tools if you do not use them?

Apprentice them out—to a safe master.

We handle your dollar as only a financial institution can, with SAFETY.

We buy and sell mortgages, trust deeds and other financial securities and at every turn make a profit, and we aim to make several turns a year. All well managed financial institutions do. That is why financial institutions grow so wealthy.

Inquire of us—what we have to offer and who we are

"Who Ever Made Any Money In Oil?"

You Have Heard that Question Asked My Answer is, "A World of People"

Perhaps you have not made any, perhaps I have not made any, but the reason was because we used bad judgment on the go-in, or trusted some one who was not worthy of our confidence.

Folks, there has been a dozen or more times in my life, had I had the backing, that I could have taken several million dollars out of the ground in liquid gold. But what a "fat chance" I had, working for ten or twelve dollars a day in a drilling rig.

And you? You probably bought oil stock, units or some other line of "Gush."

Listen to me. It can't be made that way. There are too many to juggle the profits.

There is only one way to make real money in oil, and that is, get the production, sell it and take yours right then.
That is what I am offering you—

A part of every barrel of oil that these two wells I am drilling ever produce. And only calling for sufficient money to successfully carry out the operation.

Regardless of the fact that I have the best-looking piece of oil land in the world today.

Regardless of the fact that the odds are great, that it will pay at least a thousand for every hundred invested, and likely three times that much, "unless you step up and support me, I'm a gone 'Gosling.'"

Here it is. Look it over and show me where it is not a wonderful bet.
"A $30,000 6-acre lease."
"2 wells to be drilled right now."
"The first one about ready to go."
"60% of all production to you."
"28% Royalty to the land owner."
"12% to me."
"Your 60% divided into 3500 equal parts at $100 each."
"Yours assigned direct to you."

A leading bank acting as trustee to collect direct from the pipe line company and pay you yours every 30 days.

If you never took a chance before, shoot a little with me now. You won't be disappointed.

Mail in your check to me today, or run in and meet me.

DOLLAR CURRENCY MAY REPLACE MARK

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

DANZIG, Sept. 19.—The question of introducing dollar currency has become a lie issue for the free state owing to the extreme instability of the German mark, which has been the legal standard in Danzig enterprises including the airplane routes radiating from Danzig to Russia, Poland and the Baltic states.

Germany has already gone on a dollar basis and the wild fluctuations of German and Polish marks are forcing the business world to consider its general introduction and to make representations to that end to the League of Nations, Danzig's suzerain. But that action has the strongest opposition in Danzig, owing to its pro-German leaning and the insecurity of Polish currency.

DAILY TRADE TALK GIVEN

this country and amounts to little except as a curious bit of printing.

The poorer the nation the higher the denomination of its notes.

In the United States currency is used less than in any other country and the check more.

A few $10,000 notes have been printed. There is also a $10,000 gold certificate issued by the Federal reserve bank and used in paying for gold bars purchased by the bank and added to the metal reserve.

The largest note the public sees is that for $1000, and comparatively few of these are in circulation. There are more $500 notes, but the bulk of the currency business in this country is accomplished through the medium of $1, $2, $5, $10, $20, $50 and $100 bills.

JOY UNRESTRAINED

The Mutual Betterment Society of the Citizens' National Bank, consisting of 200 members, was host last evening to the managers and department heads and other employees. Following a dinner in the bank dining-rooms there was a program and a number of interesting short addresses. The speakers included A. J. Waters, president of the bank, W. J. Doran, vice-president, and H. D. Ivey, cashier. C. D. Hudson, manager of the Foreign exchange department, put on a radio number, and Harry Carr, of The Times was given poetic license in a discussion of "Experiences."

OBSERVATIONS

The Pennsylvania Railroad spent more money in 1921 for stationery than it did for rails.

Application is made for a charter for the Women's State Bank of Philadelphia. This will be the second woman's banking institution organized in that city this year.

The moderation of the weather had a salutary effect upon the retail trade yesterday, but it will take a few genuine fall days to start new goods moving briskly.

Shoe buying is active, but unevenly distributed. High shoes are naturally moving with seasonal inspiration.

Daylight saving in New York will end at 2 a.m. next Sunday, when the sun will resume business for the winter at the old stand. The savings plan has been a source of continual annoyance, and it is doubtful if the experiment will be repeated.

More than 800 new corporations, each being capitalized at $100,000 or more, were formed last month with a total capitalization of about $650,000,000.

The National Industrial Conference Board says that $3,000,000,000 of contracts have been awarded for residential building, and that housing quarters sufficient to provide for 1,000,000 families will be available by the end of the year.

The warm weather has been favorable for growing crops. Grazing crops in the valleys are about dried up, but there is plenty of feed in the mountain ranges and hay is plentiful.

Melon growers in the Imperial Valley report a considerable loss on the crop. Overproduction and a glutted market is held responsible rather than strike conditions.

Performing a Public Service

THE HEAD of one of America's leading bond houses, who deal only in high grade investments, recently wrote us:

"Your institution is performing a great public service by aiding investors to pick and choose between high grade investments and dangerous speculations. This country is honeycombed with get-rich-quick promoters and sellers of doubtful and fraudulent bonds and stocks. But more and more are they running up against Moody's ratings and service, and thus finding it increasingly difficult to peddle their wares. More power to your arm!"

Write us today for full information about the service we are performing for many thousand investors

ARE-BEE OIL

New Equipment and Master Drillers

This combination will drive FOUR WELLS into the sand of Are-Bee's TEN rich acres at Santa Fe Springs. We are not yet drilling, but we're rushing installation of the finest equipment obtainable. The derrick is up—boilers are bricked in—the sump hole is ready—water and steam lines are laid. We have ordered NEW machinery. We'll spud in as quickly as it can be put into place.

If you act NOW you can still participate in Are-Bee's offer of Ten Acres—Four Wells—70% of all the oil—ALL the syndicate's First Profits—at $100 per unit.

Visit the oil fields and have luncheon as our guest any day. Are-Bee busses leave Sixth Street between Hill and Olive every morning at 10:45.

Write or call for detailed map of Santa Fe Springs. It gives official figures on production and development to date.

The Modern Magic Carpet

LARGE cities today could not exist without adequate transportation. If it were not for the trolley lines, the elevated roads and the subways, it would be impossible to bring the thousands, and in some cases millions, of people to their places of business in the morning and home again at night. The magic carpet of the Arabian Nights' tale which carried one person from place to place is more than matched by modern electric transportation, which carries millions.

The great distances you can travel on these local transportation lines for a single fare, seem more or less commonplace to us. But the average Englishman or other foreigner would probably find it hard to believe that you can ride 33 miles in Chicago for a single fare of less than 10 cents. He probably also would question the fact that over 2,000,000 cash fares are paid every day on the surface lines alone, in Chicago. It is estimated that over 37,000,000 passengers daily use the various local electric transportation lines in this country.

Because of the great and growing need for electric transportation and its almost universal use, the properly safeguarded bonds of well-managed electric lines, when passed upon by a responsible banking house, offer attractive opportunities to the careful investor.

Bonds for Safe Investment—In common with all business institutions, the Harris Trust & Savings Bank is harmed directly or indirectly by unwise speculation and "wildcat" promotions. In a series of advertisements of which this is the Tenth, we are trying to picture to the public, out of an experience of 40 years, what we have found to be safe investments.

SILVER!

The Investment Aristocrat

Aside from the extraordinary favor of its statistical position—the world-wide supply and demand—the silver industry in this country is basking in the cheering sunlight of Uncle Sam's statutory favor through enactment of the Pittman law, with its price guarantee. The great oil industry is crippled and almost as never before through over-production and consequent ruthless cuts in the price of crude at the well. Coal is in the throes of recovery from a disastrous strike.

Silver, bruised, halt, lame with the reaction that followed the great post-war depression, is limping with slow steps back to normalcy. With more than one-half of the world's gold supply in our vaults and with high-priced machinery and labor, gold, with its fixed-price standard of years ago, is subject to the whims of every passing industrial and financial disturbance.

SILVER—prosperous, head up, eye to the Sun, occupies the throne in our family of great natural resources. It sits safely under the spreading wings of the great American Eagle. Its price is stamped with the image of the Goddess of Liberty and the superscription of the United States of America! Pampered and petted, this every civilized country on the globe is bidding for its favor. SILVER is truly the aristocrat of natural resources and, therefore, of the investment world.

RANDSBURG!

Here is a name to conjure with. Here is located — right here in California—the world's greatest silver mine discovered in 20 years. Shaft after shaft is being sunk, while strike after strike is being made. A druggist at Bakersfield is said to be getting $15,000.00 a month; an editor the same. All from small investments. Our current market letter tells the whole amazing story of Randsburg together with a map of the district. Write for yours. IT'S FREE! Write today. Time, tide and big opportunities wait on no man. Reverse Trend in Grain Mart; Prices Lower

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—Political news from abroad was not of a character to induce any material buying of wheat and the market reversed its action of the previous day and closed with net losses of 1⅛ to 1⅜ cents. Corn was unsettled and ¼ cent higher to ¼ cent lower and later on May. Oats finished unchanged to ¼ cent lower and rye off ⅛ to 1¼.

Foreigners failed to enthuse over the war scare and Liverpool closed ½d higher to ½d lower, practically ignoring the upturn in America the previous day. No export demand of consequence developed despite the decline in futures during the day and aggregate sales were small. At the same time local traders were not disposed to press the selling side freely and on the break to $1.04 for December and again at $1.03¼ there was good buying on resting orders.

Winnipeg which led the advance the previous day, showed more weakness than other markets, dropping 2¼ to 3 cents, October leading, and the bulk of the loss from the Canadian Northwest was of a depressing character. Weather conditions there were favorable and country deliveries were estimated at 2,500,000 bushels per day. Premiums on hard winters here were 4½ cents lower and at Winnipeg ¾ cent lower.

A sale of 2000 bushels of cash corn made to go to store for delivery on September contracts resulted in many of the local traders going short on the deferred deliveries, only to find that offerings were limited when they tried to cover. This made the close within a fraction of the top. There was an active demand for cash corn from exporters and the report that a plan had been arranged whereby grain could be moved from Buffalo had some effect on sentiment. Country offerings were not large and demand in the sample market fair. Local arrivals were 245 cars.

September oats broke 1¼ cents under the close of the previous day to 37 cents on scattered selling early, only to recover the loss toward the last on a renewal of short covering. Deferred deliveries were easier with other grains early. Cash demand was fair and the basis in the sample market slightly firmer as compared with the futures. Receipts were 45 cars.

No export business of consequence was in evidence in rye and with northwestern pressure a decline was easily attained. The best buying was by houses with seaboard connections. The two northwestern markets had 215 cars.

COTTON EASES OFF UNDER PRESSURE

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—Breaking under late selling, cotton today eased off after an early rise of 20 to 28 points and closed 11 to 18 points lower than the high market. The day's net advance ranged from 19 to 24 points, due chiefly to buying by Liverpool interests, the trade and Wall street.

The early rise was attributed to renewed confidence that the Turkish situation was not as critical as had been pictured and the strong advanced cables. Firmness of cloth prices and lack of any decided improvement in the weather were also attributed as factors in the early rise. The decline was the result of late southern selling pressure.

Spot was quiet, 15 points advance, 21.85 cents for middling upland.

Southern spot market, Galveston, 20.90c, 15 points advance; New Orleans, 20.75c, 25 points advance; Savannah, 21c, 13 points advance; Augusta, 21.13c, 13 points advance; Memphis, 21c, unchanged; Houston, 20.85c, 25 points advance; Little Rock, 20.75c, unchanged.

PRODUCE MARKET

Trading yesterday continued fairly active, and practically no price changes were noted. Bellefleur apples are yet rather green and trade is showing preference for other varieties. The grape market is slightly stronger on account of reports of damage by the hot weather, but no change has been made in prices. Fancy northern potatoes are scarce and selling well, while poor stock is a drug on the market.

Many pears are arriving overripe, and selling at a discount, but best, firm stock is unchanged at 5 cents.

DAILY MARKET REPORT

These are the actual prices obtained yesterday by Los Angeles wholesalers from their sales to retailers, peddlers, hotels, restaurants, cafeterias, etc., as compiled by the United States Bureau of Markets. Terms—Cash on the walk:

FOREIGN STOCKS UP AFTER QUICK SLUMP

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONDON, Sept. 19.—The stock exchange rebounded sharply this morning, the Near East outlook being received as more hopeful and as a result a considerable proportion of yesterday's losses were regained. Business, however, was restricted by arrangements for the general carry-over. British funds on the gilt-edge market showed overnight recovery, but price changes were not material. The foreign bond market was steadier and chiefly noted for improvement in French bonds with the franc. The home rail market displayed ability to recover and dollar rails weakened. Canadian Pacific falling 2 points, but foreign rails generally were better. In the industrial market leaders mostly were firmer, but iron and steel and engineering shares were inclined to be dull. Continental favorites were supported in the oil market and prices rallied. Mexican Eagle 3 5-16, Shells 4 9-16, Royal Dutch 39 1-2. African minings were much more confident and sharp bidding raised prices to a higher level. American issues for the most part were neglected.

Conditions remained rather comfortable for loanable credit in Lombard street. Borrowers were able to get overnight money at 1½ per cent, fixtures being renewed at the same price. Bar silver rose to 35½ and 35⅝ for spot and forward delivery on China buying. Foreign exchange, New York, 4.41⅝ to 4.41¾, Paris 58.30 to 58.35, Berlin 6000 to 6600.

DECREASE SHOWN IN RETAIL FOOD COSTS

[BY A. P. DAY WIRE.]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 19.—The retail cost of food to the average family in the United States decreased 2 per cent in the month ending August 15, according to figures made public today by the bureau of labor statistics of the Department of Labor, based on reports from fifty-one cities. Nineteen cities showed a decrease of 1 per cent or less, while Butte and Seattle showed increases of less than ½ of 1 per cent.

What Californian Can Pay!

—as proved by the Foster dividend record

You Know where CALIFORNIAN DRILLS—

In Santa Fe Springs—home of the $2,000,000 Bell well—home of the $6000 a day General Petroleum No. 91—home of the Foix, the Hepler and a dozen other million makers. In Signal Hill—where gushes the $200,000 a month City Jergins well—the 2300-barrel Calmont—the 2400-barrel Fifty-Fifty—the 2000-barrel Goddard—the 2200-barrel Cresson and more than fifty wells pouring out each day over 1000 barrels of high-grade petroleum.

You know the acreage CALIFORNIAN has—

Two highly proven Signal Hill leases, two rich Santa Fe Springs leases, 44 acres at Athens-on-the-Hill.

You know who is behind CALIFORNIAN—

The Fosters—men who produce oil—men who have drilled and completed more than 20 deep oil wells in the past year. Men who have made good half a dozen times already.

You would like to know—

What Californian will pay each investor every 30 days.
That is a question that can be answered only with an estimate, but—

Here is what CALIFORNIAN will pay, judged by—

1. The Foster dividend record
2. The fact that CALIFORNIAN is practically certain to get two 2000-barrel wells on Signal Hill.
3. CALIFORNIAN will drill only proven acreage in high production areas — areas practically assured of 1000, 2000, 3000 and 4000-barrel wells.

THE FOSTER DIVIDEND RECORD!

FOSTERS' OPTIMO

—syndicate has paid TEN MONTHLY DIVIDENDS at the average rate of 72% per year.

Had OPTIMO two 2000-barrel wells, such as CALIFORNIAN is virtually assured of on Signal Hill alone, she would have paid at the yearly rate of $1825 on each $100 invested.

FOSTERS' TEXAN

—syndicate has paid NINE MONTHLY DIVIDENDS at the rate of 65% per year.

Had Texan two 2000-barrel wells such as CALIFORNIAN anticipates on SIGNAL HILL alone, she would have paid at the yearly rate of $851 on each $100 invested.

FOSTERS' TEXANA

—syndicate has paid SEVEN MONTHLY DIVIDENDS at the average rate of 42% a year.

Had Texana two 2000-barrel wells such as CALIFORNIAN is practically assured of on Signal Hill alone, she would have also paid at the yearly rate of $851 on each $100 invested.

FOSTERS' ME-HAY-AH

—syndicate, with only one producing well, paid its first dividend on August 30, at the yearly rate of 13%.

Had Me-hay-ah brought in two 2000-barrel wells such as CALIFORNIAN can easily get on Signal Hill alone she would have paid at the yearly rate of $511 on each $100 invested.

FOSTERS' MEXIAN

—syndicate, with two wells drilling and a third starting, paid, its third dividend August 25. This dividend was at the yearly rate of 63%.

Had Mexian two 2000-barrel wells she would have paid at the yearly rate of $255 on each $100 invested.

FOSTERS' OTEXA

—syndicate's first two wells are making good speed. No. 1 has passed the 3000-foot mark and should be completed and paying dividends within 30 days.

If Otexa gets two 2000-barrel wells she will pay at the yearly rate of $511 on each $100 invested.

Each CALIFORNIAN unit represents actual oil ownership. They are non-assessable forever and share in every CALIFORNIAN well on every CALIFORNIAN lease.

Californian units are $100 each. While they last they can be purchased either direct by mail or at any of our offices at that price.

WOULD OPPOSE BOOTLEGGERS

Episcopalian Seeks Church Aid in Fight

Raffling and Gambling Are Also Opposed

Bishops Have Adopted New Coat of Arms

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PORTLAND (Or.) Sept. 19.—The prohibition question was injected into the general convention of the Protestant Episcopal Church today. Deploring the growing tendency to ignore the prohibition laws a resolution was presented to the House of Deputies by Rev. G. F. Weld of Los Angeles on behalf of the province of the Pacific. The resolution which Rev. Weld asked to be referred to the social service committee asked that the church use its influence for the proper enforcement of the law.

Protest against the action of authorities in suppressing meetings held for the discussion of "social justice" and the declaration that the House of Deputies demanded freedom of speech in public gatherings and in the pulpit are made in another resolution introduced by Rev. G. F. Weld, which he also asked be referred to the social service committee.

Raffles, gambling and gambling devices are repugnant to God's law and should not be tolerated in the church, according to a resolution adopted today by the House. The resolution as adopted was a modification of one proposed by the social service department of the diocese of California.

Opposition to legislation which would put church schools out of business was declared in a resolution adopted today by the House of Deputies. The resolution, offered by the Rev. Dr. A. B. Kinsolving of Baltimore, declared that while the church recognized the importance of the public schools and the necessity of using the English language, it regarded the church schools as indispensable and deprecated all efforts in nation and in the States directed against religious schools.

A resolution declaring sympathy for the families of miners who lost their lives in the Argonaut mine and expressing the hope that provisions be made so that workers in the future may not be subjected to similar dangers, was introduced in the House of Deputies today by Rev. J. T. MacGovern of Vallejo, Cal. It was referred to the committee on social service. Prayers of sympathy for the families of the dead miners were said at noon.

The House of Bishops today adopted a coat of arms for the church to be used on all stationery and official documents. A flag with a red cross on a white field was also approved by the bishops. The design on the coat of arms shows on a silver field a plain cross in red surrounded by a border in blue charged with stars in silver, all surmounted by a mitre.

UNWRITTEN LAW SAYS HUSBAND

Huntington Park Officer Shoots Fireman

Victim is Believed Fatally Wounded

Deputy City Marshal Says Wife Confessed

Deputy City Marshal Arthur Farrell of Huntington Park early this afternoon shot and probably fatally wounded Harry Flemming, a city fireman, after the peace officer had accused Fleming having assaulted Mrs. Farrell. The first shot was fired by Farrell in Justice of the Peace Cassidy's private office just a few feet from the police courtroom. The other two shots in the courtroom which which Fleming attempted to escape.

In the midst of the courtroom battle in front of the Huntington Park firehouse Fleming fell with a bullet in his chest and another in his left arm. Farrell surrendered to Huntington Park officers and was at once taken to the County Jail here. Fleming was removed to the Huntington Park Hospital, where surgeons stated that he had a chance for recovery.

SHE WAS WRONGED

Part of the story of the shooting was learned by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Smith, who, with Deputy Sheriff Jones and Allen was prosecuting Farrell in Justice Cassidy's office when the shots were fired. In addition to Heinecke, Farrell told his chief that he shot Fleming because of what he did to Mrs. Farrell. He stated that the affair took place in a house in Belvedere on Sept. 6.

"My wife confessed to me at once," declared Farrell, according to Heinecke. "She told me Fleming had wronged her. The story out of her after I had questioned her for days. Then I went out to look for him. I found him in the courtroom and ordered him to join me in the judge's chambers. When he had I ordered him to sign the confession I had prepared in which the facts were set forth. He signed and refused to sign. I got him. My only regret is that he is not dead."

FLEMING DENIES CHARGE

Fleming's detailed statement Farrell says that on the day of the shooting he had agreed to meet Farrell in Belvedere. Farrell went with Fleming to show him the location of the property. She returned to the city at night, according to Farrell, and was crying. Farrell says he suspected something was wrong but his wife refused to make a statement. Not understanding, he said, Mrs. Farrell would not confide in her husband in the matter with her husband's consent, could be secured from Farrell after the shooting. Fleming attending her while she was very sick and was allowed to remain quiet. Then, from a cot in the hospital, Fleming denied the charges made by Farrell. He stated that he followed Farrell into the justice's office without any knowledge that he was coming. When Farrell showed his written statement, Fleming said he was astonished and refused to sign. Then the shooting came.

ACCUSED OF BURNING INSURED PROPERTY

Charged with burning his property at 2117 Bayes street, Van Nuys, while taking out insurance policies covering fire-risk companies, Ralph Richards was arrested by Deputy Sheriff A. Nelson this morning. He was arraigned before Justice Cassidy this afternoon on August 23, and his bail fixed at $2500 and his preliminary hearing on the charge set for September 28.

INSANITY TO BE PLEA OF CHORUS GIRL

Public Defender, Who Will Handle Case for Phillips Woman, Tells Aims

A plea of insanity for Mrs. Clara Phillips, chorus girl who is charged with slaying Mrs. Alberta Meadows with a hammer, was intimated definitely for the first time yesterday by her recently acquired counsel, Public Defender Aggeler. Mr. Aggeler admitted that Attorney S. W. Thompson, one of the lawyers dismissed by Mrs. Phillips had called upon him earlier in the day. Mr. Thompson told the Public Defender that his law partner, A. F. MacDonald, was returning to Los Angeles from New Orleans and was scheduled to stop at Houston for a few days.

"Mr. Thompson told me Mr. MacDonald had wired he would gladly gather defense information for Mrs. Phillips in Texas during his visit there if I was willing for him to do so," said Mr. Aggeler. "I have taken no action yet regarding Mr. MacDonald's kindly offer."

Several weeks ago, A. L. Phillips, the accused woman's husband, went to Texas to raise funds and to obtain depositions supporting Mrs. Phillips's proposed insanity plea. His trip was not successful, at least, as far as the funds were concerned.

"Will you make a trip to Texas to obtain depositions?" Mr. Aggeler was asked.

"That will be unnecessary," Mr. Aggeler replied. "Deposition in distant cities may be procured without my presence."

"Do you intend to have any depositions taken in Texas?"

"Yes, I am contemplating it, but I cannot state at present what the nature of these depositions will be."

Isaac Milbank Will Filed in Probate Court

The will of the late Isaac Milbank, director of the Guaranty Trust and Savings Bank and president of the Country Club, bequeathing property approximately valued at $1,000,000, was admitted to probate in Judge Rives's court yesterday.

Declaring that it was community property and that his wife, Virginia L. Milbank, "for whose future welfare and comfort I have the greatest solicitude," will receive half of it, the will provides bequests as follows:

Nichols Milbank, vice-president of the Country Club, a brother, $50,000; Lee Borden Milbank, a son, $10,000; Lyman R. McFie, a son-in-law, $10,000; Inez Warburton, $2000; William Lanterman, $1000; Georgia A. Banks, $1000; Mamie E. Banks, $1000; Dr. M. V. B. Dunham, $1000; various employees, $500 each.

The residue goes to the son, Lee Milbank, and the daughter, Phila M. McFie, share and share alike. Lee Milbank, Nichols Milbank and John Earle Jardine were named executors under the will, which was executed Jan. 14, 1920. The will was represented by Andrews & Andrews, attorneys.

Court Gives Judgment for Defendants

A suit to cancel an oil lease on land near Signal Hill, Long Beach, during which it developed that $100,000 had been spent in drilling a dry hole, raised an interesting legal question in Judge Hahn's court during the trial yesterday.

The suit was brought by Oliver E. Jones, Alda C. Jones and W. A. Wise against Alfred Barstow, L. H. Manning, O. P. Fallis, Chris C. Magenheimer, Franklin H. Hamilton and E. J. Milley. Mr. Barstow, as trustee of a syndicate, obtained a lease from Mr. Jones which provided that a test well should be drilled in the Signal Hill district. The lease was executed before the oil struck Signal Hill. Judge Hahn gave judgment in favor of the defendants, holding that the terms of the lease had been fulfilled.

After acquiring the lease the defendants assigned a one-tenth interest in it to E. J. Milley, who had a lease on land some distance from the Jones land. He drilled a well to the depth of more than 4300 feet. It cost more than $100,000, but no oil was found. The defendants asserted that the Milley well fulfilled the obligations assumed by them in their lease from Mr. Jones.

The plaintiffs sought to terminate the Barstow lease upon the ground that the test well was not put in as provided in the lease.

Since the Barstow lease a number of fine wells have been brought in on land near the Jones holdings. In consequence, the Jones land has become very valuable for oil purposes.

The Joneses have made another lease to W. A. Wise, who has joined the Joneses in an attempt to cancel the Barstow lease.

The plaintiffs were represented by Attorney Robert M. Pease. Attorneys King and Goodwin were counsel for the defendants.

Companion of Missing Man Seized Here

Pending an investigation by Sheriff Traeger's deputies regarding the peculiar disappearance from Auburn, Cal., of Thomas Payne, a business man of that city, Jack Miller was held in the County Jail here yesterday upon request of the Sheriff at Auburn.

According to a telegram to the Sheriff here, Mr. Payne left Auburn about a week ago to go to San Francisco in company of Miller, saying he would notify his wife of his safe arrival. No word was received from the husband, but Mrs. Payne asserts, it was stated, that she had received a demand for $50. By replying to the telegram, the deputies assert, Miller was arrested by Deputy Sheriff Nolan. He will be held pending an inquiry.

Court Summons Shoots Up Long-Anticipated Vacation

[By a Times Staff Correspondent.]
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19. To work hard for a whole year, dreaming at night of the wonderful time you are to have off in the mountains when vacation time comes, and then to be served on the eve of your departure with a summons to jury duty, isn't that nice? W. G. Blatt, second vice-president of the Long Beach branch of the Security Trust and Savings says:

"Yes, it is not."

Mr. Blatt, with visions of a delightful vacation all shot to pieces, is to go to Los Angeles to sit in stuffy courtrooms for the next two weeks or more.

MRS. GARTH AGAIN SUES FOR DECREE

Long Beach Woman Freed of Shooting Charge, Avers Cruelty, Desertion

After being acquitted of a charge of attempting to kill her husband because she saw him with another woman, Mrs. Pearl F. Garth of Long Beach, yesterday, for the second time, sued Robert L. Garth, prominent beach realtor, for divorce.

A year ago Mrs. Garth was tried on a charge of assaulting her husband and, after Mr. Garth had refused to testify against her, was acquitted.

In her complaint, which was prepared by Attorney Henry Haves, she charges her husband with having deserted her eight times and with calling her names. The desertions, Mrs. Garth asserts, finally became a habit and, although she always forgave him, she finally grew weary. She also charges him with intemperance and with mental cruelty.

Mrs. Garth had a quarrel with her husband over a year ago and, seeing him on the street later, shot him. At that time there was a divorce action pending. Mr. Garth recovered and, while forced by the State to testify, did so reluctantly. After the trial the couple became reconciled and the suit was dropped.

According to yesterday's complaint the couple were married in Fort Worth in 1914 and separated in August of this year.

SEVEN HURT IN BLAZE ON SHIP

Fierce Fire Sweeps Vessel Following Blast

Six Men Overcome by Gas in Stubborn Battle

Damage to Lumber Boat from North $50,000

One man was seriously burned, one fireman was injured and five others overcome by gas fumes at Los Angeles Harbor yesterday when the motorship William Donovan caught fire from an explosion in her engine room shortly after arriving from Aberdeen, Wash., with 1,800,000 feet of lumber for local consignees. Fire and water damage to the extent of more than $50,000 was done to the craft before the blaze was extinguished after a six-hour fight by fire-fighting forces from Los Angeles Harbor, Wilmington and Los Angeles.

The fire started when the blowtorch which Chief Engineer C. W. Newton was using to start an auxiliary engine exploded a fuel oil supply. Mr. Newton, who lives at the Victoria Apartments, Los Angeles Harbor, was severely burned about the arms, face and right leg. He was rescued from the blazing engine room by Capt. William F. H. Malmgren and Chief Officer Edward Danielson and rushed to a port hospital in the police ambulance. He will recover, according to Police Surgeon A. J. Lanagan. Other casualties were:

FUMES OVERCOME SIX

Lieut. Edward Dusoe, Fire Fire Boat No. 1, struck in eye by heaving line, also overcome by carbon dioxide fumes. Injuries dressed and taken home.

H. H. Rhoads, fireman, overcome by fumes. Taken to hospital.

E. H. Humphries, fireman, overcome.

Lieut. Walter Bauer, Engine Company 40, overcome.

Capt. J. C. Baly, Battalion Chief, overcome.

Manuel Mello, fireman, overcome.

All six men were carried from the blazing craft by brother firemen and rushed to the emergency hospital where they were treated by Dr. Lanagan. With the exception of Rhoads, who was taken to the hospital, all men were able to be taken home.

The blaze was started at 7:20 a.m. with an explosion that could be heard throughout the district. Fire Boat No. 1 and Engine Company 36 reaching the scene in two minutes. They were unable to control the flames, however, and Engine Co. 40 was called from Wilmington. Engine Co. 24 from Thirty-eighth street and Western avenue was later ordered to the port by Chief Ralph J. Scott, covering the twenty miles in thirty minutes. Chemical equipment of the Standard Oil Company was also used in fighting the fire.

STUBBORN FIGHT WON

The flames, which spread past the port wings of the engine room into the cargo holds, were not gotten under control until shortly before noon, when Chiefs Scott and Baly ordered the engine room of the William Donovan flooded completely, although it was then sixteen feet deep in water. Danger to the firemen was increased by the fact that the fire burned over and around the ship's fuel tanks, containing 8000 barrels of fuel oil.

The William Donovan is a motorship of 1260 net tons and is propelled by twin Diesels of 1000 horsepower. She is valued at approximately $350,000 and was built in 1919 by Norwegian interests as the Kirketind. A year ago she was sold here at a U. S. Marshal's sale for $151,000 to her present owners, the Donovan Lumber Company of Aberdeen, Wash. Repairs to the craft will be made at this port, it was said following the discharge of cargo.

Supreme Court Sessions Here Start Monday

The calendar for the forthcoming term here of the State Supreme Court in bank has been prepared. Monday, October 23, which will be Law and Motion Day, will mark the opening of the session, which will extend through Tuesday, October 31. A total number of fifty cases are scheduled to be heard by the State's highest judiciary.

Of these the most notable is expected to be a rehearing of the Mohn-Tingley alienation suit. Mrs. Irene Mohn brought the action originally against Katherine Tingley of "purple mother" fame, in the courts of San Diego county, the head of the cult at Point Loma being charged with alienating the affections of Mrs. Mohn's husband. The judgment of the Superior Court awarded damages of $100,000 to the aggrieved wife. Mrs. Tingley took an appeal to the District Court and the latter reversed the judgment. The case will be reheard by the Supreme Court on October 25.

Husband Says His Rose has Many Thorns

When Charles E. Thorne married, he believed that he had acquired a rose both in name and perfection, but yesterday, in a divorce action filed by the husband, he ventured the belief that Mrs. Rose E. Thorne was not all he had hoped.

Had she been the delicate rose he expected, she would not, in all probability, have threatened to "knock his block off with a frying pan."

According to the complaint, Mr. Thorne was able to take a hint when it was directed at him. He went home on one occasion, the document sets forth, and his wife intimated that she did not want "anything like him hanging around." After brandishing a skillet high in air and expressing a desire to remove Mr. Thorne's head from his shoulders, the husband gathered that he was not wanted. He never went back.

PLAN OF HUBBY IS REJECTED

Man Wanted Two Nights Weekly With Other Girl, Asserts Wife

Another experiment to insure domestic bliss has failed. This experiment, tried by William B. Annen, was not altogether new but it had its points. He suggested to Mrs. Louise E. Annen that he be permitted to visit Mrs. Luna Ross two night a week. Then, he argued, his wife would be far ahead because he would be with her five evenings.

But it seemed that Mrs. Annen objected and in a divorce complaint filed yesterday she states that it was really necessary for her to draw the line somewhere.

Mrs. Annen declares in her complaint that her husband associated with Luna quite frequently. When she remonstrated with him for it, he countered with a suggestion that he spend two evenings each week with the other woman. It wasn't much to ask, he argued.

When Mrs. Annen refused this request Mr. Annen took the matter into his own hands and denied his wife any of his company, devoting seven nights a week to Mrs. Ross, the complaint states.

Three Held as Railway Towel Theft Suspects

A man, his wife and his wife's brother are in the City Jail charged with suspicion of burglary in connection with the asserted theft of more than $2000 worth of linen towels and other articles from Salt Lake Railway coaches.

They are Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Bowman and Henry Sanders aged 18 years. Bowman and Sanders were arrested several days ago by Detective Sergts. Spinner and Ryan of the Wilshire Police Station at the Salt Lake depot where both are said have been employed as electricians. The arrest of Mrs. Bowman was made yesterday by the detectives after they found, they asserted, a large quantity of the stolen goods in her home in Belvedere. According to the detectives both Bowman and Sanders lived in the house in Belvedere.

Mrs. Bowman denied that she had given any assistance in the theft of the goods or that she was guilty of any offense and defended her husband by stating to the detectives that her husband since an automobile accident Dec. 26, 1921 had acted irrationally despite her admonitions.

LONG BEACH SCHOOLS' REGISTRATION GAINS

INCREASE OF 11 PER CENT OVER LAST YEAR, SAYS OFFICIAL

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—The first week of registration in the public schools here shows a total attendance of 13,437 pupils in the city schools, as compared with 12,107 pupils last year, according to a report issued by the Board of Education.

The gain amounts to 11 per cent. Supt. Stephens, head of the schools, declared that the registration will reach the 14,000 mark before the middle of the school year.

In the elementary and kindergarten grades, there is a total of 9317 pupils; in the senior and junior high schools, a total of 4020 pupils were registered at the end of the first week, the report shows.

SONS OF REVOLUTION HONOR COLE TODAY

CENTENARIAN EX-SENATOR SOCIETY'S GUEST AT LUNCHEON

In honor of ex-Senator Cornelius Cole, who celebrated his hundredth birthday last Sunday at his home, 6121 Lexington avenue, the Society of Sons of the American Revolution will give a special luncheon at noon today at the Clark.

Bishop Joseph H. Johnson will be the principle speaker and several brief addresses will be made by Judge Benjamin F. Bledsoe, Marshal Stimson, Maj. Walter K. Tuller, Hon. Frank P. Flint and others. Music will be furnished by Misses Alberta and Lorene Davis.

The committee in charge of the affair is composed of Messrs. R. W. Kirkley, Elmer D. Stacy, J. B. Brunner, J. N. Russell, Jr., and Dr. N. W. Janney.

Move Launched for Street Car Safety Zones

Opposition to the so-called chiropractic, osteopathic and anti-vivisection initiative measures which will be on the ballot at the November 7 election was voted yesterday by the executive committee of the Los Angeles Safety Council meeting at the City Club.

It was decided by the committee that the measures are dangerous because they seek to lower the standards required of those who seek to treat the sick and would block research necessary for curing diseases of animals as well as human beings.

The safety council also took preliminary steps toward the establishment of raised safety zones for persons boarding and leaving street cars. The executive committee declared that some such action is necessary and cited the fact that thirty-two persons were seriously injured in the first four months of this year by autoists failing to observe the ordinance requiring a stop behind a car loading or unloading passengers.

Temporary safety islands at points outside the downtown district were recommended as an experimental measure. A special committee of the safety council will confer with city officials with a view to having the plan tested.

Negro Accused of Holding Up Creamery Man

Identified by W. G. Barnes, book-keeper for the Crescent Creamery Company at 1050 Lillian Way, Hollywood, according to the police, as the negro bandit, who, a week ago held him up and robbed him of $1000, William Banes, aged 36 years, was lodged in the City Jail yesterday on suspicion of robbery.

The arrest was made by Detective Sergeants MacD Jones and Bachmann of the Wilshire Police Station at the Strand Garage in Santa Monica where Banes, according to the detectives was working as a mechanic. The identification by Mr. Barnes was made shortly after the arrest, the detectives asserted. Banes denies that he is implicated in any robbery.

Mr. Barnes reported to the Hollywood police that he was held up and robbed by the bandit as he was about to place a quantity of money in the safe at the Crescent Creamery branch on Lillian Way. The bandit had entered the establishment through a side door unnoticed by Mr. Barnes. Immediately after the robbery Mr. Barnes notified the Hollywood police and scores of officers and detectives searched street cars in the neighborhood for the bandit without success. According to Detectives MacD. Jones and Bachmann, Banes escaped from the scene of the robbery in an automobile. Banes, they declare, has been in jail before.

Calexico Mail Office Funds Found Missing

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, Sept. 19.—With postal funds here reported to be between $8000 and $10,000 short, and a clew obtained that Postmaster Frank Roach is on his way east, Inspectors Jarvis and McKean are finishing their work of checking over the books of the postoffice. Roach left Calexico September 1, with his wife and children, saying he was to be gone for a couple of days, visiting a sick brother on the Coast. It afterward developed, it is said, that he had removed all his personal effects from his home and turned over the key to the house to a real estate agent. Roach, police say, will eventually land in Mexico where knowledge of the language on the part of his wife will enable him to establish himself easily, providing postal authorities do not nab him before he gets there.

TWO SENT TO CELLS AS NARCOTIC USERS

Judge Bledsoe yesterday sentenced Gabe Porter and Raoul Juares, to two and one-half years' imprisonment in the Federal penitentiary at Leavenworth, following a confession of guilt of violating the Harrison narcotic law. Both men said they bought the stuff "from a man," but neither could remember his name.

Presbyterian Church to Be Used by Jews

The Jewish Year and Day of Atonement, which fall this year on September 23 and October 2, respectively, will be observed this year by the Congregation of Temple Emanu-El at the Wilshire Presbyterian Church, according to announcement made yesterday by Rabbi Ernest Trattner.

"Dr. John Eby and his congregation are exceptionally kind in extending the invitation to us to worship in their beautiful edifice," said Dr. Trattner. "Through the manifestation of this spirit of neighborliness, Dr. Eby and his people have made Jews and non-Jews feel that there are still people in the world who take the gospel of Jesus seriously."

Ground breaking ceremonies for the first unit of the new Temple Emanu-El at Wilshire Boulevard and Manhattan Place, will take place early in October, Dr. Trattner said.

Angeleno President of Bakers

Word was received in Los Angeles yesterday that the American Bakers' Association in convention in Chicago last week had elected William H. Korn, vice-president of the Holsum Baking Company of Los Angeles as its president for the coming year.

Mr. Korn, as president of the American Bakers' Association will also be directing head of the American Institute of Baking, a research and educational institution maintained in Chicago by the association.

The complete program follows: Negligees and smoking suits; tennis and golf clothes; motor and steamer coats; timely tailleurs; daytime street dresses; wraps and coats; afternoon and dinner gowns; evening gowns.

The latest modes in feminine footwear from Vap Degrit will also be worn by the dozen damsels who display the new creations.

PROPOSE NEW CITY

Residents Near Covina Seek to Block Sewer Farm Project

It is proposed to incorporate into a city a territory about two and a half miles square lying west of the city limits of Covina. The object, it is said, is to prevent Covina from estbalishing a sewer farm in that section. Maps of the proposed city have been submitted to the supervisors for approval.

The district at present is without a store, blacksmith shop, or postoffice, but has a school house and many farms.

NAVY REASSIGNS OFFICERS

Some Serving on Ships of Pacific Fleet at Harbor Here Are Affected by Order

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—Nearly a score of officers serving on board the ships of the Pacific Fleet at Los Angeles Harbor were affected by Navy orders received at fleet headquarters yesterday.

Prominent among them is Commander Merlin D. Cook, executive officer of the dreadnaught Oklahoma, who has been named by the department to take command of the U.S.S. Nitro, fleet ammunition supply ship.

Commander Paul Foley, now in command of the U.S.S. Prometheus, another ammunition supply ship, has been assigned to duty aboard the Oklahoma as executive officer. He will relieve Commander Cook within the next few days, it was said.

Other changes in the officer personnel of the fleet are as follows: Lieut.-Commander Candle F. Allen, Medical Corps, from the receiving ship at Philadelphia to the receiving ship at Flagship, California. Lieut. Comm. B. Cole, Medical Corps, from the Great Lakes Training Station to the California; Lieut. Comm. Ira White, Medical Corps, from the dreadnaught Texas to the Naval Hospital, Pearl Harbor, T. H. Lieut. Hugh Sinclair, from the Orion to the Sirius. Lieut. Carl H. Voss from the fleet repair ship Vestal to the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, San Francisco. Lieut. Howard B. Fite, Medical Corps, from the Submarine Base, Coco Roads, Va., to the dreadnaught Texas. Ensigns Ward Felt and Dewey G. Porter, go from the staff of the Commander-in-Chief to the flagship California. Ensign George C. Nielsen, from the Bethlehem Shipbuilding Corporation, San Francisco, to the repair ship Vestal. Lieut. Clark Oscar H. Wely, goes from the Arctic to the hospital ship Mercy.

Auto Men Ask More Pay for City Workers

The Motor Car Dealers' Association of Los Angeles went on record yesterday in favor of an increase in salaries for employees of the City Engineer's department after listening to a talk by City Engineer Griffin during which he told of difficulty experienced in holding men trained in municipal engineering details at a salary of $135 a month, which, he declares, is the limit set by the City Council.

The dealers also passed a resolution indorsing the proposed rise in salaries for Mayor, members of the Council and City Attorney, to be voted upon at the election in November.

In addition to the talk by Engineer Griffin, the meeting was addressed by D. W. Pontius, vice-president and general manager of the Pacific Electric Railway, on the Supreme Court decision divorcing the Southern Pacific and Central Pacific Railroad systems; and by C. A. Triphagen, assistant sales manager of the Reo Motor Car Company, who is on a tour of the Pacific Coast.

A committee composed of P. H. Greer, chairman; F. S. Albertson and H. W. Nerney, was appointed by President Paul G. Hoffman, "to interview the finance committee of the City Council on the matter of increasing salaries in the City Engineer's office so men of experience and long training may be obtained."

Club Ready to Push Plan for State Highway

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

BAKERSFIELD, Sept. 19.—The Boosters' Club of Greater Bakersfield today is sending invitations to all civic clubs here and to interests in Mojave, Tehachapi, Lancaster, Keene, Palmdale and Los Angeles to delegate committees to attend a big joint meeting here October 3 at which it is proposed to formulate a definite plan of action for getting State recognition on a movement now well under way for a paved State highway to connect Bakersfield and Los Angeles by the scenic Tehachapi Pass.

The demand for this project is increasing throughout the district between this and the southern city, and it is the intention of the local Boosters' Club to take whatever initiative is necessary to bring about construction of the proposed highway, club officials declared today.

Insanity Charge Placed Against Mary's "Rescue"

"Billy" Hopkins itinerant sign painter, who was arrested last Saturday at the Fairbanks studio in Hollywood, after it was asserted that he wrote a number of cards to Mary Pickford-Fairbanks in which he stated that he intended to "rescue" her from her husband, was yesterday confined in the paycopathic ward of the County Hospital.

An insanity complaint was signed by Detective-Sergt. Canto, one of the arresting officers.

Wife of Picture Distributor Says Nose Broken by Blow

In a divorce complaint filed yesterday by Mrs. Frances Guihan Kahn it is charged that Van Bi Kahn, local distributor of motion pictures, hit her with such force that her nose was broken. It was necessary for her to have a specialist reset it, the complaint states.

Mrs. Kahn charges that her husband drank to excess and that he "hypothecated" her rings containing thirty-seven diamonds. He was also cruel, she charges, and deserted her. Attorney Bradner W. Lee represents Mrs. Kahn.

Three letters from three girls in one day.

One love note to her husband, Meade Hatton, would be bad enough, but three!

Because they came addressed to his home, Mrs. Myrtle Hatton perforce opened them—she got them first—and read them.

Yesterday Judge Summerfield granted her a divorce on the ground of desertion.

Home was no place for Mr. Hatton after the discovery of his three graces. Further, Mrs. Hatton declared, her husband was stingy. He gave her a pair of silk stockings four years ago.

WHAT THEY WROTE

Frances wrote Mr. Hatton in part: "Be good. I know it takes nerve and grit to be good, but you must be because you promised me."

Ella wrote: "I wish you would call me up, dearest, and take me for a ride in your car. Lots of love and everything."

Tora wrote: "I am too sick to make love. I don't care what happens."

She wrote the note on board ship bound for Sweden.

SURVEY OF CHARTER IS PROPOSED

Committee Representing Civic Organizations May Study Present Laws

That a survey be made of the present city charter to ascertain whether or not Los Angeles needs an entirely new city charter or whether a series of amendments would suffice to meet the present-day needs of the city government was the recommendation made yesterday to the board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce by its Municipal and County Affairs Committee of the chamber.

This decision was reached by the committee after a conference yesterday to which had been invited City Attorney Stephens and members of the City Council.

The committee will recommend that the directors appoint a committee representing all of the civic and business organizations of the city, which is to study the present city charter with the co-operation of the City Attorney and recommend the changes that are necessary. If the directors should approve the survey could be completed by next March.

Amendments could be submitted prove the plan. It is believed that at the city primaries next May, while to frame and to place in operation an entirely new charter would require two years, City Attorney Stephens stated at yesterday's conference.

The legislative committee of the Chamber of Commerce is directed by Judge Dana R. Weller, chairman. R. W. Pridham is the chairman of the County and Municipal Committee. The Business Men's Co-operative Association was also represented at the meeting yesterday.

MEXICANS MARCHING ON REBELS

Federal Battalion Leaves Calexico to Fight Revolt of Juan Carrisco

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CALEXICO, Sept. 19.—Girded for war, the twenty-ninth battalion of Mexican Federal troops left yesterday from Mexicali to La Bomba, from which port it is believed that the troops would proceed by water to Mazatlan, the scene of a new revolution led by Gen. Juan Carrisco, rebel leader.

Although military attaches were secretive as to the ultimate destination of the soldiers, it is well understood that they will proceed to Mazatlan to assist Federal troops in quieting a recent serious uprising there.

The vanguard of the battalion left Mexicali Saturday evening while the Mexican celebration was in its height with throngs cheering it on its way. They started on foot on an arduous hike of fifty miles across burning desert to the port where boats are waiting to take them it is thought to Guaymas.

The hike had been started but a short time when the effects of the heat told, two soldiers reported having died of sunstroke. Several other soldiers and the wife of one were brought back to Mexicali and placed in care of physicians after they had fallen by the wayside unable to stand the march. Motor lorries were provided last evening for the transportation of the rest of the battalion and the soldiers' wives and the commissary.

While awaiting transportation many of the soldiers' wives beguiled the time with cooking tortillas over the fires built in front of the garrison in Mexicali. Others were busied with their baggage and still others sat in the dust staring at nothing, passive, apparently uninterested in the bustle, but ready to accept whatever fate offered.

"WANTED MEN" SUBJECT

At a meeting of the Association of Production Men, S. M. Kennedy, vice-president of the Southern California Edison Company, will speak tomorrow night at 8 p.m., at 304 Severance Building. "Wanted Men" is the subject of the address. The meeting is open to the public. Mr. Kennedy is an authority on business relations and the building up of confidence and good will among the employees and employers.

SUCH A CUT-UP

A woman drank thirty bottles of Jamaica ginger in ten days and tried to cut her husband into shreds with a pair of manicure scissors. Now her partner is trying to get a divorce. He says there is such a thing as wife having too much ginger.

THE HOME MAKERS

In the last two years nearly 70,000 English girls have emigrated to Canada with the ostensible purpose of engaging in domestic service. It is reported that more than 50 per cent of them get married the first year. That, however, would indicate that they had taken up domestic service as a career.

UNDER SUSPICION

Quite a number of communities are complaining at the quality of water they are called upon to use for refreshment purposes. Enemies of the Eighteenth Amendment are also protesting against the character of the beer they are permitted to absorb. With the water and beer both held up to derision, what is the country coming to?

OUR LIBERALITY

The Comptroller of Currency says that in the last eight years we have virtually sent $22,000,000,000 abroad. This has kept the world in motion and shows that we haven't been a bit selfish. The fact that we stand to lose any of it shows that we have been liberal and considerate. Some creditors never let a dollar go unless they have $2 in hand.

THE STAR GAZERS

The American Astronomical Society held its twenty-eighth annual convention at the Yerkes observatory, near Chicago, and the remarkable thing was the number of women delegates present. If half the stars in Hollywood are women it is not strange that the sex should take an interest in their movements. Maybe they wish to know what Venus is wearing this season.

FEMININE LOGIC

Women are exercising the right to vote every bit as intelligently as men. Often their motives are original to an amusing degree. In an eastern city a dentist was running for a certain office. A bright woman who had voted for him gave a decidedly novel reason for so doing. She said: "You see he once pulled a tooth for me and now I am sure that he is better fitted for any job than that of a dentist."

THE FOREVER CULT

The apostle of the live-forever folk is in our midst. It seems to be his opinion that people who croak are careless. There is no need of it. By watching his movements and following his formula any ambitious person may live indefinitely. There is no such thing as age. Any voter could make Methuselah look like an infant. And yet the apostle is afraid of dogs and hay fever. This country is full of old-timers and it is fine to hear them compare notes on human endurance.

A SILENT CITY

There is an awful lot of work ahead for those well-intentioned crusaders who have started out with the noble purpose of making Los Angeles a noiseless town. Even the City Hall is liable to furnish its quota of embarrassment to the program. Neither is the deep breathing of congested traffic apt to be suppressed. A city of magnificent silences is an impressive thing to ponder over, but a hard one to find. The crowd simply doesn't want it. Some folks never go to the cemetery except with a brass-band accompaniment.

BUNCOMBE BOB

The radicals of all types and entanglements are once more figuring on a third-party movement, with Bob La Follette as their standard bearer. They figure on drawing a lot from the Republicans and Democrats after the next platforms are adopted. By that time also the political status of Hearst may be known. He will support the Democratic ticket if he is on it, but is expected to fight it if he isn't. So far as La Follette is concerned, he is an ideal leader for a league of despair. He has been a consistent wrecker all his life and is never found with any constructive measure. He is a voice of protest, but never of cheer or acclaim.

WANT A WASHINGTON

Former Vice-President Marshall, who has been doing some observing of the European situation, states that he is reliably informed that there are not more than 100,000 dyed-in-the-wool Bolshevists in Russia. The peasantry are not of them and they furnish 80 per cent of the population. But the Bolshevists command all the arms and ammunition of the nation. They hold all its defenses and control its armies. The peasantry does not rebel because it does not know what to rebel against. The peasants have gained somewhat in the distribution of land by the government and there is no way of uniting them in protest or in action. Mr. Marshall thinks that the great need of Russia is for a Washington—or a Napoleon. Neither is in sight. There is no man of the hour in Russia.

THE PRESIDENT AND THE BONUS

In the United States there are two classes of politicians, the statesmen and the near statesmen. The statesmen are those who place the public welfare and public credit before personal interest; the others—unfortunately in the majority—are those who do not.

President Harding, by his veto of the blanket soldier bonus bill, has demonstrated again to the people that he places principle before political expediency. No one mentally honest and well informed doubts that the President vetoed this bill because he was firmly of the conviction that it contemplated an expenditure of the public money which would be vastly more injurious to the public welfare than the corresponding benefit which would accrue to the individuals receiving the so-called adjusted compensation.

This expenditure, according to Treasury estimate, would aggregate more than $4,000,000,000; and the President points out that to thus increase government expenditure, without providing a workable plan for raising the money, would be economic folly.

That the President would veto the blanket bonus bill was anticipated when it passed the two houses of Congress. There were doubtless a few Congressmen and Senators who were sincerely of the opinion that the country's debt of gratitude to those who served in the World War should take the form of a monetary award. But there is a growing conviction in the country that the majority of votes for the bill resulted from political pressure.

Politicians are known to have advised the President that by signing the bill he would be affixing his signature to his own political death warrant. But the President proved true to the best traditions of American statesmanship. He said he preferred being President for four years to being a political puppet for eight.

His reply recalls the declaration of Henry Clay, "I would rather be right than be President;" and the one made by President Taft to Congressman Bede, "I would rather be President for two more years than a trimmer for six."

In his veto message the President calls the attention of Congress to the expenditures which the government is now making to care for those who sustained some form of physical or mental injury during the war. The government is now paying more than $1,500,000 a day to ex-soldiers of the World War or to their dependents. No other government is paying so much, although several others had more men engaged. He points out that this is a just payment and one that must continue, regardless of increasing cost; that those who received actual injury are entitled to adequate compensation from the public treasury, as well as the dependents of those who lost their lives in the service.

"With the avowed purpose of the bill to give expression to a nation's gratitude to those who served in its defense in the World War I am in accord," says the President in his veto message. He here voices the sentiment of all loyal Americans. And he further expresses the sentiment of a majority of the right-thinking Americans when he says the expression of this gratitude through the medium of a cash blanket bonus would be to establish a dangerous and doubtful precedent.

What is real and best in our lives is perhaps that which has no physical reality. Love, honor and patriotism are beyond and above material things. These sentiments are sullied when placed on a cash basis.

While the President has been threatened by the politicians with political extermination if he dared to veto the blanket bonus, the result of the summer elections throughout the country indicates that the political importance attached to the act was greatly exaggerated. A number of members of Congress who made a parade of favoring the blanket bonus failed of renomination in their own parties, while a great majority of those who declined to vote for the blanket bonus were renominated.

Looking at the political result without prejudice, it appears that the blanket bonus played but a very minor part in vote-getting. The people as a whole did not wreak political vengance either on those who favored or opposed the measure. They were charitable enough to give them credit for honest convictions, whichever way they voted.

As far as the political fortunes of the President are concerned, The Times does not believe that his veto of the blanket bonus will cause him to lose the Republican nomination for President two years hence, provided his record is otherwise satisfactory to the members of his party. We believe that the American people are intelligent and astute enough to give public expression to their commendation of one in high position who dares to defy popular clamor in the interests of the public welfare.

THE END OF THE LONG FIGHT

The last chapter has been written in the tragedy of the Argonaut mine disaster. The long suspense is ended. Now the scene shifts from the gruesome bulkhead a mile below the surface of the earth to the quiet town of Jackson.

For the dead, beyond the honor of sympathetic sepulture, the world can do no more. For the living, for the sorrow and suffering cast upon the stricken families, pity and love can still do much.

Nothing was left undone that human hearts could do while one faint glimmer of hope was left for the saving of those precious human lives. And human hearts, American human hearts; will leave nothing undone that generosity suggests for the relief of the dear ones on whom the loss of those human lives has fallen the most heavily.

For twenty-two days the world has breathlessly watched the fearful contest with the subterranean forces of nature, has sat through the terrific drama of fire and risk, of energy and manhood, of tears and despair. God grant such a contest, such a calamity will never again be told in the story of any California mine.

No men, no body of workers, no seeker after hidden treasure for material reward ever worked as did the devoted band of heroes who, for twenty-two days, wrestled with rock and rubble, wrecked timbers and solid granite walls; the lure of gold never brought forth from human endurance such titanic efforts; it was the chance, just the bare chance to save human life, that kept these brave rescuers at their perilous toil, striking their blows harder and faster the smaller shrunk the sands of hope in the hour-glass of passing time.

And the end came, the truth was dug out from behind the grim walls of the tomb, humanly the quest had failed. Yet it was better, even so. Far better than the agonising suspense that had so long keyed up to the last pitch of endurance the watchers at the pit's mouth.

Even to so final a catastrophe as that which has just overwhelmed the owners and workers alike of the Argonaut mine there is a compensation. Face to face with death in one of its grimmest aspects, the best in human nature comes to the front. The false idea that in the scramble for material gain chivalry and unselfishness and willingness to make sacrifice for others is a lost heritage is nobly and splendidly refuted.

On the one chance in a hundred of saving their fellow-workers the rescuers braved the same fate for twenty-two days that had overtaken their comrades and no thought of self entered into their calculations. Owners of the Kennedy mine, rivals in business, long tied up in litigation with the Argonaut mine people, immediately threw open their property for the rescue work, property lines were eliminated, the touch of nature controlled and legal bars ceased to exist.

Later on, no doubt, there will be official investigations into the cause of the accident. If blame rests in any quarter, that blame will be fixed. If precautions can be discovered to prevent the recurrence of so terrible a tragedy those precautions will be adopted in all going mines. While nothing can bring back the lives already lost, greater care can and will be taken in the future for the safety of all who have to pursue hazardous occupations beneath the treacherous surface of the earth.

This much at least can be written down against the otherwise total loss that has resulted from causes, not yet known, in the depths of the Argonaut mine.

THE NATION'S TIMBER

The government is offering the last of the nation's great timber forests for exploitation.

It is a lordly, magnificent tract with a mighty area of 67,400 acres, chiefly comprising the coveted and highly profitable yellow pine, and it is situate 6000 feet above sea level in the Oregon Blue Mountains.

But vast and seemingly limitless as this wealth of timber appears, this "last" offering of the government is a stern reminder that the gorgeous, abundant and generous natural resources of the United States, which we have exploited with such wanton extravagance in the past, often squandered in almost criminal wastefulness in our God-given prosperity, is no longer limitless. The government, is duly mindful of this last great forest asset. No longer will it pass into prodigal hands. The contractor who acquires this rich and staggering contract will only do so on a conservation basis. For the estimates give the resources of the present timber as twenty-years—a trifling space of time in the life of a nation. After that "recuttings," new wood, can only be assured by the most expert methods of reafforestation—over which the government intends to retain its sway.

No longer can America wastefully, wantonly, prodigally exploit these God-given resources of hers. A shortage of wood, a neglect of reafforestation now, will affect the whole industry of the United States. There is no satisfactory substitute for wood. Europe, which has long since appreciated the vast importance of wood economy and forethought, which has long practiced every form of conservation and deems no economies too insignificant in this vital respect, has tried many a substitute for wood, notably papier mache, of which even pianos are made. But such substitutes only answer in a few departments. Their durability is limited, their service brief.

If the United States is to maintain her pre-eminence in prosperity and efficiency her people must mend their extravagant ways, must conserve, economize with a faithful responsibility toward posterity.

So, while the offering of this lordly contract is evidence of precious wealth of twenty more years of abundant timber, it is also a vital and tremendous reminder that these few remaining mighty natural resources of ours must be husbanded and that reafforestation everywhere has become an immediate duty. It is a reminder that we, even as Europe, may some day have to resort to synthetic substitutes, to scheme and practice every sort of insignificant economy if we persist in our prodigal squanderamania of the natural wealth that providence bestowed upon us.

TWO MINUTES OF OPTIMISM

BY HERMAN J. STICH

"Modern Ten Commandments"

What makes for the success of an employee and the house as well?

Here are the conclusions of one successful concern.

"Modern ten commandments" they have been called; and they fairly cover the subject.

(1.) Don't lie. It wastes my time and yours. I am sure to catch you in the end, and that is the wrong end.

(2.) Watch your work, not the clock. A long day's work makes a long day short. And a short day's work makes my face long.

(3.) Give me more than I expect and I will give you more than you expect. I can afford to increase your pay if you increase my profits.

(4.) You owe so much to yourself, you can't afford to owe anybody else. Keep out of debt or keep out of my shop.

(5.) Dishonesty is never an accident. Good men, like good women, never see temptation when they meet it.

(6.) Mind your own business or you will never have a business of your own to mind.

(7.) Don't do anything here which hurts your self-respect. An employee who is willing to steal for me is willing to steal from me.

(8.) It is none of my concern what you do at night; but if dissipation affects what you do the next day and you do half as much as I expected, you will last half as long as you hope.

(9.) Don't tell me what I would like to hear, but what I ought to hear. I don't want a valet to my vanity, but one for my dollars.

RIPPLING RHYMES

WANTING A JOB

"I want employment," said a skate, attired in seedy garments, who met me at my garden gate, where I was trapping varmints. "All right," I said, "you're strictly on; I need assistance daily; so wash the steps and mow the lawn and ply yon buck-saw gayly. I'm tired of toiling here alone, so labor like a winner, and I will pay a silver bone and fill you up with dinner." "I do not like the wage you name," explained the weary Willie; "when up against a tightwad's game my swanlike feet grow chilly. It's worth two bucks to mow the lawn and two to saw the cedar; one plunk for all that waste of brawn sure gets me, gentle reader." And every day they come in droves to earn an honest dollar; but when I'd have them polish stoves or make a woodpile smaller they don't indorse my rates of pay when modestly I state them, they do not like my lordly way, my whiskers aggravate them. I'm waiting, watching for the gent who means it when imploring a chance to earn an honest cent by useful, helpful choring. I'm watching, waiting for the lad whose griefs have made him humble, who gives full value for a scad, and that without a grumble!

THE "SAPEURS POMPIERS"

Of the many national congresses that assemble in Paris during the summer season not the least interesting is that of the firemen, the "sapeurs pompiers." The pompier, despite congresses, is, however, still using, in many parts of France, fire-fighting methods which other countries would call obsolete and ineffective. But fire fighting is not the only, or indeed the most picturesque, activity of the sapeur pompier. The roll of his deep-voiced drum in the small hours of the morning will announce to the township that the day of some fete has arrived. And who has not been thrilled at the sight of the corps of pompiers with their drums and flashing helmets and elegant uniforms, acting as vanguard to the grand parade before M. le Prefet on the 14th of July? Foreign firemen may rival the pompier in the matter of extinguishing apparatus, but they cannot approach him in these social functions.—[Christian Science Monitor.

Scenery Lookers' Union Angry

Stewart Edward White's reply to the letter from the New York Herald book section asking for information about the curiosities in his correspondence seems to have been designed to rouse envy and stir to mild exasperation. It is dated "On Board the Dawn" and reads:

"Your letter reaches me in the wilds of British Columbia, where I have been cruising for three months and where I expect to linger for two months yet, weather permitting. They invented snow and glacier mountains, deep inlets and big fish up there. Salmon and trout, bear, goat and deer are almost indecently abundant; and the scenery lookers' union has threatened to go on strike and to charge extra for examining any more mountains over 9000 feet high or more than twenty waterfalls from one viewpoint."—[New York Herald.

Entertaining

Little Teddie was full of questions. Approaching the aged man on the pier again, he said:

"What time does the tide come in, Mr. Fisherman?"

The aged man looked at him wearily. "I've told you several times already, you young rascal," he said. "At 5:55."

Then little Teddie explained:

"Yes, I heard you the first time, but I like to see your whiskers wobble when you say 5:55."—[Unidentified.

CAN THE TURKS WIN?

The following analysis of the situation in the Near East is by one of America's foremost students of war, experienced combatant and an observer and writer. It will be recalled that Reily while on the Polish front in 1920 was the one writer who recognized the probability of a Polish recovery and eventual defeat of Russians. His foresight was verified by the events.

BY BRIG.-GEN. HENRY REILY,
Editor of the "Army and Navy Journal"

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The present situation with respect to the Turkish position is an excellent example of the fact that when passions are aroused to the extent that human beings are willing to risk their lives and property the only thing which counts is armed force.

Whatever our sentiments may be with respect to the Turks and the atrocities which they have committed against Christendom, the fact remains that the only answer is greater armed force than the Turk can bring to bear in any particular situation.

From the time of the armistice until the Greek defeat the initiative was in the hands of the powers which won the great war. In other words, the powers which won stated what would be done or would not be done, and the others had to comply under the penalty of having force exerted against them sufficient to compel obedience.

The Turks, by beating the Greeks on the battlefield and chasing them out of Asia Minor, have obtained the initiative. In other words, the question for the great powers now is not what they are going to tell the Turks to do, but what are they going to do to stop the Turks from doing as they wish.

Asia Minor is in the hands of the Turks. Possessing the initiative, the Turks can turn their attention either toward the recovery of the former Turkish Empire in Asia, which would mean first the expulsion of the British from Mesopotamia and the French from Syria, followed by a campaign toward the Suez Canal and Egypt, or toward India, with the object of taking advantage of the discontent which already exists to expel the British.

On the other hand, the situation enables the Turk to turn his attention toward Europe. In any the terms which he has indicate the recovery of Turkey to be his first

THE CAT IN LEGEND

Medieval superstition held that Satan's favorite form of early appearance was a black cat.

The ancient Egyptians revered the cat, and Aelurus, one of their deities, was represented in the form of a human with a cat's head.

No animal is so great an enemy of constraint as the cat. The cat at the feet of the Roman goddess of liberty signified Roman freedom from constraint.

Egyptologists have established the cat as the ancient Egyptian symbol of the moon, not only because it is more active after sunset, but from the dilation and contraction of its orb, symbolical of the waxing and waning of the night goddess.

The Kilkenny cats fought so ferociously that when the fight ended only the tail of each remained.

The expression, "a cat has nine lives," owes its origin to the fact that the padded foot and toes break the cat's fall and it is said to light on its feet.

"Grins like a Cheshire cat" comes from the fact that Cheshire cheeses were made in the form of a grinning cat.

Henry III of France and Napoleon I showed morbid horror at the sight of a cat.

Cat's sleep is feigned slumber, like that of a cat watching a mouse.—[Arkansaw Thomas Cat.

GIRLS HAD THEIR SAY

The Presbyterian Witness, Canada's fine Presbyterian weekly journal, witnesses to the truth of the following: Eight young men, talking of matrimony, unanimously agreed that "flappers" were all right to flirt with, but when it came to marrying they would want wives that knew about practical housekeeping—that could tell the difference between a beefsteak and a mutton chop and were more practiced in the effective use of brooms than in the technique of jazz dancing. Having come to this profound decision they told some of the "flappers" what they thought. Whereupon the girls replied: "The girl of today is willing to run a broom and cook beans to make a real home for a real man. But she doesn't intend to do it for the accommodation of a cigarette-puffer. God give us men and we'll do our part."—[The Continent.

THAT FISHY SMELL

In Lunenburg, the Gloucester of Nova Scotia, the smell of fish is in all and over all. Churches, fish flakes, curing plants, steep hills, bold headlands, shipyards, skilled fishermen and a sightly fleet of fishing vessels, oxen and German-looking faces, figures and names are characteristics. The place was settled by Hessians back in George IV's time and marked traces of the early settlers remain. The housewives are so neat that they even put lace curtains at the cellar and woodshed windows. A prodigious clanging of church bells goes on in Lunenburg every Sunday, for the place has many places of worship. From Lunenburg come some of the hardiest and most skilful mariners and fishermen in the world, while the fishing fleet and the vessels built here have a wide reputation.—[Indianapolis News.

NO PLACE FOR LAUGHTER

Jimson found himself cut off by the tide. The only means of gaining safety, he saw, was by a narrow path cut in the face of the cliff.

Jimson is very fat and the path was very narrow. He scrambled along for some distance, getting more frightened, more angry and more heated every moment, until at last he came to a place where the path faded away into nothing. He balanced himself upon four inches of ledge and looked despairingly at the crowd above.

"What am I to do now?" he wailed.

"Do?" yelled a voice in reply. "Do anything you like, old man, but for goodness' sake don't laugh. If you do your waistcoat will bump you off, as sure as anything."—[Unidentified.

FOWLER TO HELP TRADE OF COUNTRY

Well Known Here Takes Up New Duties in States Settlements

In connection with the new government trade policy seeking to assist merchants and manufacturers, the Straits settlement, including territories will be established under Edward A. Fowler, chief of the Federal Bureau of Foreign and Domestic Trade. The appointment was announced yesterday by the Foreign Trade Department of the Chamber of Commerce and communicated to the regular meeting of the Foreign and Foreign Trade Council.

Mr. Fowler's selection over this appointment was approved by the Chamber of Commerce, and was announced by his twenty years in the Malay and Straits Settlements. He is considered by many as one of the most authoritative statisticians on trade matters in the service of the government.

Mr. Fowler is assisted by Osborne S. Watson and Edwin B. George. Mrs. Fowler accompanies him, and in past association with her husband has assisted materially in the making of reports.

Word was received on good authority at Washington that the China Trade Act, passed by both Houses, and which was supported by the Los Angeles Chamber at all times during its passage, will be signed by the President.

SHOPLIFTER STOWED AWAY IN CITY JAIL

Had Joe Martinez answered Judge Richardson when questioned in his trial yesterday morning that he had stolen a dress for his wife, mother or sweetheart, he perhaps would not be starting a 180-day sentence in jail today.

Martinez was caught on Monday at a department store by an operative from the Retail Dry Goods Merchants' Association. He pleaded guilty before Judge Richardson and when questioned, declared he meant to sell the dress. Result—180 days in the local bastile.

Three Dancing Halls Fall in Toils of Law

"The Lonesome Club," a public dance hall conducted by Mrs. Violettia E. Hatch at Fifteenth and Main streets, is in trouble with the police department, charges having been filed by five policewomen that minors are permitted to patronize the place.

In a report yesterday to the Board of Police Commissioners, the policewomen told of visiting the place and finding young girls dancing there and stated that when the officers told Mrs. Hatch she was violating the law, she abused the policewomen, the United States government and its laws, and declared that in Germany children were allowed to attend dances at public halls. Mrs. Hatch was cited to appear before the commission next Tuesday.

Charges of asserted illegal conduct of their dance halls were also filed against Watson & Watson of the Oriental Cafe at 252½ South Main street, and against Granby, Arens and Fry of 16801 Ventura Boulevard. Two policemen were recently shot at the Oriental Cafe, which the police declare has been patronized by women who were violators of the moral ordinances of the city, while the Ventura-Boulevard dance hall owners were charged with violating the Volstead Act.

Business Course Offered in Local Extension Work

Prof. Emery E. Olsen, assistant professor of economics and assistant director of the college of commerce of the University of Southern California, is conducting courses in business economics and in credits and collections in the extension division of the university.

During the last semester Prof. Olsen did special work at the University of Wisconsin.

The extension division of U.S.C. which opens this week with fifty-five courses given by forty educators gives an opportunity to every man and woman to have the advantage of university training, both in professional skill and work leading to an academic degree.

Festival Fund Goes to Help Mine Orphans

A special permit was granted yesterday by the Police Commission to E. J. Nagle, in charge of the Japanese Fall Festival, whereby the big entertainment will remain open to the public next Sunday for the benefit of the widows and orphans of the Jackson mine victims.

More than 15,000 persons have already visited the festival grounds, on San Pedro street between First and Second streets, according to Mr. Nagle who said this is one of the finest annual shows ever given by local Japanese.

No admission is charged for entrance to the spacious grounds and once inside the magically lighted and wonderfully decorated place the visitor can spend as much or as little money as he wishes for the privilege of "seeing snakes," monkeys and wild men, or for rides on Ferris wheels and merry-go-rounds.

The show starts every day at 2:30 p.m. and continues until 11 p.m. Every penny of profit obtained on the last day, September 24, will be donated to the Jackson sufferers, said Mr. Nagle.

NEW WELL TESTED

Santa Fe No. 1 Yielding 3000 Barrels Oil Daily

Announcements made yesterday by officials of the Co-operative Oil Syndicate, stated that their Santa Fe well No. 1, which came in at 3684 feet last Friday afternoon, is flowing a little better than 3000 barrels a day under an 800-pound gas pressure. The well is connected with the General Petroleum Company pipe lines.

Tests made at the well, according to the announcements of yesterday, show that the oil is about thirty-four gravity and is carrying only about one-tenth of one per cent sand. Experts who have examined the well state that it should continue to flow for months at around 3000 barrels. The oil is of a better grade than any that has been produced at Huntington Beach or Long Beach according to the owners.

State Issues Edict to End Car Shortage

As a result of numerous conferences held by traffic officials of different transcontinental railroads and State officials during the past few days, with reference to the refrigerator car shortage, which has become so acute, definite action has been taken whereby the Division of Markets of the State Department of Agriculture will take official charge of the car conservation program in this State, to the end that shippers holding cars over twenty-four hours for loading and unloading will be strictly called to account.

Fred N. Bigelow, Chief of the Division of Markets, has formulated plans for the control of the situation in the southern portion of the State, and will institute a check on all shippers and receivers, in order to expedite the release of refrigerator equipment.

Unless prompt and decisive action is taken, the 50,000 refrigerator cars estimated to be required to move the grape crop of the State during September and October, will not be forthcoming, resulting in serious loss, not only to the producers of the State, but to allied industries dependent upon the success of the proper marketing of the agricultural products.

PAVING WORK URGED

Council Asked to Speed Plans For Western Avenue

The permanent improvement and paving of Western avenue from Slauson avenue to Manchester avenue was urged in a resolution received yesterday by the City Council from the South Western Avenue Business Association. The resolution of the organization called attention to the fact that preliminary steps for this work were taken by the Council nearly a year ago and that all obstacles to the putting through of the improvement have now been removed.

FACES LIQUOR CHARGE

Julio Donnetto was taken into custody yesterday at Bell on a charge of violating the national prohibition law. A quantity of whisky and wine was found in his possession. He was released on a bond of $1000.

HAWAIIAN AIRS KHJ OFFERING

Concert Keeps Listeners' Interest Keen

Night Bill is Arranged by Frederick Herrmann

Basso-Cantante, Reader and Pianist Heard

Radioland, the majority of which are confirmed admirers of Hawaiian music as produced by steel guitar and ukulele, had forty-five minutes of real Hawaiian melody yesterday afternoon—the kind that makes your toes tingle and the loose shoulder to become wicked. The occasion was Sammy Kenelle's Hawaiians playing at KHJ.

This is a musical aggregation which knows and produces melody in a way that lovers of the sweetly compelling strains of the steel guitar, plus Hawaiian harmony, keenly appreciate. In a program strictly instrumental except to soprano numbers sung by Luana, who, with Sammy Kenelle, director; Sol Hoopii, steel guitar soloist; Richard Makinikaea, baritone; Laui Makinikaea, baritone, lead; Joseph Miklia, basso and Albert Williams, tenor, make up the troupe, nine numbers were given. The program opened with an orchestral number—"My Hawaiian Queen," followed by "Waimapuna," which means, in English, "Drowsy Waters." Sol Hoopii, steel guitar soloist, played two solos—"Constancy" and "Hano, Hano Hawaii," both of which were real gems of the steel guitar artistry. Luana, who dances as well as sings, as was evidenced later in the day when the whole troupe entertained the various departments of The Times, sang "Wreath of Hawaii," and "Hawaiian Hula," the members of the orchestra joining her in choruses.

The orchestra played three other selections—"Just Like a Rainbow," "The Sheik" and closed with the favorite Hawaiian number—"Aloha Oe," by Hiiluolani.

Last night's concert was arranged through the courtesy of Frederick Herrmann, Basso-cantante and teacher. Accompanied by Adele Dorothy Lauth, who with Mr. Herrmann, is affiliated with the Sherwood Music School of Chicago, he sang five numbers with an expression of feeling which made these solos an outstanding feature of the evening broadcast. His numbers were "Invictus," by Huhn; "Friend O' Mine," by Sanderson; "The Big Brown Bear," by Manacuca; "Annie Laurie," by Scott, and "Mother Machree," by Ball.

Anne Kavanaugh, dramatic reader, gave two excellent readings, one of which was "El Camino Real," by John Steven McGroarty, who conducts a page well known to readers of the Sunday Times magazine section, and the other "Irish Names."

Mattys Rogers gave three exceptional piano interpretations, playing "Polonaise," by MacDowell; "March Wind," by MacDowell, and "On the Wings of Song," by Liszt. Miss Rogers is an artistpupil of Mr. Herrmann and is leaving shortly for New York to continue her studies.

Seventy-five members of the Southern California Radio Association attended the regular bimonthly meeting held at Hamburger's Monday night. For the first time since last Spring nearly everybody was present, which include Lex B. Benjamin, president; H. A. Duvall, secretary; H. P. MacKenzie, treasurer; V. M. Hilts, traffic officer, and practically all the other amateur radio enthusiasts in the city. A general debate was held on the subject of "Rectified vs. D. C. machine for plate current," with practically everybody agreeing that the rectified current from a standpoint of cheapness and practicability was the better means of the two. At the next meeting to be held at Hamburger's Monday, October 2, a discussion of transmitting circuits is scheduled.

C. T. Schaffer of Sunnyvale has been appointed Los Angeles representative of the Sunnyvale Radio Shop. He has headquarters at the Trinity Hotel.

San Francisco is to have two large municipal radio disseminating stations, it is announced, one of them being operated by the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and the other by the municipal government. Matter sent broadcast from these two stations is to be strictly first class, so it is said, and neither station will inflict phonograph records upon the listening public. Daytime schedules will be given over to weather reports, stock reports and news, while the evenings will be devoted to high-class concert entertainment.

Cleveland is using her radio facilities for the catching of auto thieves, it is declared. This is done by disseminating a list of stolen cars each week, with a description such as the marke of each the car, engine number and license number. Scores of towns in the vicinity of Cleveland are made acquainted with the facts concerning the stolen autos in this way. Several cars have been recovered, it is asserted, and the thieves apprehended.

PATROLMAN ACCUSED

Woman Asserts He Struck Her and Fiance Without Cause

Charges were filed yesterday with the Board of Police Commissioners against Patrolman Gerald P. Moore by Miss Betty Miller, who asserted that the officer, without any cause whatsoever, struck her and her fiance, Henry Clayman, on the 16th inst., while the young man and woman were talking in front of Miss Miller's home at 1406 Pleasant avenue. The charges were referred to Acting Chief of Police Hilf for a report.

Hollywood Man Ends His Life With Revolver

A man of apparently 50 years of age and believed to be Henry J. Ebinger ended his life late yesterday in his home at 817 North Wilcox avenue, Hollywood, by sending a bullet into his brain, according to Hollywood police. A cheap 32-caliber revolver with one shell exploded was found near the man's body, the police stated.

At an early hour last evening Detective Sergeants Jarvis and Neece, detailed to investigate the case, had not learned whether the man had any relatives living with him or the motive for suicide. It is believed by the police that he was suffering from some malady.

DRIVER EXONERATED

Chauffeur for Lila Lee's Mother Released

Willie Graham, chauffeur for Mrs. August Appel, 1227 North Western avenue, mother of Lila Lee, well-known cinema actress, was exonerated yesterday by Justic Baird on a charge of manslaughter.

It was charged that the driver was responsible for the death in an automobile accident of Allie Banks Betts. Testimony indicated that the deceased stepped in front of the driver's car and then, after getting out of the way, again stepped in the path of the car. The dismissal was ordered with consent of Dep. Dist.-Atty. McClelland.

DANCE-HALL OWNER CITED

Peter Dokos, owner of the Casino restaurant and dance hall at 945 West Seventh street, was yesterday ordered to appear before the Board of Police Commissioners on October 3 to answer charges filed by the Rev. Gustav A. Briegleb that Mr. Dokos received his dance-hall permit by misrepresentation.

NEW PLAN FOR NAVAL GUNNERY

Pacific Fleet to Inaugurate Innovation

Will Link Two Systems in Battle Practice

Method to Revolutionize Battery Strength

Gunners of the Pacific Fleet next month will inaugurate what is said by naval experts to be the greatest forward step in naval gunnery since before the World War. For the first time in history, short-range battle practice, fired by the pointer system, will be combined with director practice, in which every gun is fired simultaneously by one directorscope operator, located high above the batteries in the fire control tower.

Short-range battle practice has heretofore been fired over a range of 1500 yards, its primary purpose being for the qualification of gun-pointers and crews, while director practice is ordinarily fired over a range of 4000 yards. It is in the latter practice that directorscope and target bearing and transmitter operators qualify for their ratings.

This year, however, both exercises will be combined and one set of targets used, towed at a distance of 3500 yards from the battleships.

SHIFT WITHOUT DELAY

Naval officers point out that the remarkable feature of the new practice is that the shift from the highly complicated directorscope control to pointer control will be without intermission. The entire practice consists of ten shots per gun, the first five salvos being by directorscope fire, while the last five shots of each turret will be controled by the gun-pointers themselves.

In directorscope control the fire of the guns is established by electrical interconnections and cross-connections, the new gunnery exercises necessitating the instantaneous transfer of all guns and turrets to local control for individual pointer fire. If the new practice proves successful, it was said, it will revolutionise the effectiveness of major naval batteries.

ALL TO PARTICIPATE

The exercises, scheduled to take place October 16 to 27, will be participated in by all units of the dreadnaught force with the exception of the Tennessee, which will then be undergoing overhaul at the Puget Sound Navy yard. The Idaho, now undergoing overhaul, is scheduled to arrive here October 19, in time to take up the practice with the other units of Battleship Division 8.

Fresh from the Bremerton Navy yard, the dreadnaught Mississippi is due at the home base tomorrow morning. She will immediately begin torpedo practice with the other units of Battleship Division 7, including the Arizona and Pennsylvania, which are now off San Diego in maneuvers. All three craft will return to this port Friday.

The Naval Reserve craft, the U.S.S. Eagle 35, put in from sea late Monday with her machinery disabled. She had been operating in the Catalina Channel, with the Eagle 47 when the accident occurred. Both vessels are carrying reservists on annual training cruise.

WARSHIPS EQUIPPED WITH DIESEL ENGINES

EXPECTED TO EFFECT GREAT SAVING BY NEW POWER PLANTS

Installation of Diesel engine-driven generators in the superdreadnaughts Maryland, Colorado, and West Virginia, marks another step in the development of motive power for capital ships. The West Virginia and Colorado, which are now nearing completion, have two 400-kilowatt, 240-volt generators, each driven at 350 revolutions per minute by a 950 - horsepower Busch-Sulzer Diesel engine. Two balancing sets will be provided to enable the generators to be used on the ship's 120-volt lighting circuits. A similar installation will be placed in the superdreadnaught Maryland before she comes to the Pacific Fleet next January.

After the installation is completed these ships will be able, to dispense with fires under their boilers when lying in port in moderate weather, as the extension of electric pump equipment, in addition to other electrical appliances, which have been placed in ships since the completion of the New Mexico class, will enable these great ships to carry on their port activities without the use of steam. Large economies in fuel oil consumption will result upon the installation, as comparison of an oil-driven engine with a steam engine shows a relative economy of about one to three.

The Diesel engine installations will be watched with great interest as they mark another important step in the evolution of naval engines.

STEAM TUG ASSIGNED TO CUSTOMS OFFICER

TAMAROA WILL BE USED BY HARBOR COLLECTOR AS PATROL BOAT

Collector Schwaebe announces the assignment by the United States Treasury Department of the 150-foot steam tug Tamaroa for service in the local waters, under the management and control of the collector of customs. The Tamaroa has but recently come off the ways at Los Angeles Harbor, where she had undergone a complete overhauling. The craft is in command of Capt. Thompson and a crew of thirty - eight men.

She will be used for boarding incoming vessels, the examination of arriving ship's papers, and general patrol service over an area extending from Guadalupe, north of Santa Barbara, to San Diego, which is the maritime district described by the United States Treasury regulations. The need of such a vessel has been long recognized. The Tamaroa goes into commission for regular service tomorrow.

EW YORKERS TRIUMPH; BROWNS DROP CONTEST

...rgmen Rally and Defeat Detroit

Senators Crush the Hopes of St. Louis

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

ST. LOUIS Sept. 19.—St. Louis dropped two and one-half games behind in the pennant race today by losing to Washington, 4 to 3, while New York was defeating Detroit. Washington came from behind in the eight and by bunching hits, including doubles by Harris and Rice, ran up three tallies. The Senators scored their other run in the sixth, when Judge hit into the right-field stands for a homer off Van Gilder. Home runs by Williams and Collins in the fourth and sixth innings respectively and Collins's double in the ninth, scoring Severeid who had singled, accounted for the Browns runs. Williams's clout was into the right-field stands and his thirty-ninth of the season. He is now leading all other major league players by two circuit drives.

George Sisler was out of the line-up because of an injured right shoulder but batted for Van Gilder in the eighth and struck out. Score:

BILL GERMM WORKS OUT WITH HUSKIES

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SEATTLE, Sept 19. — Bill Germm, who has played no football since he was put by Walter Camp on his second all-American team in 1919, is now one of the squad which Coach Enoch W. Bagshaw hopes to develop into a championship team at the University of Washington. The squad, which started Friday at 35, numbered 58 in practice last night.

MATERIAL GOOD AT HOLLYWOOD

Coach Call is Not so Happy Over Outlook Though

Team to Have Plenty of Beef, Says Mentor

Few Experienced Men Are on Return List

BY JOHN PROCTOR

"If you fellows get in and deliver the goods and shoot square with me I will shoot square with you, but if you don't come through with the goods and put all that you have into the game there won't be a mother's son of you that ever sees a league game from the field. I'll get a whole new team if I have to go to the lightweights to do it." This was the warm welcome that Ray Call handed out to his Hollywood High School first string yesterday, when he appeared on the field in a highly displeased state of mind.

"We have a fine bunch of men," stated Call, "and the spirit is good. Despite all of this the progress which we are making is not just what it should be."

Taking all of this with a grain of salt, we decided to take a look around and found that while the progress might be slow, according to the standards set by Call, the team is as far advanced as any other high school team.

NEW GRID MENTOR

Call is one of the best football men to be seen in the prep coaching ranks this year, and although it is his first year at Hollywood, he is coming along in fine shape. He was one of the staff of assistants to Sid Foster, Manual Arts mentor, last year, and previous to that he had charge of the football situation at Caltek.

The turnout at the Foothill school is something over 200, but the advent of the new coach was not as pleasant as it might have been. To begin with he found that of all of the men who were out last year for the pigskin game, and of all who made letters, only four are on the return list. The repeaters are Mishkin, who played quarterback, and was one of the best men that Johnson had; Meeks, one of the best pass-snagging ends that has been seen in the Hollywood ranks in a number of years; Denny, played a stellar game at the halfback position; Stout the only other letterman on the team was a husky gentleman who played fullback and is to try and fill the same space in the backfield this season.

Of the 200 men who are going through their stunts nightly, the majority are without experience in the gentle art of spilling the other man and packing the pigskin. However, some of the rmenants of last year's second string and a few of the former substitutes are doing their best to break into the ranks of the lettermen. Foremost among these are McCalla, a husky young tackle; Paulson, his counterpart physically and also on the team, who expects to play the corresponding position on the other side of the center; Cass and Nason, the latter a brother of the great Craig Nason, who is to play on the U.S.C. Frosh team this year, are to battle for the center position; Stephens, a man who made some good showings as a substitute tackle and is back to do better this year; Tipton and Edwards, the latter a former Michigan High School star, are to battle for jobs as halves; Smart and Johnson are out for the line. These average about 150 pounds.

O'BRIEN BACK?

The only spark of joy that has entered into the heart of Call recently is the persistent rumor that Ray O'Brien, former Hollywood star who was expected to attend the U.S.C. prep school, has returned and is eligible. If this rumor is true there is cause for great rejoicing on the part of the Foothillers. O'Brien is a fast halfback.

Coach Call is on the lookout for any stray practice games against near-by high schools that want to take him on.

ROSENBURG-O'DOWD BOUT CALLED OFF

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

NEW YORK, Sept. 19.—The bout between Mike O'Dowd, St. Paul, former middleweight champion, and Dave Rosenberg, of Brooklyn, rceognized as world's title holder in New York State, scheduled for tonight at Ebbetts Field, Brooklyn, has been indefinitely postponed.

GLOOMY GUS GETS A COLD SHOULDER

"Woe is me, woe is me," wails Coach Gloomy Gus Henderson of the University of Southern California as he discovers that two of his star footballers have been delayed, detained or darkly dealt with, and as a result, have not returned to school in time for the first week of practice.

The gentlemen in question are John Milton and Hayden Pythian, a couple of last year's frosh stars.

Milton has started from Milwaukee, but may have been held up by the railroad strike or some other line of opposition. Milton was scheduled to occupy one of the end jobs, and Pythian, who played half last year, was also scheduled to occupy an end.

Coach Long is Elated Over Peagree Material

Best Frosh Grid Class Ever to Enter Occidental

Walter Long, frosh grid coach at Occidental College, yesterday had thirty-eight men, collected all the way from South Dakota to our own triving little metropolis, out learning the various uses that a piece of leather, a bladder and wad of air can be put to.

Most of the thirty-eight claimed to be backfield men and ends, and most of them were not what anybody would term midgets. In fact, so husky were some of them that Coach Long stated he could mus-

"Achieve the Honorable and It Can be Done"

This is the text of the speech which Ray Call, new grid mentor of the movieland high school, was in the act of delivering when we romped onto the scene and playfully snapped him. Incidentally the majority of his first-string men are to be seen draped in various graceful poses on the tanbark. The upper shot shows a close-up of the Call mouth action—he was just impressing the point of tackling hard. The lower rumpus is merely one of the many Hollywood passes being passed from Bill Davies to Solly Mishkin, a couple of husky Foothillers.

OLIVER MITCHELL STILL TOPS TWIRLERS

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 19.—Oliver Mitchell, lanky southpaw of the San Francisco Seals, still tops the list of Pacific Coast League pitchers, with a percentage mark of .808 for twenty-one games won and five lost.

Jakie May, the Vernon ace, won his two games last week and passed Jim Scott, San Francisco veteran, who has held second place on the list for some time. May's percentage is .795, he having won thirty-one and lost eight. Scott has a mark of .767 for twenty-three games won and seven lost.

MURPHY IS WINNER IN SECOND

Knocks Out Sirey in a Wild Battle; Brown Beats Goozeman

BY LEEPSON BOWNES

"Larry Murphy saw Georgie Rivers get robbed of a decision last night at Vernon and concluded that it wasn't safe to leave any doubt about his ability to beat the man who knocked him out a week ago. Whereupon he up and pasted George Sirey, his erstwhile conqueror, with a half a dozen whizzing rights at the start of the second round and knocked that estimable young man for a loop.

Murphy emerged from his corner with caution and instructions stocking out all over him. Sirey started confidently and pasted him numerous thumping lefts to the stomach. Sirey led easily on points until about fifteen seconds before the end of the first round, when Larry let go a terrific right that all but ended the fight right there.

A gong saved Sirey but Murphy advanced from his corner in the second with the scent of victory in his nostrils and in half a minute had Sirey on the floor with an awful right swing. Sirey arose at the count of ten but a series of terrific right uppercuts put him completely out of commission and as he flopped to the floor on his face, completely out, a sponge was tossed from his corner and Murphy was the victor.

One of the best fights of the night was that between Frankie Novie and George Rivera. Rivers had a big edge in three out of the four rounds and should have had a decision but Novie's forcing tactics evidently caught somebody's eye. When the referee raised Novie's hand the crowd let out a terrible yell which continued for ten or fifteen minutes.

Young Brown won a clean-cut decision over Ernie Goozeman in the main event. The brown-skinned demon hounded Ernie around the ring and never gave the San Diego boy a chance to get set. Just previous to the main event Frank Keenan rose to mention the bereaved families of the miners who perished at Jackson and approximately $600 was thrown into the ring by the fans.

In the other fights Louie Garcia, in a passionate pair of lavender pants, won a decision over Johnny Tyman, who tired badly; Ernest Owens won a decision over Jack Moore in a punk affair; Joe Mandot and Johnny LaRose fought a fiercely contested draw and Lucky Lugo and Eddie Watson divided the honors in the bloodiest opening bout seen in some time.

SACCO PREPARES FOR BOUT WITH LAVIGNE

Jimmy Sacco of Portland arrived in the city yesterday, and immediately began training at the Lyceum gym for his bout with George Lavigne in the main event at the American Legion Hollywood arena Friday night.

Charlie Sullivan returns after a brief lay-off to meet Joe Dunn of Oakland, in the semi-wind-up. Jimmy O'Gatty and Eddie Roberts will meet in the feature preliminary. Four other bouts complete the card.

TENNIS RIVALS TO MEET

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

It will mark Miss Browne's first appearance in singles in the East this year, but experts who have watched her practice this week on the West Side Tennis Club's courts, declare she is playing fully as well as when she forced Mrs. Molla Mallory to three sets in the national championship final last year. She was national titleholder in 1912, 1913 and 1914.

Two singles and a doubles match will be played Friday afternoon in the East-West series prior to the Mallory-Browne contest. R. Norris Williams of Boston, will oppose Robert Kinsey of San Francisco, while Watson M. Washburn of New York will meet Howard Kinsey in the singles. The doubles match will bring together William Tilden and Vincent Richards, the national champions, representing the East, and William M. Johnston and Willis E. Davis of the western team.

OUTLOOK BRIGHT FOR SOCCERITES

Three New Teams May Enter Local League

Wealth of Material on Hand in All Clubs

High School Students Plan an Organization

Association football or soccer as it is generally termed is regarded by many followers of sport as something foreign. It has been looked upon as a game indulged in and kept alive by English and Scotch, who have brought their love of it to their adopted country. This was true of soccer of a few years ago, but conditions have changed. Then the sport enjoyed a certain popularity that was largely local in character; today soccer presents a fine picture in national development.

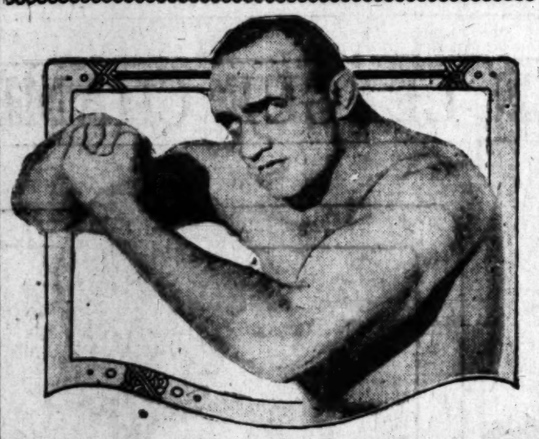
Credit for this development goes to the United States Football Association who, in order to interest Americans in soccer, nationalized its government on American lines. The response was splendid. Clubs that heretofore had to depend on players of foreign birth found a liberal supply of native talent. In this forward march Southern California has shared, and all clubs franchised in the Southern California Soccer Association have a good percentage of Americans on their rosters.

Prospects for the coming season in Los Angeles and vicinity are exceptionally bright. All of last year's clubs report a wealth of material, while three or four new elevens will seek membership in the league. The Sampson Tire Company of Compton has organized a strong aggregation. The Pacific Telephone Company, Southern California Edison, and the All-Scottish form the other three that may enter.

This year soccer has been introduced into the grade schools, and as these empty into the high schools soccer will go with them. There is now a possibility that a high school league will be formed this season with a schedule calling for Saturday games.

Every indication points to the league being a well balanced one, and the standard of play will undoubtedly be higher that any with which the soccer public has been provided in the past.

BLOOD-SWEATING GLADIATORS WILL BE TURNED LOOSE ON PUBLIC AT HOLLYWOOD ARENA



Wladek Zbyszko

"Gardini is plenty tough, but I'll 'take' him Wednesday night," were the words put into the mouth of Wladek Zbyszko by the high-powered P. A. who is handling the broadcasting of Promoter Umberto Rovere's gala grappling carnival to be staged at the American Legion Hollywood arena tonight.

"Actions," they say, "speak louder than words." If that be true, then Renato Gardini is licked before he enters the ring tonight. The action alluded to is the picture which appears above in which Mr. Zbyszko is shown shaking hands with himself for achieving a victory over the Italian heavyweight wrestling champion.

GALA DAY

This is a gala day in the local Italian colony. More than 100 automobiles will gather at the Rogers Airport, on Wilshire Boulevard between 2 and 3 o'clock this afternoon and await the arrival of Gardini, who meets Zbyszko in a two-hour, best two-out-of-three-fall match tonight. The first match, between Taro starts promptly at 8:30 o'clock. Judging from the advance sale of seats the men will play to a packed house.

There is about as much interest in the Mondt-Miyake affair tonight as in the main number. They'll wrestle thirty minutes jiu jitsu style and then thirty minutes under catch-as-catch-can regulations.

Bull Montana, now famous as a motion-picture actor, is to referee both battles.

Zbyszko was yesterday matched to wrestle Ed ("Strangler") Lewis in San Francisco September 26 for the world's heavyweight championship so is out to win tonight just as quickly as possible.

"I'll beat Gardini tonight and Lewis September 26, too," said Zbyszko last night. "The 'Strangler' won't get his famous headlock working in good fashion when I get him on the mat. He tried it time and again against Gardini in their match last month, but frequently missed, and after two or three times seemed to find it necessary to rest up.

"He did, however, use a double wristlock, and certainly punished Gardini when he clamped on this hold. The Italian was game, however, and managed to break the hold in the end. Gardini led all the way for an hour. I'll lead all the way and will win."

ANGELES COURSE TOURNEY

Changes in Links to be Done in Time for Blind Bogey Next Saturday

The impovements which are being made on the links of the Angeles Vista Golf Course will in all probability be completed in time for the blind bogey tournament which is to be staged over the attractive southwestern course next Saturday.

Among the changes which have been made is the elimination of a couple of blind shots which were of great hindrance to the players as the shot was liable to go almost anywhere after sailing over the obstructing hill. The tee which caused all of the trouble has been moved to the top of the hill and a clear view of the fairway can be obtained.

One of the holes has been shortened from a four par to a three par shot and one of the difficult shots has been done away with here. The "seventeenth" which formerly had a blind shot and what was even worse, a shot where the ball was liable to go onto the fairway of the eighth hole and be picked up by players on that part of the course, has been changed so that the trouble has been eliminated.

Within the last few weeks a professional has been obtained by the course, and Tom Brooks, who has charge of this end of the affair, is giving lessons every Saturday and Sunday and at other times by appointment.

OH, FOR PONIES, AT YE TIJUANA

Stakes to be Richer Than Those of 1921

Crawford Handicap to Reach Prize of $35,000

Sport of Kings to Begin on Thanksgiving Day

Racing on a scale never before attempted during the winter in any part of America, thoroughbred sport of a caliber which will make a record for the West with the greatest distribution of money ever attempted by a jockey club west of the Mississippi is a thumbnail prospectus of the seventh annual race meeting at Tijuana, Mex., which is scheduled to start Thanksgiving Day, November 30 for a run of 100 days or more.

Announcement of plans for racing on a bigger scale than Tijuana has ever had before is contained in telegrams from Pres. James Wood Coffroth in New York. He advises that the Coffroth Handicap at 1 1-4 miles, now a classic in Winter racing, will have $30,000 in added money. With the nomination fees the total for this event will reach about $35,000, a sum much greater than ever before offered in Western running racing and making it the richest stake in America for gallopers of all ages.

EIGHT STAKES

There will be eight stakes in all and for each of these the money value has been increased over that of last season when Tijuana was credited with having reached the high-water mark. The stakes will have a total of more than $150,000 added money and the big melons are declared certain to tempt the first-string stables of the country. Due to the uncertainties of the New Orleans weather, horsemen undoubtedly will give Tijuana first call now that they know that during the 100 days or more of the sport there will be more than $750,000 distributed in stakes and purses.

As for the winter racing at Havana the Cuban city must now take off its hat to Tijuana, where there will be much more money. It is expected that this and the inconvenience of shipping to Cuba, which involves a rail and also water transportation, will determine many of the bigger stables to race at the Mexican track.

The Coffroth Handicap, the Tijuana Derby, Futurity Cup and other of the stake events will not make the season any more than one swallow makes a spring for there will be attractive races each day. The daily programs will call for seven races or more. The season will be opened with this minimum number, but when under way a few weeks the programs will be increased to eight races, then to nine and for Sundays and holidays during the latter part there will be ten races.

The daily distribution of money will be greater for the coming season, President Coffroth advises. There will be one race with a $1000 purse, two of $700, two of $500 and two of $500 each day.

President Coffroth, who is now directing affairs from New York, has representatives at the Canadian, New York, Maryland, Kentucky and other tracks and he advises these report a big desire on the part of the horsemen to race at Tijuana.

"Doc" Skinner Has Mechanic Trackmen Out

"Doc" Skinner, Polytechnic track coach, believes in preparedness, so the mechanic track aspirants have already started training under his guiding hand. Hopes are high out at Poly for a classy cinder-path squad, next spring, as there will be ten lettermen back.

"Chuck" Mitchell will captain next spring's team and will have to back him up Carl Plate, sensation distance runner, who won the mile in the city meet last year; Bruce Smith, speedy quarter-miler; Herman Stahl, pole vaulter, who cleared the bar at eleven feet in meets last spring; Ralph Twitchell, hurdler, weight man, high and broad jumper; "Hank" Coggeshall, high jumper, who has leaped five feet, ten inches; Archie Bish, broad jumper; Horace Stone, sprinter and Louie Burman, hurdler and broad jumper. Foster Phelps, another 440-man who injured his foot early in the season last year, will also be on deck.

With this collection back it appears as if the Mechanics will make it warm for the rest of the City League schools this coming track season. There is also a rumor floating around that a new man, capable of reeling off a mile in the neighborhood of 4:45, is now attending Poly. The only events the Mechanics look to be weak in are the two dashes, the shot-put and the discus. Probably two husky gents will be dug up around the Washington-street institution this year to step in and relieve the situation as far as the weight events are concerned.

GMC

GMC TRUCKS ARE "SEVEN STEPS AHEAD"

1 Two Range Transmission

Better Compression —More Power

2 Removable Cylinder Walls

Because the cylinder walls in GMC Engines are removable sleeves of even thickness they do not get "out of round" with the pistons in actual engine operation.

This increases operating efficiency by maintaining perfect compression and producing more power with less fuel.

3 Radius Rods

Moreover, in cases of damaged cylinder walls it ordinarily takes only two hours to replace a GMC cylinder. Where walls are integral with the cylinder block, it usually takes at least 24 hours.

4 Pump and Thermo-Syphon Cooling

5 Removable Valve Lifter Assemblies

6 Pressure Lubrication

Jungle Babes Wallop Oakland Heavers Scandalously

POP BOTTLE DUE TO GET THE AIR

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

CHICAGO, Sept. 19.—The pop bottle, as much as part of a ball game as hot dog and peanuts, is threatened with the gate in big league society, Ban Johnson, president of the American League asserted today, announcing that he expected to bring the matter up for discussion during the winter meetings. The revival of the bottle crusade is the result of a happening in the New York-St. Louis game last Saturday when Outfielder Witt of the Yankees was knocked unconscious by a pop bottle thrown by a disgruntled fan.

This seems to be a period of attempted rejuvenation in the Queensberry realm.

Three fallen and retired champions—Jess Willard, Willie Ritchie and Kid Williams—have announced their intention of "coming back," or at least striving to.

Willard probably is the only one of the trio who aims seriously at regaining his title. Williams admits that he has grown too heavy to again aspire to the bantamweight crown, but he does believe that he can bounce some of the featherweights off the canvas, and he may figure that Johnny Kilbane is about ripe to pick.

Ritchie, always a "heavy" lightweight, probably will, after his lay-off, find himself scaling close to the welterweight mark. However, the lightweights grow larger than formerly, and Willie may try to hover around that division.

Ritchie retired when he figured to be about in his prime, and it would not be surprising should he at 31 be able to trim some of the present lightweights and welters. Williams also should have some good fights left in him, although he seemed to decline after losing to Herman on points. This is believed to have been due to discouragement more than physical deterioration or a distinct waning of his powers.

Of course, it is impossible to envision him as the tremendous little fighter that we saw at Vernon some years ago. He is only around 27, but he started early, and this means a sapping of the stamina. Jack Twin Sullivan is fighting with some effectiveness at 45. However, Jack is something of a freak. He always got through his battles with the least possible effort, and generally escaped with the minimum of punishment. Jack displayed good headwork and also good elbow work. How he could work that elbow to the discomfiture of an opponent! And it was always accompanied by such an apologetic look that the referee seldom if ever penalized him.

Billy Miske seems to have embarked on a very successful "comeback." He topped a list of minor achievements by knocking out Fred Fulton in less than a round.

Osteopathic correction of spinal trouble is said to have greatly improved Miske physically. But the same report was circulated prior to Billy's last fight with Dempsey, and he was no match for the latter. However, his defeats of Roper, Roberts, Renault, Shade, Meehan and Burke, and rapid knockout of Fulton, would appear to give him stronger claim than any other white heavyweight in the world to recognition by the champion.

Strangely this same Meehan party has proved a tough customer for both Dempsey and Willis. Willis admits it and Dempsey's record shows it.

Unless Johnny Kilbane changes his tactics he will not win any popularity contests. His demands for 42½ per cent of the receipts and a guarantee of $100,000 for a match with Eugene Criqui will do neither him nor the boxing game any particular good.

These were the terms alleged to have been laid down by Kilbane to a delegation from the American Legion, and the Legionnaires remained to listen no longer.

Pounce on Portsider Eley Most Dashingly

Oakland Misfits Easy for Grinning Tigers

Heaver Doyle Tightens Up When in Danger

BY ED O'MALLEY

Bill Essick and his never-say-die Tigers, squeezed to within a half game of the Seals yesterday afternoon at Washington Park by upsetting the Oaks 11 to 4. Just before the contest started Bill ejaculated, "havoc" and the jungle babes responded with alacrity.

Ivan Howard—a manager who is incumbered with an awful bunch of flotsam and jetsam—poked Portsider Eley at the grinning Bengals. This bird showed that he was from the path of dexterous pitching remote, soon after hostilities bore down on him. Almost throughout the entire tilt it was a case with the Bengals of "on they rushed with ruinous assault."

TAPPED LIVELY

Doyle officiated in the curve industry for Essick. He was tapped rather lively at times, but when things began to body up dangerously, he smeared a veneer of cleverness on the old orb and pulled out unscathed.

The visitors initiated the pastime by shooting over a brace of tallies. Schulte starting off with a dainty single to center. Brubaker filed to Bodie. Then Denny Willis forced Schulte at second, French to Sawyer. Denny to make amends stole second. Cather walked and Lefty Lafayette, who shouted "We are here," pasted the pill to the Cherry Blossoms sign for a mountain of a triple, scoring Willis and Cather.

STRIKES OUT

Knight struck out. Knight's playing throughout the proceedings was in baleful contrast to that which he discovered here before he met with the accident that robbed him of a finger. He was woefully weak at the bat and his throwing was preposterous. The injury has evidently played havoc with this once clever player's efficiency.

Vernon just two-stepped along until the fifth inning, when Eddie Maier gave the word "boys—go out there and clip off five runs," and sure enough they clipped. The tearing off listens something like this: Chadbourne singled to right. Schneider hit a hard one at Eley, the ball bouncing out of the heaver's gloved mitt and falling between Chaves and Knight, both runners being safe. Sawyer niftily sacrificed, Eley to Knight.

BIFFS OLD PILL

Then Ping Bodie picked out one with beautiful bobbed hair, dashing it to left for a single. Chadbourne and Snyder scooted home. Locker sent a terrific drive close to the foul line in far left, shooting Bodie to third. Murphy hit an easy bounder to Knight, who, although he had oodles of time to peg, pushed a belated throw to Koehler, but the evasive Bodie slid under the circus pole and was declared safe.

It looked like murder in the first degree for Ping to attempt a rush homeward. French filed to Cather. Locker and Murphy then pulled off a neat double steal, Locker scoring. Koehler, glimpsing the play, shot the ball on a line to Knight who had plenty of time for an effective return, but the second sacker threw high, with the result that the pill jilted Koehler's glove which seemed to hang on the sun. Zeider deftly placed a single in left, sending Murphy home. Doyle popped to Knight.

Essick was so cocksure of the game that he put the weakest lineup he could muster, in the field. Sawyer was at second, Zeider at third and Locker at first. Now if the Tigers can win in a gallop with a weak line-up, what will they do when they put their prettiest on the field? The answer—they will lead San Francisco before the week is over. Score:

TIGER ROOKIES ARE BACK FROM IONIA

Vernon Blenkiron and Parry O'Brien, outfielders of the Vernon baseball team, have returned to Los Angeles after very successful seasons with the Ionia (Mich.) club of the Central League. Blenkiron hit .320 and O'Brien .335. Blenkiron hit left-handed against right-handed pitchers and did well.

Catcher Eddie Kenna, another Vernon player, who is now at his home in San Francisco, also played with the Ionia team. He batted .310.

RAIN DRIVES TEAM FOOTBALLERS INDOORS

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

NOTRE DAME, Sept. 19.—Rain drove the varsity from Cartier Field into the gym today and Coach Rockne took advantage of the enforced curtailment to give several new plays to the squad. Doors were closed to the student body for the first time this season.

Peno Leroy and his brother, Harry Leroy, second baseman and rightfielder, respectively, of the Renshaw, Jones and Sutton club, formerly played with the Kingman (Ariz.) team.

L. Zamboni, substitute catcher for the Hynes ball team, got his first chance in a game recently and showed up so well that he will probably be given more chances to work from now on.

semi-pro aggregations lined up in Southern California. The players have only been playing together for a short while, but as soon as they get a little more teamwork, Carrier says that they will be a hard bunch to stop.

Frank Egan, a promising young infielder who formerly played with the Edgewater and Cadillac teams in Denver, has been signed by the Glendale Merchants. "Pep" Beiser, also an infielder, was recently signed by the same squad.

Sam Bell, Glendale first sacker, has poled out two home runs with the bases loaded so far this season.

RAILROAD SALE DELAYED

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

A Gallon of Red Crown takes you farther

Prove it for yourself. Get a fresh tankful of "Red Crown," and then feel the strength of your motor. Note the increased power on the hills. Note the smoothness of starting and acceleration. Keep track of your mileage, and you'll find that it pays to stick to "Red Crown."

In six successive Los Angeles-Yosemite Economy Runs, all cars entered used "Red Crown" and nothing else. Here is practical, public recognition on the part of automotive engineers, that "Red Crown" meets the demand for a motor fuel that will vaporize rapidly and uniformly in the carburetor, and be consumed completely in the cylinders.

Use "Red Crown" exclusively and you will reduce carbon trouble to a minimum, do away with the need of carburetor adjustments, and enable your car to develop the maximum of power and mileage that its makers built into it.

Fill at the Red Crown sign—at Service Stations, garages, or other dealers.

Record Crowd on Pomona Grid

FIFTY-SEVEN IN FIRST WORKOUT

Candidates Show Much Pep Despite Heat

Thirteen Vets Return for Football Work

Trojans to Meet Sagehens in Opening Game

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CLAREMONT, Sept. 19.—"The inferno," as pictured by Dante, had nothing on Alumni Field this afternoon, in the opinion of Coach Eugene White Nixon's Pomona College football team, which went through the initial workout of the 1922 season with Old Sol, contributing a temperature slightly in excess of 100 deg. The men are ready to swear that the man who first called a football field a gridiron played in or near Claremont. The only cool thing on the field at the start of the afternoon was Coach Nixon's little tin whistle, but before long it was red hot, the Sagehen mentor's short blasts keeping the Blue and White athletes on the jump throughout the better part of two hours.

RECORD TURNOUT

The turnout was a record one so far as the past four or five years are concerned. Manager Paul Walker issued no less than fifty-seven suits to varsity candidates alone, fifty-two of these appearing for this afternoon's practice. The frosh were unable to get equipment, merely because there wasn't any, and Coach Nixon is making a hurry-up trip to the city to secure more outfits.

Here are the veterans the Sagehens have on hand: Quarterback, Capt. Ray Wilson; halfbacks, Doughty, Leezer; fullbacks, Collins, Kennedy; ends, Haughton, Dagg, Braven Dyer; tackles, Robertson, Chambers; guards, Thomas Brainerd Dyer; center, Mooney.

Assistant Coach Beefy Heath was particularly pleased with the return of Macy Chambers, a guard in 1919 and 1920. A good lineman himself, Heath knows all the ins and outs of the forward play, and counts Chambers as the bulwark of the Sagehen line. Chambers will play either at guard or tackle, while there is a chance that he may be used at end.

Roland Clarke, star captain of last year's frosh outfit, stepped into his varsity shoes, and it is expected that he will have no trouble filling them. Clarke was the outstanding star of the 1925 peagreens, and should soon prove to be the equal of Chauncey Voorhies, last year's captain. The new Sagehen is an excellent punter, a sure passer, and will hold his own with any of the Southern California backs when it comes to carrying the ball. Watch Clarke go this year!

DAGGS IS BUSY

Charley Daggs, who left school last spring without completing the semester, has been busy during the past few weeks making up his work. Unless Daggs fails, and it is unlikely that he will, as the Olympic star is a good student, he will again be eligible for varsity competition. Daggs is no bigger than last year, but looks faster and should take easier to the game this season.

Coach Nixon, in speaking to the men, said: "I am pleased with the spirit of the men of the college in turning out this way. I believe we are off to a good start. Pomona hit rock bottom, or practically rock bottom, last year, and I look to see us pull out of the hole this season. By that I do not mean that we are going to trim all the other conference teams, but the scores will be mighty close."

There was one dark spot for the Sagehen coach, Harry Bowman, giant tackle, failing to return. Bowman has an excellent position, and has decided to quit school for the pursuit of business. He was a trifle awkward last year, but Nixon had counted on great things from him this season.

EASY WORKOUT

Practice today consisted in passing and falling on the ball, tackling, blocking and a little workout on the dummy.

Pomona's first big game of the year comes October 7, when the U.S.C. eleven invades Claremont. Nixon's men are headed for that game.

Manager Paul Walker announces that there will be plenty of seats for all, but that the limited number of reserved seats will go fast. Anyone wishing reserved seats should write to Walker at Smiley Hall, Claremont, or Coach Nixon, Claremont.

RACKETERS PLAN TRIP TO EUROPE

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

PHILADELPHIA, Sept. 19.—William T. Tilden II, national tennis champion, and William M. Johnston, San Francisco runner-up in this year's national singles championship, plan to invade Europe in 1924, according to the champion.

"Unless something arises I have not foreseen, I do not expect to go abroad next summer," said Tilden today.

"But I do expect to go in 1924, and I think Johnston will go with me."

Tilden said if the trip is made they would play in singles and pair up in doubles.

"THIRTEEN" IS A REAL JINX

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

SOUTH PASADENA, Sept. 18.—Ah-hah, here's a brief for a favorite jinx!

Ralph Fugit was a brave young lad—and cheerfully accepted a jersey decorated with a large "13" for use in opening football practices.

And then someone ran into Ralph rather roughly, tore loose a rib—and now he's out of the game and firmly convinced that there is something to the old "13" superstition.

PRINCETON SQUAD PUT THROUGH TRACES

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PRINCETON (N. J.) Sept. 19.—The hardest workout since practice began was given the Princeton football squad this afternoon. For three hours the coaches drove the candidates at top speed and for the first time allowed the men to tackle each other in the line bucks.

The program for the day also included a long signal drill, dummy tackling and running down under punts.

HARVARD ELEVEN IN SECRET WORKOUT

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

CAMBRIDGE (Mass.) Sept. 19. This afternoon Head Coach Fisher of the Harvard varsity eleven took his players into the stadium for their first secret practice session of the year.

Last season Holy Cross held the Crimson to a 3-to-0 score early in the year and, as there is another excellent team in the making at Worcester, the Cambridge coaches have started work on players earlier than they usually do.

JAPONETTE

BY ROBERT W. CHAMBERS

SYNOPSIS OF PREVIOUS INSTALLMENTS.

James Edgerton returns from Paris and finds that the house of Edgerton, Tennant & Co., from which business he derived his income, has failed, leaving him practically penniless. Arriving in New York he goes to his club and resigns. Then to his apartment, left a year previously in charge of the janitor. Upon entering he finds the apartment occupied by two young women, Diana and Silvette Tennant, distant cousins, likewise left financially stranded by the failure of the firm. Edgerton, upon entering his own apartment, is mistaken for a burglar by Diana Tennant, and she threatens to call the janitor. He asks for an explanation. Diana explains. Then her sister, Silvette, arrives upon the scene and insists upon Edgerton remaining and occupying the spare room. The Tennant sisters have taken the apartment for the purpose of advertising for engagements as social entertainers. Edgerton then proposes that he be permitted to join the group, his name with its social prestige and the charm and beauty of his cousins being sure, he insists, to attract newly-made millionaires, thus insuring the trio a comfortable income. The young women agree, and a Mr. Rivett calls, accompanied by Colonel Curnew. An agreement is quickly reached.

Diana and Silvette seemed surprised, Edgerton wore a preoccupied expression; his eyes narrowing on the big eyeglasses of Mr. Rivett, which reflected the studio window on their convex surface.

"About myself," continued Mr. Rivett with more abruptness, "I have a house in New York, which is closed, and one or two others; one in particular where my family is living—my wife, son and daughter. It's called Adriutha Lodge, I don't know why—my wife named it. It's comfortable and big enough to entertain in."

He looked at Silvette without a particle of expression in his face.

"I would like you—both of you young ladies—and your cousin, Mr. Edgerton, to help us entertain. If we knew how to entertain successfully we wouldn't ask anybody to show us how. It is better to be plain about it. We are plain folk from a small town in the West.

"We know very few people; we mean to know more. I've come to this city to remain; I want to make as few mistakes as possible socially. What I wish you to do is to help me out. Will you?"

After a moment Diana asked: "Where is Adriutha Lodge?"

"In the Berkshires. Will you come?"

She glanced at the colonel, but he was staring so fixedly at her that she looked away.

"We might consider it," said Silvette, turning toward Edgerton.

"Couldn't you consider it at once?" asked Mr. Rivett. Evidently this little man with his glasses and his protuberant mustache had his own methods of accelerating business.

"You have mentioned no terms," said Edgerton.

"Oh! Am I to mention them? I expected you had your own ideas on that subject. Very well, then." And the offer he made left them silent and a little shy. It seemed too much.

Edgerton said laughingly to Diana:

"Suppose we consult in your room—if Mr. Rivett doesn't mind our withdrawing for a moment."

"Go ahead," nodded Rivett energetically; "that's exactly what I want—quick action. I like quick results."

So Silvette and Diana and Edgerton rose and entered the room in single file, closing behind them the folding doors.

"Well!" breathed Diana sitting down on the edge of the bed, "did you ever before see a man of that kind?"

Silvette turned to Edgerton. "What do you think of him, cousin?"

"Why, I rather like that dried-up little chip," he said. "He's about the grade of citizen we expected."

"We?" repeated Diana meaningly, "do you expect to go with us?"

"Are you going to force me out of this perfectly good combination, Diana?"

The girl sat silent on the bed's edge regarding him, but not answering.

"There's one thing which ought to be settled now," observed Silvette; "if our cousin, Mr. Edgerton, is to remain in this firm, we've got to call him Jim, if only for appearance's sake. Otherwise people would chatter."

"Jim?" repeated Diana; "very well. It doesn't embarrass me to call him Jim—or Tom or Bill, for that matter," she added indifferently.

"It doesn't worry me, either," said Edgerton; "call me anything but early!"

"Such a poor joke!" said Silvette, "if we ever call you cousin, it will be a very late affair—and with nothing under a full house."

"Poker!—and you! What an incredible combination!" he said.

Diana interrupted coolly: "If you please, Mr. Edgerton, what is your valuable and masculine opinion concerning this munificent offer for the summer?" And she let her glance rest slowly and sidewise on her sister.

"Take it," he said; "it's a good offer."

"Is that your vote?" inquired Silvette.

"Have I a vote?" he asked of Diana; but she merely said: "I say we try the Rivetts of Adriutha. That is my vote."

"Then—so do I say so," nodded Silvette. "Is it settled?"

Diana looked up at Edgerton.

"Are you really expecting to come with us?"

"If you will let me."

She remained a moment in thought; then sprang lightly to her feet.

"Who is going to be our spokesman?" she asked; "you, sister?"

"Jim," said Silvette, tranquilly leading the way. "It looks better, I think."

So Edgerton politely informed Mr. Rivett of the unanimous decision, and that little man got briskly to his feet.

"I'm satisfied," he said. "Come to Adriutha as soon as you are ready. Bring all the luggage you want to bring; there's plenty of room. Don't bring any servants; there are more than enough here now. My wife and I receive you as guests; my son and daughter are about your ages; nobody can prophesy what you'll think of them or they of you. . . . Colonel—if you are ready. . . . Good-by, ma'am," to Silvette, offering a dry little hand; and he took leave of Diana and of Edgerton, and pulled the colonel unceremoniously out of a most elegant attitude, ruining a jaunty bow, which he had not intended to finish so abruptly.

"Well!" exclaimed Silvette with a sigh and a laugh as the door closed, "it's settled! Let's forget it. . . . What do you think of our gowns, Cousin James?"

"Corking," he replied, "but my cousin Diana was very fetching in her Japanese dress this morning."

"That's like a man!" observed Diana. "I was a mess, Silvie—with two ragged peonies over my ears and those old straw sandals of yours——"

"You were a vision of fairyland," he insisted. "I may be weak-minded, but I simply cannot get that vision of you out of my head."

"Try some tea," was the maid brought it; "weak tea and feeble intellect agree."

"Oh, I'll try tea or anything else, but if you think I'm likely to forget the first moment I ever saw you—a slender, Japanese shadow shape against the sun!—ethereal, vaguely tinted, exquisite——"

"You are a poet, Jim," said Silvette admiringly. "I read one of your rhymes in 'Life' once, and didn't think so."

GERMANS' SECRET BANK ARRANGEMENTS

BANK OF ENGLAND INVOLVED IN DEAL TO GUARANTEE REPARATION PAYMENTS

[BY CABLE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

BERLIN, Sept. 19.—Government representatives preserve an air of great mystery about the details of the arrangements concluded between President Havenstein of the Reichsbank and the Bank of England. It declares it is fully satisfied that the Reichsbank agreed to indorse German treasury bonds for Belgium payments as demanded by Belgium, and the details are a confidential matter between the two autonomous banking institutions.

The mystery evidently is intended to hide from the German public the nature of the Reichsbank's guarantees to the Bank of England, especially how the German gold reserve is involved in the pledge. Government representatives deny any gold actually will be paid out.

A significant fact is that with the notification of the Reichsbank's decision, which the cabinet has tried tonight to convey to Belgium, the present reparations crisis is shelved for the moment at least.

A HELP

Jud Tunkins says a jazz band helps people to forget their more serious troubles, same as a mosquito bite.—[Washington Star.

What is—a worth-while battery?

The eager whir of the motor the moment your foot touches the starting pedal. Lights instantly bright at the turn of a switch. Those are the gifts to you of a really powerful battery.

And when reliable power is combined with exceptionally long life, as in the Exide, then your battery is not merely a comfort, but a genuine economy.

An inferior battery, cheap in its first cost, is always the most expensive in the long run.

Exide has earned its title of the long-life battery, from the day eleven years ago when the first battery (an Exide) took its place in an automobile. Today more cars leave the factories equipped with Exides than with any other make of battery.

You are entitled to a real battery, and from every angle it will pay you to get one. Go to the nearest Exide service station and see for yourself the rugged quality that is built into the battery made for your car.

TAKE VOTE ON SCHOOL PROBLEMS

Pasadena Board to Submit Problems to Voters Next Month in Referendum

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent
[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

PASADENA, Sept. 19.—The decision of the voters in the unofficial school referendum October 5 next, will be binding upon the school board as to two questions, and merely advisory as to the other two, the board decided today when it adopted the final form of ballot. The questions on which the board agreed to be bound are two suggested by the Chamber of Commerce, whether junior highs shall be developed and whether the present senior high shall be increased to take care of 4000 pupils. The advisory vote will be taken on the continuation of the John Muir Junior High and the erection of a new senior high plant.

If additional high school plants are to be provided, either junior or senior, it was pointed out at the meeting, funds will have to be provided by another election, as the school bonds voted during the summer were for elementary school purposes. The high school district includes Altadena, Sierra Madre and other territory outside of Pasadena.

The Chamber of Commerce announced today that it would hold three public meetings between now and the date of the election at which both sides of the junior high question will be presented and discussed. The first meeting will be held Friday when Alvin H. Sayre, principal of three elementary schools, will oppose the junior high plans as the opening speaker. The other meetings will be the 25th and 29th inst. On the 25th inst. those favoring the junior high plan will be heard and on the 29th inst. both sides will close their arguments.

In order to do away with double sessions at the Altadena, Longfellow, Emerson and Grant schools, the school board ordered the moving of bungalows from the Washington school tract to the schools named. These will be converted into temporary classrooms and used until the new buildings are completed.

Realty Board Holds Initial Fall Session

The regular bi-monthly luncheons of the Los Angeles Realty Board, discontinued during the summer, were resumed yesterday when 130 realtors met at the Clark. The meeting, of an informal nature, was devoted to the introduction of new members and of the chairmen and members of the various committees, which have been appointed to carry on the various activities of the board. Since the assumption of the office of secretary by Tom Ingersoll, work has been actively prosecuted on the selection of the personnel of new committees, which will assume their duties immediately.

Frank Ryan, president, was in charge of the meeting, and the community singing, which took place during and after the luncheon, was led by Hugo Kirchhoffer. New members introduced during the luncheon, included: Ferd H. Heywood, Schwarzkopf Realty Company, F. H. Spinning, F. J. Canning, Haddock-Nibley Company, Dilling & Lichty, William Weissman, John Martin, Davey & Cosby, R. B. Whitley, F. L. S. Harman and J. M. Close.

Youthful Auto Thief Suspect Held for Trial

While Lawrence Johnson, youthful defendant on a charge of stealing an automobile, was being given a hearing yesterday in Justice Hinshaw's court, Agnes Anderson, the girl who started to elope with him, was still in a San Fernando hotel, suffering from injuries received in an automobile crash.

Johnson was arrested by Constable Pilcher of Newhall after the car in which the youth was taking his bride-to-be to San Francisco to be married, crashed over a bank. It was then discovered the car was stolen, deputy sheriffs asserted.

Questioned by Dep. Dist.-Atty. Orme, Mrs. Elsie M. Holloway, mother of the defendant, testified that the youth had been working hard and saving his money and that he wished to buy an automobile, but the parole officer would not allow him to do so. Mrs. Ann H. Dorman, 328 North Fair Oaks avenue, Pasadena, testified that the car stolen was hers.

The court held the defendant to answer for grand larceny, fixing bail at $1500.

ALIMONY GRANTED

Sum Allowed for Child's Support as Suit Ends

Notwithstanding that Mrs. Frances R. Pickering has a suit for divorce pending against Allen Wallace Pickering, the couple have been associating and are apparently on friendly terms, it was declared in Judge Summerfield's court yesterday, where Mrs. Pickering was allowed $30 a month temporary alimony for the support of a minor child.

Judge Summerfield opined that it would be a good thing if Mr. Pickering courted and won his wife again, but of course, he added, it was up to Mrs. Pickering whether or not she wanted to approve that plan.

FILES IN BANKRUPTCY

John A. Aberle, a real estate operator of this city, filed a petition in bankruptcy in the United States District Court, yesterday, giving his indebtedness as $13,367, and his assets as $31.35.

OLD SETTLERS ORGANIZE

[LOCAL CORRESPONDENCE.]

SOUTH PASADENA, Sept. 19.—The "Old Settler's Association," comprised of persons who have lived in South Pasadena fifteen years and more, has elected the following officers, with date of their coming to this city: E. E. Washburn, president; P. A. Raab, vice-president; Mrs. Nellie Keith, secretary, and Mrs. Phillip Raab, treasurer. Mr. Raab, with fifty-two years to his credit, is the veteran of the association, having lived here since the days when South Pasadena was part of the 14,000-acre San Pasqual ranch.

HELD TO ANSWER

Risdon Charged With Failure to Stop and Render Aid

Accused of failure to stop and render aid to J. A. Leys, who was seriously injured in an automobile collision, C. W. Risdon, well-known local automobile man, was held to answer yesterday by Justice Baird.

Testimony adduced by Dep. Dist.-Atty. McClelland indicated that Mr. Leys was driving a car owned by Charles A. McVicers, associated with a motion-picture distributing company, when it was struck by the car driven by Risdon. The defendant is at liberty on bail.

ENTERTAINS ART CLUB MEMBERS

Former President Gives Tea at Her Home

Leaving for Orient Soon to Visit Son

Organization Rents Home as Meeting Place

BY MYRA NYE

Mrs. J. W. Hendrick, former president of the Ruskin Art Club, entertained the members at a charmingly appointed high tea at her home in Alvarado Terrace, just prior to leaving for the Orient.

Judge and Mrs. Hendrick expect to meet Lieut. E. W. Hendrick at Shanghai and go to Peking with him. After a short stay they will go to Manila where they will spend the winter at the Army post.

Owing to the length of Mrs. Hendrick's absence from the city, she felt she must resign the presidency of the club, and a special meeting was called yesterday at which Mrs. George Sinsabaugh was elected to fill the vacancy.

At the tea Miss Knudson read an excellent paper by Josephine Locke on "The Buddha of Kamabura," written at the time of her travels in Japan.

NEW CLUBHOUSE

For many years the Ruskin Art Club has been meeting in the heart of the city. Now they feel their present quarters are inadequate to the requirements of the club, so they have taken a house at 2708 South Hoover street, and are looking forward to a most pleasant year's work. The enlarged quarters will enable members to serve luncheons and afternoon teas, and with this end in view a hospitality committee has been appointed with Mrs. Samuel Storrow as chairman. A ways and means committee has also been appointed with Mrs. Michael R. Regan at the head.

Miss Victoria Witmer, another valued member of the club, is also going abroad with Mrs. Cecelia White and should conditions prove favorable will extend her trip around the world. She expects to be gone about a year.

Beverly Hills Club

The Beverly Hills Women's Club is making plans for a delightful lawn fete to be given at the home of Mrs. M. H. Whittier, Alpine and Sunset Boulevard, on Saturday afternoon from 2 to 6 p.m.

A charming program will be enjoyed by the guests and dancing will be indulged in from 3 to 4 p.m. Many special attractions will enhance the charm of the lovely garden.

Republican Study Club

Discussion of the work of the Republican County Central Committee will engage the attention of the Republican Study Club at the regular meeting Friday, the 22nd inst., in the auditorium of the Union League Club, 251 South Hill street. There will be reports of the meeting of the Republican State Central Committee at Sacramento.

Mrs. Frank A. Kelly will lead in current politics and Mrs. Florence Collins Porter will preside.

Parent-Teacher Association

The Sixth Avenue Parent-Teacher Association will conduct its first regular meeting on the 20th inst., 2 p.m., in the school auditorium.

A debate on the Water and Power Bond Bills is on the program.

A special meeting will be held on the 29th inst. at 7:30 p.m. The three nearest P.T.A.s will be guests of the evening, and the program will be given by Mrs. Bernice Johnson on the measures on the ballot on November 4. A musical program will be given also.

Better Film Council

Tomorrow, at the first fall meeting of the Co-operative Council for Better Films, revision of the by-laws will be considered. The meeting will be held in the Ebell clubhouse at 10:30 p.m. with the president, Mrs. Fred Kuck, in the chair.

In order to broaden the influence of this rapidly growing organization, certain changes in the by-laws have been found necessary, and Mrs. Charles Holland, formerly chairman of better films for the Los Angeles district, Federation of Women's Clubs, will present the problem of revision.

Significant of public sentiment along the line of co-operation with producers, exhibitors and distributors were the resolution adopted by Episcopalian bishops(in convention at Portland, recommending that the standard of motion pictures be raised and the fact that the Women's Federated Clubs of Orange county have selected "Better Films" as the keynote of the year's work.

At various board meetings of the council, held during the summer, plans were formulated for an intensive and extensive winter's program to further the object of the organization and these will be discussed tomorrow. The public is invited.

GOVERNMENT DEFINES POWER-OF-ATTORNEY

Collector Goodcell yesterday received a ruling from the United States Treasury Department governing the powers of attorney given by taxpayers to lawyers and agents who are to represent them in tax matters before the Commissioner of Internal Revenue at Washington.

The ruling is that unless the original power of attorney granted by the taxpayer contains a power of substitution or revocation, the right of an out-of-town attorney to have a man in Washington to represent him in following up cases is lost.

As far as practicable powers of attorney should be confined to a single matter at issue on the tax liability for a single year. In no case will a power of attorney covering a year on which returns are not yet due be accepted.

CLUB TO EXERCISE

Women's Bodies Reserve Right to Use Gymnasium

The majority of the women's clubs of the city have made reservations for the use of the new gymnasium in the Young Women's Christian Association Building at 941 South Figueroa street, according to an announcement yesterday.

Some of the clubs are the Hollywood Women's Club, Friday Morning Club and the Ebell Club. All forms of exercises will be given the women.

Diet and Health

By Lulu Hunt Peters, M.D.

Author of "Diet and Health, with Key to the Calories"

ADENOIDS AND TONSILS

There is a ring of tissue in the back of the throat known as the tonsil ring. This is composed, generally speaking, of three sets of lymphoid tissue: The larger masses are called the faucial tonsils. This consists of compact tissue with crypts or pockets in it, and is what we refer to when we speak of tonsils alone.

On the wall of the pharynx and back of the nose is another area of lymphatic tissue which is larger in children than in adults. This is the naso-pharyngial tonsil or, in usual terminology, adenoids. On the back of the tongue is a ring of small elevations of lymphatic tissue known as the lingual tonsil. We seldom hear much of these.

What is the function of this lymphatic tissue? Is it to make lymphatic cells, does it act as a filter and protect, does it furnish an internal secretion, is it an eliminative organ, has it to do with immunity? It is not fully known. It may have some of all of these functions, if it is normal and healthy.

However, whatever its function is, it is probably the same as that of other lymphatic structures in the body. These lymphatic tissues are widely distributed. The spleen is a lymphatic tissue, the thousands of lymphatic glands, the patches in the alimentary canal, the tonsil ring, and the thymus—a large organ in the chest in infancy and childhood. Because there are so many lymphatic structures in the body, if conditions arise so that it becomes necessary to have the tonsils or adenoids removed, there is no cause for worry for fear the system will be deprived of lymphatic tissue.

Those who are in a position to know, say that the loss of these lymphatic structures in the throat will not be missed any more than a small area of the skin would be missed if removed. If the tonsils and adenoids were diseased or enlarged so that they caused an obstruction, the only thing that would be missed would be the many disorders that can be traced to diseased tonsils and obstructive adenoids.

Some of the symptoms that may be attributed to adenoids and tonsils which are not normal are: Deafness and earaches, mouth breathing, snoring (caused by the tongue falling against the palate,) night terrors, chronic and acute colds, "running nose" (maybe with blood stained mucous,) coughs, thickened voice, backward mental and physical developments, headaches, lassitude, inability to fix attention, bed wetting, asthma, stammering, epileptic convulsions, etc.

If there is an obstruction of the breathing long enough, there are great changes produced in the bony structure of the face and of the teeth. The face becomes elongated, the nose more or less collapsed, the upper lip shortened and retracted, with open mouth. This is the adenoid face. Any obstruction of the breathing could cause this. There will also be changes in the chest bones and the child becomes pigeon-breasted.

A short time ago I gave you two papers on adenoids and tonsils with a resume of the results in the cases of 5000 children who were operated on in the clinic at Rochester, N. Y. This resume showed that under skillful removal there was hardly any element of danger and that the improvement in the symptoms of the children was very marked.

If you find, after correcting your child's diet and other of its unhygienic habits, that the enlarged tonsils and adenoids giving rise to these symptoms I have mentioned, do not get better, then have a specialist remove the offending structures.

It is very rare that there is a new growth of the tissue after removal. Occasionally, however, this will happen, because it is impossible to remove the whole of the mucous membrane of the throat which produces these structures. If your child should be one of the rare cases, then an operation could be repeated, if necessary.

I have given this paper today because I have been requested by many mothers to talk more of this subject.

ONE OF THE EASIEST MADE APRONS EVER DESIGNED

The real value of an apron is judged or should be judged by its ability to cover the garment underneath. If you have an apron or two like this on hand, just because you are the housewife should not then necessitate your wearing an old frock until after the dinner hour but you may dress up as well as everybody else in perhaps your Sunday taffeta or crepe dress with no fear of spoiling it. You could run up an apron like this in about three hours and all it would cost using gingham @ 20c per yard with chambray at the same price would be about 70c.

The pattern No. 1495 cuts in sizes small, medium and large corresponding to sizes 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. The small size corresponding to sizes 34 and 36 requires 3¼ yards 36-inch material with ¾ yard 32-inch contrasting for trimming bands. Price 15c, stamps or coin (coin preferred).

When you order your pattern, we think it would pay you to enclose 10 cents extra to receive a copy of our SUMMER FASHION MAGAZINE which shows about 400 styles, including several pages of embroidery designs, and contains a seven-lesson course in dressmaking.

All orders will be handled by the branch office in Chicago and in order to eliminate the delay in forwarding we have arranged to have order sent direct to the Chicago office. Unless otherwise specified all patterns are 15 cents each. N. patterns are kept in the Los Angeles office of The Times. To get patterns send the price, in stamps or well-wrapped coins, and the number and size of the patterns desired to this address:

On Board Casiana

Mr. and Mrs. Edward Laurence Doheny are to entertain with a reception on Thursday on board their yacht, the Casiana, in honor of Capt. W. S. Miller and officers of the California Yacht Club, and their wives and the harbor commissioners and their wives. Capt. Miller is attached to the Submarine Base.

Engagement Revealed

Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Lewis of Santa Monica, announced the engagement of their daughter, Miss Welcome Lewis, and Milton Menasco, famous painter of cowboy and Indian scenes, at a supper party at their home.

Miss Lewis is a talented musician and during the war used her voice to cheer the soldiers at many camps. She declined an offer from the Orpheum circuit, when she accepted Mr. Menasco. Mr. Lewis, her father, is prominent in civic affairs in Santa Monica, and was once Mayor of the beach city. The groom-to-be is formerly of New York, where he has exhibited his paintings. He has also exhibited here at the Ambassador, and in San Francisco and Coronado.

Compliment to Bride

Miss Virginia Middaugh of 1602 Fuller avenue, Holywood, is to give a tea on Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. T. Brooks Townsend (Lynne Burntrager,) who returned yesterday from Honolulu, where she and Mr. Townsend went on their honeymoon trip. There are to be twenty-four guests, all intimate girl friends of the bride.

Welcoming Their Daughter

Mr. and Mrs. Charles H. Chapman of 1457 Dana street, are welcoming a little daughter, born yesterday at their home. Their other little girl, Conchita Chapman, was 5 years old on Sunday, and with her parents, was at Senator Cornellus Cole's one hundredth birthday celebration that day.

Back From Bay City

Mr. and Mrs. George A. Charters have returned from San Francisco and will move into their new home on Lorraine Boulevard, where they expect to do a great deal of entertaining.

In Toronto

Charles T. Leeds, Charles T. Leeds, Jr., and S. S. Sandberg, are in Toronto, Can., at the King Edward Hotel.

Returns to Texas

After several months spent in Los Angeles as the guest of Mrs. Katherine Cunningham, Mrs. George W. Massie has returned to her home in Austin, Tex.

Mrs. Mattie P. Smith gave a bridge party in honor of Mrs. Massie and Mrs. H. Raymond, also of Austin, just before Mrs. Massie left.

Revealed at Tea

At a charming tea, Mrs. Fred Duane Davis gave yesterday, announcement was made of the engagement of Miss Grace Mildred Martin and Frank Ainsworth Sheedy, son of Mr. and Mrs. Patrick Sheedy of West Eighteenth street. Miss Martin is the daughter of Franklin Martin of this city, and has set October 11, at noon, as the date of the marriage which will take place at St. Vincent's Church.

The table was centered with a miniature fountain surrounded by water lilies, and these in turn were edged with pink roses and delphinium. In the drawing room purple asters and French marigolds were used.

Mrs. Harold Mashle poured. The other guests were Mrs. Sheedy, Mrs. Oscar M. Stimson, Miss Irene Combe, Miss Fay Halbriter, Mrs. Douglas MacLean, Mrs. Leslie Estel, Mrs. Elbridge Thrapp, Mrs. George Sheedy, Mss. Percy Sheedy, Miss Mary Alice Sheedy, Mrs. Francis Whitesell, Mrs. George Golding, Mrs. DeWitt Norris, Mrs. Earl Reynolds Signe, Mrs. R. Shank, Mrs. Harold Welton, Mrs. Richard Mullineaux, Mrs. Rudolph Murray, Mrs. Juan Brittin and Miss Isabel Percival.

Return From Hermosa Beach

Mrs. Louis W. Myers and her daughter, Miss Elizabeth Myers, have returned from Hermosa Beach, where they spent the summer, and next Monday Miss Myers will leave for Palo Alto to again enter Stanford University.

Judge Myers is returning this week from San Francisco, where he spent the summer sitting on the Supreme Court bench. He will leave next month for his vacation in Humble county, on the Eel River, where he will go for steelhead fishing.

Have House Guest

Mr. and Mrs. Richard J. O. Culver of 1201 South Alvarado street, have as their house guest, his brother, J. W. Culver of Chicago.

Engagement Announced

Mrs. Charles William Farwell of 447 South Wilton Place, Los Angeles, announces the engagement of her daughter, Miss Grace Farwell, to H. Seely Bell of Moncton, New Brunswick, Can. They have set September 30 as the date for their marriage.

To Give Bridge Tea

Mrs. Emmett Jones (Helen Northmore,) is to entertain with a bridge tea on Saturday at the Wilshire Country Club, in honor of Miss Kathryn Hardin, who has just returned from a three months' sojourn in New York.

MOTORISTS GO BEHIND JAIL BARS

Reckless Driver, Speeder Get Ninety Days Each; Third Gets Five Days

One motorist was sentenced to ninety days and another to five days in the City Jail for speeding and a third to ninety days in jail for reckless driving in Police Court yesterday.

Harry Fuller, taxicab driver, drew the ninety-day sentence for reckless driving after he was found guilty of having driven his car at a reckless pace into an automobile driven by George R. Weibel of 5416 Aldama street, seriously injuring Nora Weibel of that address. The offense was said to have been committed on July 4, at the intersection of Thirtieth street and South St. Andrews Place. Police Sergt. McCaleb testified that Fuller's car skidded sixty-eight feet and seven inches after it struck Weibel's machine. Fuller appeared before Police Judge Chambers.

For driving an automobile on South Hill near Sixth street at more than forty miles an hour on the 10th inst., M. Habura, a sailor, was ordered to spend ninety days in jail. It was stated that a man was injured when the machine driven by Habura crashed into another automobile.

Driving his automobile thirty-seven miles an hour within the city limits cost S. Vienna his liberty for five days and a $25 fine. Both Vienna and Habura were found guilty and sentenced by Police Judge Richardson.

ELKS TO DEDICATE HOME

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.]

VISALIA, Sept. 19.—At least 100 members of the Visalia Lodge No. 1298, B.P.O.E., will go to Bakersfield next Tuesday, to participate in the dedication of the new $350,000 Elks' home there and to enjoy the dove banquet to be given in honor of visiting Elks and Grand Lodge officers.

Simple Way to Get Rid of Blackheads

There is one simple, safe and sure way that never fails to get rid of blackheads, that is to dissolve them. To do this get two ounces of calonite powder from any drug store—sprinkle a little on a hot, wet cloth—rub over the blackheads briskly—wash the parts and you will be surprised how the blackheads have disappeared. Big blackheads, little blackheads, no matter where they are, simply dissolve and disappear. Blackheads are simply a mixture of dust and dirt and secretions that form in the pores of the skin. The calonite powder and the water dissolve the blackheads so they wash right out, leaving the pores free and clean and in their natural condition.—[Advertisement.]

Los Angeles, California.

Gentlemen:

At my age rheumatism always lurks just around the corner and the air reeks with advice. The literature on rheumatism would fill many volumes and touch many subjects through materia medica to iron rings and peeled potatoes. I am happy now that I am afloat on a sea of Mountain Valley Water and I seem to be so much better that nothing would induce me to discontinue it. I have substituted Mountain Valley Water for all liquid refreshment in my home and after several months of it, my enthusiasm grows. I am certainly better and more relieved from attacks of these periodic twinges that we have learned to call rheumatism. I am

Enthusiastically yours.

These strangers we have married

WE WIVES make up a very considerable proportion of the 1,800,000 folks who buy THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE every month. And if you ask us why we buy it, we should probably answer this—there never has been a magazine that revealed to us so much of the hidden thoughts and problems of our husbands.

THEY sit sometimes so quiet and preoccupied; what goes on inside their minds? Do they really think better and deeper than we? Or do they merely think differently?

"Do Men Have More Brains Than Women?" An interview with a famous psychologist, in the October AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

AT INTERVALS they desert us. "Business," they say, has "called them away." What do they do on these business trips? How much time do they waste? What do they gain?

"What I Get Out of My Trips to New York," by a small town business man, in the October AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

THIS "BUSINESS" that absorbs them—is it a game or a battle? Are our men, who are honest, held back because they are honest? Would they move forward faster if they were not so square?

"The Power of Frankness in Business," by a great executive, in the October AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

WHAT IS the fascination that keeps them at work long after they have earned enough? What are their real ambitions? What sort of ideals endure?

"I Picked My Goal At Ten—Reached It At Sixty," by a noted novelist, in the October AMERICAN MAGAZINE.

There are magazines edited for women and magazines edited for men. THE AMERICAN MAGAZINE is edited for people; it is not merely literature, it is LIFE. Men read it and discover themselves in its pages; we women read it and discover our men, who share our lives yet live such different lives—these strangers we have married.

NOTE: "The Times" Daily Wad Comic-Strip Contests Will be Discontinued on September 21 Until Further Notice

The Wad family, whose daily adventures in Los Angeles have amused Times readers for the past year, during which time more than $1500 has been paid by The prizes for available ideas for the Wad strip, demands a vacation. Its members point to the fact that more things of a strenuous nature have happened to twelvemonth than to any other family in Los Angeles and they insist upon a rest. Watt and Elva are going East to college, and Gunn has to go to school says. Mr. Wad is taking Mrs. Wad and the baby to Honolulu, and Tight says he will go along if Mr. Wad pays his way, not otherwise. NIBLO GETS PLUM

TO PRODUCE POPULAR TERHUNE TALE, "A HERO"

By Grace Kingsley

As proof that that earnest laborer in the vineyard of art, Louis B. Mayer, really meant what he said when he declared, a few weeks ago, that he was out to gather in the best stories obtainable for filming, the producer yesterday announced the acquisition of an important story for production by Fred Niblo.

The new story is nothing less than Albert Payson Terhune's "A Hero," which will be the third in the series of Niblo productions which will be presented by Mr. Mayer through Metro, following "The Famous Mrs. Fair" and "Captain Applejack."

Believing that advance preparation plays a most important part in the ultimate success of a picture, Niblo is already laying plans for the making of "A Hero." A stage star of international fame is being considered for the titular role.

"A Hero" originally appeared as the feature story of a Red Book Magazine issue of several years ago. Of highly dramatic nature, it caused a great deal of somment at the time of its publication because of its striking originality and fine character drawing. The author, Mr. Terhune, whose home is in New Jersey, is co-operating with Mr. Niblo and J. G. Hawks on the changes and additions necessary for the story's adaption to the screen, and it is very probable that he will carry on this work in person when "A Hero" is put into production.

Mr. Niblo is now completing his arrangements for the filming of "The Famous Mrs. Fair," which was written by James Forbes, and which was so successfully played on the stage during two or three seasons by Blanche Bates and Henry Miller. Frances Marion is writing the screen version and Bess Meredyth is devoting herself to the research work.

The Fred Niblo Productions will all be big pictures, according to Mr. Mayer's announcement. They will all have all-star casts, carefully chosen with regard to the proper delineation of the various characters. Niblo's company operates as an independent unit under the Mayer banner. The director's former experience as a star, director and producer for the stage, vaudeville headliner, traveler, adventurer and soldier of fortune, and lecturer, furnishes a wonderful, background for his work on the screen.

Niblo's greatest directorial successes have been "The Three Musketeers" and "Blood and Sand."

SCHULBERG CHOOSES CAST OF "THE HERO"

Speaking of heroes, B. P. Schulberg, who lately announced he would make a film version of Gilbert Emery's play, "The Hero," to be directed by Louis Gasnier, yesterday made announcement of the players who will head the cast.

These players are none other than Barbara Le Marr and Gaston Glass. Miss Le Marr, fresh from her triumphs in "The Prisoner of Zenda," has been signed for starring by Sawyer and Lubin, with the understanding that she would appear only in special productions and in stellar roles. Gaston Glass, remembered chiefly for his characterization in "Humoresque," will have two roles, widely different in character.

"I realize that it is going to take hard work to put over this part," said Glass, "and I know that many critics have said that this is one of the stage productions that never could be done in pictures—that it is over the heads of the average picture audience. But I am going to try to show that a really natural impersonation loses nothing by reason of the fact that it is done before the camera."

Lasky Continues Busy

That busy mart of trade, the Lasky studio, continues to give a good imitation of the well known beehive.

Announcements made yesterday are to the effect that Edmund Lowe, well known New York matinee idol, and formerly leading man with the Morosco company, has been engaged by wire to play the male lead opposite Betty Compson in "The White Flower," a new Paramount picture which will mark the return of Mrs. Julia Crawford Ivers to the ranks of women directors.

"Paths of Glory" has been chosen as the title for the new Paramount picture just started at the Lasky studio under the direction of William de Mille. Featured players in this latest William de Mille offering, adapted by Clara Beranger from an original story of her own, are Bebe Daniels, Lewis Stone, Kathlyn Williams and Harrison Ford. Other players included in the cast are Adolphe Menjou, Winter Hall, Brandon Hurst, Bernice Frank, Mayme Kelso, Ethel Wales, George Kuwa and James Neill.

Thalberg Says It

"Villains of the screen hereafter will have to be men without country," said Irving G. Thalberg, director-general of Universal City, the other day, in course of an interview discussing the suggestion which has been made that a State department for the motion-picture industry be appointed, in order to keep us out of trouble with temperamental nations.

The idea was suggested by some well-known picture men, when Mexico banned the entire output of one company until a certain picture in which Mexico's dignity was rumpled, is withdrawn from the screen.

Mr. Thalberg has just transmitted an order from Carl Laemmle on the subject.

"The national dignity of all peoples must be respected," the order reads. "A villain must be a villain because of his actions, not because of his nationality."

"Now that Mexico has taken drastic and expensive protest," said Mr. Thalberg, "other countries are noticing the tendency of American producers to make the villain almost anything but an American. It will be the work of the motion-picture State department if appointed, to survey the international temperament and card index those delicate points which lure forth the national goat.

"Mexico, it is clear, does not like to have all villains in all western pictures look like Pancho Villa. England would perhaps be gratified if all Englishmen were not depicted as nit-wits or made to resemble a cross between a gopher and a rabbit. France has long been weary of screen Frenchmen who act like female impersonators, and Ireland is tired of having its men constantly called upon to confirm the Darwin theory.

"In recognized works of literature," Mr. Thalberg stated, "we can blame the author for the nationality of the villain, but in original stories for the screen it is not necessary to emphasize the birthplace or race of the unheroic character."

Universal has just made preparations for the launching of another big special all-star production. It will be called "The Power of the Lie." It was written by Johann Borjen, and Director Archainbaud is to hold the megaphone.

William Worthington is back in the Universal fold, as director.

MADE DIRECTORSHIP FROM MANY ANGLES

Some men are born directors, some acquire directorial ability, while others have it thrust upon them; but in Rupert Hughes we find all three.

Several years ago Goldwyn obtained the services of Rupert Hughes, a story teller of international renown, often referred to as the American Balzac. He submitted his first film story and came out to watch it put on the screen.

He was not content merely to write his stories and let some one else make the pictures; so he immediately proceeded to master that mysterious language of "Iris In's and Iris Out's" and "Cut to and Back to Scene S." A year later we find the introductory titles to his pictures conveying the information, "Story and Continuity by Rupert Hughes."

Now, following the former line of reasoning, it can be safely said that if the best man to write the continuity is the author, therefore, the best man to transfer the continuity to the screen is the author. Consequently, today, two years after his first film play was screened, we find that Rupert Hughes directed his latest story "Remembrance," which opens at the California Theater next Sunday as Goldwyn's first big production for $1922-1923. In the vernacular, it is his "from soup to nuts."

STAGED BY DANCER

Maurice, the internationally famed dancer, now playing an extended engagement in his own restaurant and cafe in Paris, was engaged by Joseph M. Schenck producer of "The Eternal Flame," starring Norma Talmadge, to stage the elaborate ballroom sets called for in this spectacle. On learning that the story centered on the court life of Louis XVIII, Maurice unhesitatingly chose the French Gavotte and the good old-fashioned waltz as the mediums of dance expression for the court gallants and their exquisite ladies who frequented the salon of "La Duchesse." Some idea of the immensity of these ballroom sets may be gained from the fact that it required approximately 13,000 horsepower to furnish adequate lighting—enough light to illuminate a city of 100,000 inhabitants.

SENNETT STUDIO PREPARES FOR BUSY SESSION

By Edwin Schallert

All kinds of things are just about due to happen out at the Sennett studio. Which sounds very dreadful, of course. But merely concerns the anticipated carrying out of an elaborate campaign of production, which Mack Sennett announced yesterday.

There are to be at least four companies working on this schedule. One of these will be headed by Mabel Normand, another by Phyllis Haver, still another by Ben Turpin and the fourth by Billy Bevan.

While the Sennett studio has been apparently slumbering there has been no apathy in the scenario department. The result will soon be visible on the celluloid. Practically all the stories for the various stars are prepared, and actual shooting will commence in about two weeks.

The starring of Miss Haver is one of the most interesting features of the program. Heretofore all her appearances have been in leads, but now she is to have her chance at stellar laurels.

Miss Normand is expected to return to the studio in about a week to commence work on her next picture.

Pola to Arrive Monday

The arrival of Pola Negri in Hollywood is now set for Monday. It will be an exciting day, because fans and stars alike in great numbers are bent on getting a glimpse of the foreign luminary who made such a success in "Passion," "Gypsy Blood" and other imported pictures.

Miss Negri's first picture is to be adapted from Robert Hichens's "Bella Donna." George Fitzmaurice will direct, and Conrad Nagel will have one of the important roles.

MYRTLE'S SON APPEARS

Myrtle Stedman and her talented son, Lincoln, will be seen together in a picture for the first time in their careers when "The Dangerous Age," a new Louis B. Mayer-First National attraction, is released. Working under John M. Stahl's direction, Lincoln has the role of an ardent but awkward suitor for Edith Roberts's affections, while the mother plays the part of a New York society leader whose one aim in life is the promotion of her daughter to an advantageous marriage goal.

HOLLYWOOD BOWL
A Statement of Fact!
To The Public:
On the night of October 7 at the Hollywood Bowl, under the auspices of the Motion Picture Directors' Association, the great stars of the screen and stage will give a performance of Midsummer Night's Dream.
Primarily, the entertainment is a benefit to the Actors' Fund of America, of which Daniel Frohman is president.
In all benefits given for the Actors' Fund, Mr. Frohman requires that a percentage of every dollar of receipts be donated to the Fund and in compliance with this rule a minimum of Twenty-five cents out of every Dollar taken in for this entertainment will be turned over to the Fund to be used in charity work.
The Motion Picture Directors' Association is a purely fraternal organization, and the oldest and most important organization in the Motion Picture industry. In order to make this entertainment possible the Directors' Association is already obligated to the extent of nearly Thirty Thousand Dollars and will suffer an actual cash loss unless the receipts exceed this amount.
Any profit derived from this entertainment in excess of the actual expenses and the 25 cents out of every dollar receipts to the Actors' Fund, will be at the disposal of the Motion Picture Directors' Association to be used by it as may be deemed advisable to the best interests of the motion picture industry.
Henry M. Robinson, president of the First National Bank of Los Angeles has appointed a committee to audit the books and accounts relative to this entertainment so that the public may be assured of the proper disposition of the funds to the beneficiaries.

HEAR PLEA FOR NEW RAIL LINE

Santa Fe Asks for Outlet to the Harbor

State Railroad Commission Gives Approval

Would Build from El Segundo to Wilmington

The hearing of the application of the Santa Fe and Los Angeles Harbor Railroad Company, a subsidiary of the Santa Fe, to construct a line connecting with the Santa Fe at El Segundo, and running to Wilmington, so as to give the Santa Fe an outlet to the harbor, was concluded yesterday before T. John Butler, special examiner of the Interstate Commerce Commission. The findings of the examiner in the matter will be transmitted to Washington.

In the application for the right to construct the new line, it is made known that the stock is to be issued to the Santa Fe and to be held by that corporation, except in the case of five directors of the road. The distance to be covered by the extension is 12 54-100 miles, and the construction, it is estimated, will cost about $1,500,000.

The feature of the hearing was the testimony of Richard Sachse, chief engineer of the California State Railroad Commission, who gave his unqualified approval to the project. Heretofore, the Railroad Commission has been opposed to the proposed new line, and a survey of the situation was made by Chief Engineer Sachse, with the result that the attitude of the commission has been radically changed by a thorough investigation of the situation. Mr. Sachse said that in his opinion the extension ought to be built without any regard to the proposed unification of the lines between the city of Los Angeles and the harbor.

He spoke of the big industrial enterprises at Torrance and Wilmington that would be served by the new line. Mr. Sachse detailed the entire situation from every point of view and approved the construction of the line as soon as possible.

The plan has been approved by all of the civic bodies of Los Angeles interested in the impgovement of the transportation methods in and around the city, including the Chamber of Commerce. The importance of increased facilities in getting freight from the city to the harbor and vice versa is universally recognized.

There were no protestants heard at yesterday's meeting, the most important feature being the complete change of front on the part of the Railroad Commission in regard to the enterprise. Chief Engineer Sachse was the most enthusiastic advocate of the improvement at the conference.

"PHAROAH" TO RESHOW

"The Loves of Pharoah," a dramatic spectacle created by Ernest Lubitsch for Paramount, is being brought back to Los Angeles for a second showing by Tally's Broadway Theater and the feature is scheduled to open a week's engagement there next Saturday. Produced by the director of "Passion" and "Deception," the "Loves of Pharoah" is said to surpass both of these specials in magnitude and splendor. The picture is filled with thrills and burning love interest and is enacted by a fine cast headed by Emil Jennings, the noted European star. The current attraction at Tally's—"In The Name of the Law," a powerful drama concerning modern police methods, will close its run Friday night.

Success Depends Upon A Clear Brain

You cannot do good work with a befuddled brain. An alert mind, quick-wittedness and the power of concentration—these are the qualities necessary to success.

Possession of these qualities depends largely upon the food you eat and upon the proper elimination of waste matter from your system.

In Dr. Pratt's California Olive Oil modern science has perfected a food remedy that tones up the entire system, makes rich, red blood and helps the bowels to do their work in a natural way.

Make Dr. Pratt's Olive Oil a daily habit. Use it with salads, fruits and nuts. Take a tablespoonful or two at bedtime, and you will keep yourself fit, trim and energetic for every day's work.

Get Dr. Pratt's California Olive Oil from any Sun Drug Store and other leading druggists, or send $1.00 to Dr. Pratt's Olive Oil Company, 615 E. Third Street, Los Angeles, and we will send you a large size bottle by parcel post. (18)

SHELEST WILL APPEAL CASE

Convicted of Murder of Mrs. Wheelock; to Ask New Trial

While Adam Blaszyk accepted his sentence to life imprisonment for the murder of Mrs. Nancy Wheelock during a robbery, John Sheleat, another convicted member of the gang, announced that he would demand a new trial.

The sentence and announcement were made in Judge Houser's court yesterday, when the two young men came up for final disposition of their cases.

Walter Ray, another member of the gang, admitted his part in the killing some weeks ago, and was given a life sentence.

CAR TAXING CHANGE IS SUGGESTED

County Council Would Let Assessor's Office Collect Auto Licenses

A suggestion how to lop off $1,000,000 of State expenditures by abolishing the State Motor Vehicle Department, retaining only the directing head, starting the license year for automobiles the first Monday in March instead of January 1 of each year and placing the collection of license taxes in the hands of the various county assessors, has been put up to the Board of Supervisors by County Counsel Hill.

By this plan, if approved by the Supervisors and made a law by the coming Legislature, Mr. Hill declares that the State could profit to the extent of approximately $4,000,000.

Los Angeles county has at least a third of the automobiles owned in the State. Nearly 1,000,000 automobile and truck licenses are issued by the State Motor Vehicle Department covering the year. It costs about $1,000,000 to collect these licenses. There are owned in Los Angeles county about 300,000 automobiles and trucks. The tax year starts the first Monday in March.

Mr. Hill states that it is impossible for the Assessor to secure any knowledge as to the ownership or whereabouts of these machines before May. At least 25 per cent, or approximately $50,000,000 worth of property, escapes taxation as the result of the lack of information as to ownership and the transient character of many of the residents.

Mr. Hill suggests that an amendment to the Motor Vehicle Act be prepared providing for a change in the license year and limiting the department to a directing head who will furnish license plates to the various assessors throughout the State, these assessors through their deputies to collect the personal property taxes on all automobiles in their districts.

Formulate Plans for Actors' Fund Benefit Show

Plans for a performance of "Midsummer Night's Dream" under the auspices of the Directors' Association October 7, next, at the Hollywood Bowl were arranged last night at a meeting of the motion-picture committee of the Actors' Fund of America at the Pickford-Fairbanks studio, 7100 Hollywood Boulevard. Frederic Sullivan will stage the performance and Maj. Campbell will act as business manager.

All liability for the performance is to be assumed by the Directors' Association and 25 per cent of the gross proceeds will be given to the Actors' Fund. Frank Wood announced that Daniel Frohman, president of the Actors' Fund will be in Los Angeles sometime before the end of this month to lend his support to a membership drive for the Actors' Fund which is to be launched and which will culminate in the al fresco performance of "Midsummer Night's Dream."

At the meeting last night a motion was passed to the effect that no member of the motion-picture or theatrical profession would in the future contribute his services to any charity or benefit performance which did not give a percentage of its proceeds to the Actors' Fund. The meeting was attended by more than 200 of the leading stars, directors, and producers of the motion-picture industry. Frank Wood, chairman of the motion-picture committee of the Actors' Fund, presided. Among those attending the meeting were: Doug Fairbanks, Mary Pickford, Fred Niblo, Frederic Sullivan, Lois Weber and Maj. Maurice Campbell.

Train Smashes Bus Carrying Woman, Child

By a "Times" Staff Correspondent

[EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]

LONG BEACH, Sept. 19.—By throwing themselves face downward on the floor of a bus, a woman and a little child, the only passengers, saved themselves from serious injury when a Union Pacific passenger train westbound out of Long Beach hit the bus a glancing blow, breaking all the glass on the vehicle and scattering it hither and thither, at the West Ocean-avenue crossing, late this afternoon.

The driver of the bus, Arnold Eboe, 23 years old, of 1168 East Seventeenth street, sustained several bad cuts on his hand. He was instantly attended by a physician. The bus was operated by the B & H Transportation Company. Responsibility has not yet been placed for the accident.

Tanks to Hold Millions of Barrels, Plan

Product Will be Piped from There to Harbor

Plans for the establishment of enormous oil tanks, with a storage capacity for millions of barrels of oil, were revealed yesterday in the announcement of the sale of 740 acres of land adjoining and immediately north of Wilmington to the Union Oil Company, the General Petroleum Company, the Associated Oil Company and the Shell Oil Company. The consideration paid for the land was in excess of $1,250,000, approximating about $1600 per acre, a record price for property in this vicinity.

The land involved in the deal consisted of holdings of the Watson and Domingues estates, which have owned the property for many years. It is located on the Southern Pacific and the Pacific Electric lines, between Watson Crossing and Thenard Junction.

Out of the total of 740 acres, the Union Oil Company is taking over 100 acres, owned by Watson Estate, and, according to officials of the company, construction of a great storage tank, with a capacity for 750,000 barrels of oil, will be started soon. This tank, of earth and concrete construction, will cost about $150,000.

The new tank will serve as a central gathering station for the company's product in the Santa Fe Springs, Huntington Beach, and Signal Hill fields, and through its pipe lines the oil will be sent directly to the harbor.

Similar development plans, it is understood, will be carried out by the other companies involved in the deal. The Associated Oil Company will develop its holdings in the Wilmington district in conjunction with the land on the West Basin of the harbor, recently leased from the city, where the large refinery will be located.

PERFECT TECHNICALITIES

During the filming of Cecil De Mille's picture, "Manslaughter," Neil McCarthy, legal representative for Mr. De Mille, was called upon to serve as technical adviser for the entire sequence of courtroom scenes, which form such an important part of the story. In this role, Mr. McCarthy instructed Thomas Meighan in the duties and actions of the District Attorney prosecuting a manslaughter case; Leatrice Joy as the defendant of the action; George Fawcett as the judge trying the case; Julia Faye as the State's witness, and Edward Martindel, Lucien Littlefield, Clarence Burton, Joh Milltern and Edythe Chapman in matters of courtroom routine. That all details might be technically correct in matters of construction, costume and equipment, Mr. De Mille previously dispatched his assistant, Cullen Tate, to New York for the purpose of collecting pictures and data on the courts of that State, as well as details of the prison that plays a part of the story. With this data, Paul Iribe designed a courtroom that was an exact reproduction of an actual judiciary chamber. In fact, the entire sequence of the trial is a correct document on a case of this description.

JOCKEY OLD TIMER

Billy Quirk, who rides the winning horse in the Kentucky Derby as pictured in "My Old Kentucky Home," now having its Los Angeles premiere at the Alhambra, is an old stock actor and has appeared in many Belasco plays. He also played with Mary Pickford in many of her earlier pictures. It is said that he discovered Constance Talmadge when she appeared in a picture with him that was being made by Vitagraph. His hobby is raising pedigreed dogs and his French bull "Gugusse" was champion for three years. Meantime, Billy hasn't forgotten how to act as is evidenced in his work in "My Old Kentucky Home." Monte Blue, well known and just as popular is in the leading role and there's a splendid cast in support. "My Old Kentucky Home" will show until Friday evening, to be followed Saturday by another premiere, that of the William Fox thriller which brought New York on its feet, "The Fast Mail."

TO SHOW "GHOST BREAKER"

Wallace Reid in "The Ghost Breaker," his latest Paramount picture, Diero, the piano-accordionist and "A Trip Through Paramount Town," comprise the program at Grauman's Theater next week. Wallace Reid, with Lila Lee and Walter Hiers, head the cast, and "The Ghost Breaker" promises to duplicate the popularity of the stage play from which this picture was adapted. The story deals with a young American who falls in love with a Spanish Princess and goes to her "haunted" castle to do away with the ghosts, who after many thrilling episodes turn out to be crooks.

BEAUTY!

There Is Magic In the Word!

And with a Clean, Clear Skin, free from Wrinkles, Blackheads and Big Pores one has Beauty

For more than 25 years I have made a study of the skin with the very best dermatologists in both this country and Europe, and find the care of the skin very different in the west from the east.

The "Key to Beauty" beauty aids are compounded to prevent the bad effect of Western climate and hard water on the skin and are recommended by leading physicians.

The latest and most effective aid to this complete line of toilet preparation is the so scarce has been this marvelous imported Clay, that only the privileged few who have been fortunate enough to have appointments at my salon for treatments (for the past 3 years) have been able to see the wonders performed by this Lava Clay Pack.

Anyone May Now Have This Lava which is vastly different from the usual mud packs, being a delightful white powder put up in a convenient package and the directions most simple to follow. Men as well as women find a marked improvement after the first Lava Pack—
